Dear Mr. Molson:-

Almost every evening when at home I think of my carelessness in not before this writing you a letter to congratulate you on being made the President of The Molson's Bank of Canada.

Will you please accept my most sincere congratulations and warmest good wishes. I assure you that all your friends heard the good news with feelings of pleasure and satisfaction. They feel that you have thoroughly deserved the honour and that the prestige, prosperity and usefulness of the Molson's Bank are bound to be deeply enhanced under your leadership and direction.

With all good wishes I am,

Ever yours faithfully,
