higher criticism. Rev. Dr. Burns said he was much annoyed at the reflection made reductions in the assessment of Ward.

Rev. Dr. Lyle said such ignoramuses should be severely censured. If the Lore's work can prosper without the intelligent, it can get along without the ignorant. The utterances of Moody and Blake, he said should be hissed down, as they indicate a lack of charity and show a wicked spirit and much ignorance. "The memories of higher critics will live when these wretched, sneering pigmy critics are dead and forgottem," he said.

Rev. Mr. McPherson said he could forgive Moody on account of his intense cuttusiasm. Blake's remarks, however, were very insulting, and Blake snould be thor-

NOTES FROM OTTAWA.

No Insolvency Law Next Session-Officers

Ottawa, Nov. 1.-The Government has not finally decided to bring in an nsolvency law next session. Strong representations against it are coming in now from the Boards of Trade in different cities and from influential business interests. In the meantime it is safe to anticipate that the farming class will raise the same strong opposition that has been urged on previous occusions. In the law which was passed by the Mackenzie administration the greatest eare was exercised to guard against injustice.
