Preparing for Duke.

The public an deeparate schools of the city, the collegiate institute and the municipal offices will all be closed on Friday, in honor of the visit of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught to Hamilton. This was decided by the city council to-night on motion of Ald. Davey, chairman of the reception committee.

The police commissioners met this morning to consider fraffic regulations for Friday, and decided that all vehicular traffic should be suspended along the route which the royal party will follow from the T., H. & B. station to the armories, where the official welcome to the city will be made. No vehicles will be allowed on the streets to be traversed by the royal guests from 10.45 until 11.30 Friday morning, and the police will strictly enforce their orders in this respect.

Another feature which has been added to the welcome which will be accorded the ducal party is the ringing of all the city church bells when the party arrives in the city. This was suggested by Rev. Dr. Mahoney this morning.

If Mayor Lees is upheld in the stand he has taken in regard to the dity's consent to a renewal of the franchise for the long-projected Hamilton, Waterloo and Guelph Electric Railway, John Patterson, who several years ago secured the franchise which he now shoulds, will not build the road. Liberals Are Hopeful.

Quite a bit of enthus assm was uncorked at the Liberal rally in the Liberal clubrooms to-night, held in the interests of Dr. Russell, the Liberal candidate in West Hamilton. Dr. Russell and C. T. Young, ex-mayor of Hadieybury, were the principal speakers. Russell criticized the Whitney government severely. Mr. Young asserted that the T. & N. O. Railway was under political influence, and thought it should be an arket for Hamilton manufactured products, and asked for help in getting the country developed.

was an insult to the intelligence of the members. Speaking of the naval question he recalled that the resolution passed unanimously by the house on March 29, 1899, declared for the development of the navy along the lines laid down by the admiralty at the previous conference. What had the admiralty leid down? They had stated that they were responsible for the defence of the empire, that they desired to aid the overseas dominious but had the the overseas dominions, but that they strategic control and distribution of the ships for the defence of the empire, whether the British Isles or the do-minions beyond the seas. There was no suggestion of a plebiscite when the house passed the naval defence resolution of 1899.

Mr. Monk had declared he had voted for the resolution, altho he was not in the house. The minister of public works was a sort of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Dr. Jekyll was in the house voting for the resolution; Mr. Hyde was in bed endeavoring to devise some scheme whereby he could inflame the minds of the people of Quebec against the policy for which Dr. Jekyll was voting.
