RIOTS AMONG UNEMPLOYED ALARM CAPETOWN OFFICIALS

"Cape Boys," Colored, Becoming a Serious Menace to the White Population.

Cape Town, Aug. 11.—The authorities here are alarmed at the persistence of the riots of the unemployed. There was a further outbreak yesterday evening, but it was quickly quelled.

The bulk of the rioters are colored men, so-called "Cape boys," whose increasing numbers constitute a serious menace to the whites.

A LOST BANK ACCOUNT.

Relatives of Dead Man Know Not Where His Wealth Is.

Somewhere in Toronto there is the bank deposit of a man, now dead, and of which his relatives desire to find traces.

It is some months now since Stuart Anderson, a Scotchman, living with his mother at 162 Oak-street, died from injuries. At the General Hospital he asked that his mother be sent for—that he had something to communicate to her. She arrived too late; he was dead.

It is believed that he intended to make disposition of his estate. Thirty-three years of age, he was thrifty and was known to be saving money for a home. In life, he was reticent concerning his finances, and never allowed his people to see his bank book.

That he had an account in a local institution his mother is certain, but enquiries to date have proved fruitless.

If anyone can give aid in her quest, it will be gratefully accepted.

FIGHTS FOUR DUELS.

Italian Meets Opponent in Succession of "Affairs."

Rome, Aug. 12.—A romantic duelling affair is creating much excitement at Ancona. Signor Ugolino, a wealthy merchant and an unnamed officer, who always wears a black mask, have met in the streets of Ancona.

There is a deadly feud between the two men, who have sworn that they will fight until one of them is killed. At the last of the masked duellers was slightly wounded in a bout with rapier; then the duellists used pistols, and the result was a wound. When their wounds had been dressed they arranged for another meeting, which is to take place Sunday, refusing to consider honor satisfied.

MEN'S AUTUMN FASHIONS.

The transition from summer to autumn, now so close at hand, will bring changes of the utmost importance to the man who prides himself on being dressed "right up to fashion." Overcoats, suits, waistcoats, ties and hats will all be affected.

Who the Chesterfield will still be the fashionable overcoat, it will, according to "Men's Wear," be "cut a trifle less full in the skirt in most up-to-date modes." Flipped patch pockets, too, are coming in again, and the man who presumes to parade the streets with the vertical slit of last season will be scorned in the "smart-set."

Motoring outfits, it will be noted with satisfaction, are to lose some of their "German Bandmen" suggestion.

In fancy waistcoats bound styles with "pin-head" patterns will be the feature, and knitted vests, principally striped, will also be quite "correct."

Ties, to be fashionable, must be broad-striped patterns in quiet tones, and patting will also be a feature of the autumn trade.

There are to be many marked changes in the coming season's headgear. Small shapes in felts are to be retained for the benefit of the smart young business man, but in the new and a fair amount of curl will be the fashion.

"The silk hat for the autumn will have a slightly greater bell than recently, and a brim with a fair, although not excessive, amount of curl."

When you want BLACK silk, you don't say "a spool of silk." When you want Windsor Table Sak, say so—"WINDSOR."

CARPENTERS' STRIKE MAY BE BELIEVED THIS WEEK

Independent Builders' Exchange, if Organized, Will Be Recognized and Treated With by the Men.

The carpenters on strike received a tremendous incentive on Saturday when, late in the afternoon, Secretary A. E. Ford of the executive announced the receipt of a cablegram from the headquarters of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, situated in London, England, which stated that there would be a levy made on every member of the society in England sufficient to pay a strike allowance to the Toronto members of $10 a week until they go back to work.

That was one event of the day. Another was a program mapped out which may result in a goodly proportion of the men going back to work before many days are past. It hinges altogether on the organization of a rival "builders' exchange" to be composed of present independents. It is planned to have these meet on Tuesday afternoon and organize with a membership exceeding 25 (that is the present exchange). Mayor Coatsworth will then be asked to mediate as between the new exchange and the carpenters. He will accept and the men will agree to his services. Then the new exchange will offer to give the men the wages asked for, 40¢ as being in point of membership, the larger of the two exchanges, the men will go back to these employers. In this way they will receive with honor for a large number of men.

For those who don't return to work, the "strike benefits" will encourage to the last ditch. The Amalgamated men will get $10 a week and the Brotherhood men $8. The Amalgamated is the biggest trades union in the world, having locals wherever the English language is spoken, with a membership of hundreds of thousands. In Great Britain alone there are 1700 locals, and so it is that 90 per cent of the carpenters among the immigrants daily arriving and whom the bosses have counted upon to take the strikers' places, will be found to be union men and not available. The Amalgamated local in Toronto in January sent to headquarters a full statement of affairs and the situation here and has been deemed so deserving of support that this is the first time in thirteen years that the usual allowance of $5 a week has been doubled, although an average of 700 applications for strike endorsements are dealt with annually.

In Toronto 920 strikers belonged to the Amalgamated and 420 to the Brotherhood a week ago. Numerous additions have occurred since. On Saturday 32 joined the former and 12 the latter, while 37 more men joined the strike.

On Monday night the Federated Council of Building Trades will consider the situation and may enlarge the scope.

The strikers propose to hold a picnic at Munro Park, and on Wednesday at High Park, where the gatherings will be addressed by labor leaders. The room of the Labor Temple yesterday afternoon was adjourned until Tuesday night, when the final vote on the strike will be taken. It was evident throughout the session that many of the laborers were opposed to calling a strike at the present time.

A prominent member of the Builders' Exchange said to a World reporter last evening that no agreement will be granted until the strikers receive the year's average now than the bricklayers, and many of them have been receiving higher wages than they asked for.

"The whole scheme is a plan of a few agitators, known as 'business agents.' If they can excite the men into demanding a yearly agreement, it, of course, means a good thing for them, but you can rest assured they shall not receive it, and if the men are sensible they will return to work while they may."

Baby Eczema At Six Months

Parents who have witnessed the suffering of their child with eczema will be interested in this letter:

Mrs. Wm. Miller, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My daughter, Mary, when six months old, contracted eczema and for three years the disease baffled all treatment. Her case was one of the worst I have ever seen under my name, and she appeared to be suffering from a different doctor attend her all to purpose whatever and, and lotions were tried but with no results. Finally I decided to try the 'Baby Eczema' medicine. After three days she was cured and I was surprised she was completely cured of that long-standing disease. That was my first thought, to get a cure for my baby's skin. I had no idea of the permanent. With a grateful heart I give this testimony to the great value of Dr. Richardson's 'Baby Eczema' medicine.

Dr. Richardson, Jr., public school teacher and Sunday school superintendent, writes: "My wife and I believe they would not make a statement believing it to be in any way misleading or untrue."

NOT ALL OF MOSES' BOOKS INSPIRED, SAYS REPORT

Commission to Investigate Writing of Pentateuch, Submit Conclusions.

New York, Aug. 12.—Biblical students throughout the world, says The Herald, are interested in a report made last June to Pope Pius X. by a Pontifical Biblical commission appointed to investigate the question whether the books of the Pentateuch, written by Moses, were inspired, merely the result of human effort. The commission's report is in effect that Moses was essentially the author of the Pentateuch, but that all the books were not inspired. The Pope has approved the report, and while this has not been announced as to bind all Catholics as in an article of faith, the decision will doubtless be accepted by Catholic scholars as final and will fix their attitude toward the higher criticism of the Bible accordingly.

Translations of the report and of an address to the clergy later made by the approval of the Pope have just reached this country. The investigation was instigated by wide differences of opinion as to the authorship of the books of the Pentateuch. Questions were framed and the report was signed by the secretaries, Fathers Labrosse and Vigouroux, both eminent scholars.

To the question, "Whether it can be conceded without prejudice to the Mosaic authenticity of the Pentateuch, that Moses in his work used sources, that is, writers, and inserted them in his own work, either verbally or in substance, summarized or amplified," the answer was "Yes."

Nothing Contrary to His Will.

To a direct question as to whether the books of the Pentateuch were ever actually written by Moses or composed posterior to the time of Moses, the commission replies: "No. It is replied affirmatively to a proposition that Moses conceived the work under the influence of divine inspiration and then entrusted the writing to some other person or persons and that nothing was written contrary to his will.

"Yes, with due regard to the judgment of the church," was the answer given to a question as to whether the Pentateuch, as such, has not been composed of elements for the most part later than his time. It states that "all does not follow from this that Moses wrote all the books with his own hand, or dictated them all to his scribes."

Truly Battered His Thought.

"It may be admitted," the address says, "that when he had conceived his idea, under divine inspiration, he continued its reduction to one or more secretaries. It must nevertheless be affirmed that they have truly rendered his thought, neither adding nor omitting anything contrary to his intention, and that they have published their labors only after having obtained the inspired author's approbation of the work which bears his name."

As to modifications which may have been made in the course of time through errors in reading and in copying, the commission says that such errors have doubtless been made, but that it belongs to the province of criticism to employ the rules of its art in the research and discernment of these modifications.

WESTERN WEATHER

Is All to the Good as Far as Crops Are Concerned.

Winnipeg, Aug. 11.—Latest crop reports show conditions uniformly favorable throughout the whole west. The weather is ideal, taking the country as a whole, latest indications showing that there will be a good average yield, and with the increased acreage under crop, the country will have the biggest crop on record. Oats and barley cutting are well under way, and wheat cutting will be general in a week.

Four thousand farm laborers, mostly from the prairie provinces, arrived in Winnipeg to-day, and were promptly distributed to districts where they were most needed, nearly all being engaged in harvesting crops as further matured there than in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The minister of justice of Canada will be in Winnipeg to secure one of those bargains he has been so long endeavoring to secure in a royal manner.

Red Rose as Rent.

London, Aug. 11.—A red rose is the annual rent paid for a valuable bit of land in Southwark, the busy central quarter of southern London. The 20th payment has just been made to the governors of St. Olave's and St. Saviour's Grammar School, who are the ground landlords.

The quaint custom dates from 1558, when a portion of a field belonging to the school was leased by the parish authorities for the benefit of the poor, at the nominal annual rent of one red rose. The lease was one of 999 years, so that in the natural course of things the annual red rose will be paid until A.D. 2156. The value of the land will go on increasing, for green fields have now receded miles from Southwark.
