pearly all countries are greatly averse to those medicinal preparations which contain mineral substances amongst their ingredients And yet, if the question was saked why they objected to this class of medicines, we presume few could give an intelli gent answer. Nevertheless, the aversion is well ounded.

All mineral substances, when taken into the stomach, are cumulative in their nature-that is to say, they remain either partly or wholly in the system. and accumulate with each additional dose, until in many cases the result is death. For example, ar sozio, although known to be a deadly poison, yet in certain parts of Switzerland is extensively used by the mountain guides as a means of giving them, vulgarly speaking 'long wind.' But although it is thus beneficial for a time, the ultimate result is always death

It therefore becomes evident that the popular dislike to mineral medicines is well founded, and it is doubtless in a great measure to the entire absence of any mineral substance that the wonderful success of

In every case when there is reason to suspect the blood and humots of being impure or vitlated from whatever cause, Bristol's Vegetable Sugar-coated Pills should be used in conjunction with the Sarsaparilla, as they carry off the dopraved matter, and a complete care more speedily ensues.
