TATTOO FOR KING AND QUEEN. Their Majesties Witness Manoeuvres of the Troops at Aldershot.

London, June 14.—The King and Queen, Prince and Princess of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of Cornwallight tonight witnessed a grand military tattoo at Aldershot. The troops and the thousands of spectators who assembled to witness the ceremony gave an enthusiastic welcome to Their Majesties.

The spectacle was a very pretty one. At first the ground was ablaze with torches. The band, representing the English, Scotch, Irish and Welsh Guards, performed various movements.

From the serpentine a trail of fire converged into a given formation, the bands playing the Evening Hymn and national airs. Afterwards mazylike evolutions were performed, which were strikingly effective.

The tattoo closed with the bands playing "God Save the King." The Mayor read an address from the Town Council, to which the King smilingly replied, saying: "I trust we will enjoy some fine weather here after the wet days which we have been having."

He then handed a formal reply to the Mayor, thanking the Council for its expressions of loyalty and wishing prosperity to Aldershot and saying he rejoiced that the return of peace would bring so many home from South Africa.

The King and Queen will remain at Aldershot until July 3, when they will review 40,000 troops on Lauffan Plain.

Coronations!

The most important holiday we've had in 50 years—Coronation Day. And it seems that the big hatters have put some energetic styles into their hats this season especially to attract you. We have all the new ones—English and American.

Grey Felt Alpines are the popular choice. Nothing like them for warm weather. Wear Alpine Hats—$1.50 to $5

IMPERIAL CUSTOMS UNION. Country Not Likely to Get a Leading in the Government.

London, June 15.—Sir Michael Hicks Beach is reproached by The Economist for pitiful shuffling in dealing actively with the question of an imperial customs union, instead of expressing a clear and definite opinion on a matter of the first importance.

London, June 15.—Coming as it does close upon the heels of the report concerning the system of education in vogue at Sandhurst, the newly issued behavior and the demonstration in which the future officers of the British army indulged are significant.

The series of fires in the students' rooms was followed by about two hundred young men breaking loose and wrecking the fee being held by the Order of Foresters at Cambridge.

A Fair Trial. A fair trial proves to birdkeepers that Cottam Seed is, as a seed producer, provides wholesome nourishment for birds.

Killed His Own Son. Webster, Mass., June 14.—Enraged by the refusal of his two boys to give him their wages, Frederick Charles Turner, a German weaver, shot and instantly killed his second son, Rudolph, 19 years old, to-day.

Bulky Bench. Large crowds of people were down to the beaches and bay fronted yesterday and Saturday. An unusually large number of picnics were held on Saturday in the park, and the shows did a good business. Every seat was taken for the evening performance, and large numbers could get standing room only.

All the residents are now down. Mr. Morgan J. Kelly and family are down on Friday and will be here for the season. The Bowling Club will play a three-rink game with Kew Beach during the week.

Advertising only brings the article to the notice of the prospective buyer. The merit of the article insures the subsequent sale. In Glands cigars the newspapers serve as an introduction. The exceptional merit of the cigars explains their phenomenal sale.

Property Sales on Saturday. Mr. Chas. M. Henderson sold at his rooms, 87-89 East King-street, on Saturday, two houses on Claremont-street for $1550, to Mr. Brown, and a house on Pape-avenue, opposite Dagmar-avenue, for $1900 to Mr. Blong.

BRITAIN'S NEW MINISTER.

Hon. Michael Henry Herbert is De-lighted to Return to Washington. London, June 14.—The Hon. Michael Henry Herbert, the British Ambassador to the United States, and Mrs. Herbert are now visiting London. When interviewed by a representative of the Associated Press, the new Ambassador, who did not look at all well, said: "I really have no plans yet determined upon. I have many personal and business letters to settle up here and in Paris before I go to Washington. I expect I shall be here for the coronation, and may not be in America until after August. I am looking forward very keenly to going back. That is the way it feels for you know I have been in Washington so much, and have so many good friends on the other side, that the new appointment is merely a return to pleasant associations. And everything has been so nice. I have received countless letters and cable messages of congratulation from America—so many that I am really astonished to find how many friends I have got there. When Americans like me they are certainly like you, and they have the reverse virtue of hating well I shall be glad when I'm in Washington once again."

FLOWER ANNIVERSARY.

Special Services Sunday in Carlton-St. Methodist Church. In the Carlton-street Methodist Church yesterday a special flower service was held. The chancel was beautifully decorated with plants, in bloom, and at the church entrance large trays were placed to receive gifts of flowers.

TWEAKED ENGLISHMAN'S NOSE.

Santos-Dumont Wanted to Fight a Duel, But His Adversary Fumbled. Paris, June 15.—While sitting at a table in the Ritz Hotel, Santos-Dumont, the aeronaut, overheard an Englishman concerning the slaying of his balloon recently, exclaiming, stepped over to the man and pulled his nose, when a retraction was refused, the Englishman, who produced his card, reading: "James Stephen Vandercrook, Savage Club, London." But Santos-Dumont wrote a number of farewells, because, having no skill with swords or pistol, he considered an "accident" possible.

LONDON WET AND BEDRAGGLED.

The Aspect of the Town is Positively Hideous—Guarding Against Possible Danagers. London, June 15.—All London is now in curl papers and a very wet, bedraggled dame she is. More than a month of steady rain has seriously handicapped all coronation preparations, and the present aspect of the town is positively hideous.

Seeds along the route of the second day's procession are now waiting for poor seas. Prices are fairly maintaining for really good seeds. A good deal of rain is expected, and there are few seeds as high as ten.

They Have Adopted Special Precautions to Handle the Crowds on Coronation Day.

NEW STRAW SAILORS.

No matter what may "crop up" in fashion's garden as the "new and popular" thing for summer wear.

Sailor holds steady to its army of admirers, and many a man would just as soon think of going through the summer with his "overshoes" on for comfort as not to have his Straw Sailor—and we're displaying today for just such fastidious folk a fine range of new Straw Sailors in split and fancy braids 1.50 to 3.00
