

ontreal,* may in hundred gentlemen of Scottish origin or descent were es, still the grand present--on this occasion, the following individuals s the fact that it officiated :—

l regret that no ouragement and Isles.

of his nativity,
 n he could apply
 and distress, the mon home, and to the heart and eals were offer ommissioner of nder unforeseen
 ied misfortune
 native land, and
 anted with a free
 too often with instances well
 erty the bounty
 on the benevo

Chairman,..... Mr. ADAM FERRIE,

Vice Chairmen,... Messrs. JOHN BOSTON, WILLIAM EDMONSTONE,
 WILLIAM RITCHIE,

Stewards,..... Messrs. ROBERT MORRIS, ROBERT ARMOUR, Jun.
 ANDREW COWAN,
 DANIEL MACNAE,
 WILLIAM WILSON, Jun., WILLIAM DOW,
 JOHN WEBB,
 JOHN WEIR,
 WILLIAM WATSON,
 ANDREW WHITE,
 WILLIAM DOUGLAS.
 JAMES JACKSON,
 ARCHIBALD HUME,
 WALTER BENNY,

ew of the mo
 ottish residents
 to celebrate th
 together on th trymen as we s the dispositio
 purpose prove pany. St. An bath, the dinne
 er, 1834, at th
 upwards of on

At the dinner, the utmost good feeling and hilarity prevailed—many of the speeches were excellent, and abounded in sentiments of strong national feeling, which met with a hearty response from every person present, and the formation of a Society by means of which these feelings might be perpetuated and the charitable contributions of its Members be diffused among their suffering countrymen in this city, was freely canvassed. The result was that at a meeting of the Stewards which took place on the 17th January following, for the purpose of finally regulating the accounts of this dinner, a Sub-Committee was appointed to draft the outline of a constitution for a St. Andrew's Society.

an Societies we v's Society.

The objects aimed at were to regulate charity in a systematic manner—to prevent imposition on the one hand, and to relieve the truly indigent on the other—to afford advice and information to fellow-countrymen, wanderers