INTRODUCTION

Liaison occasionally receives news from abroad in the form of narrative photographs. We have included a few of these in this issue.

NEW AMBASSADOR "DROPS IN"

Madrid. On one of her first days in the job, Ambassador Julie Loranger literally dropped in on her staff. The occasion was a regularly scheduled security exercise that included a demonstration descent in the Chancery's "Rescumatic" evacuation sling from 15 metres above street level. The demonstration went off without a hitch and following "touchdown", the flying ambassador earned a well deserved round of applause and the respect of her new staff.

FROM CANADIAN HIGH COMMISSION — LONDON
