LACROSSE GOSSIP.

The N. L. U. lacrosse games to-day are Torontos at Capitals, Tecumsehs at Nationals and Montreal at Cornwall. Torontos, National and Montreal look like the winners.

Torontos have signed Hunter, a former Marsity home player, who coached Johns Hopkins College this spring and who played with Chicago last year. Hunter arrived yesterday, and went to Ottawa with the team last night.

Tecumsehs senior C. L. A. team will practice this afternoon. They meet at the clubhouse at 2 o'clock.

Woodbridge have withdrawn from the duvenile C. L. A. series. Owing to the games at the island to-day Eaton's C. L. A. and Inter-Associ-ation teams will not practice.

St. Helen's lacrosse players are requested to meet at the club at 2 p.m. sharp for their game with Elms today at Island Park.

The Elms will play the following line-up against St. Helens in the junior championship series at the Island Park grounds this afternoon at 2.30 sharp; Goaf, Tryer; point, Millgan; cover, Robinson; defence field, Drinkwater, Lindsay, Langston, Carrol; centre, Newal; home field, McGregor, Parliment, Mitchell, Crawford; outside, Storey; inside, Ruddy.

There will be no lacrosse in the Beaverton district this summer as both intermediate and junior C. L. A. teams have dropped out of the running.

The Norway Lacrosse Club will journey to Mimico this afternoon to play the Humber Bay A. A. Members will meet at corner of Woodbine-avenue and Queen-street at 1.45 and catch the 3 o'clock car at Sunnyside. The team will be picked from the following players: Porter, Powell. Wells. Lol Solman, president of the Toronto Ferry Company, had a large gang of men at work on the ruquing track at the island, and it is in the best possible shape for the events this afternoon. The New York athletes for the mile and the relay race arrived last night, and all are in good shape. Sheppard said that the field will have to break a world's record if they want to beat him in that mile special, and Kiviat says that is just what he intends to do, while Paull, the intercollegiate champlen, was reticent, and only said: "Just you watch me."

While these American cracks are talking this way, they do not want to forget that there will be two men in this race that they will all have to beat, and they are Jack Tait and Arnold Knox. When they get thru with the Canucks they will know that they have been running in record time, as both the Toronto boys are primed for this meeting, and are ripe for the race of their lives.

The rival Y.M.C.A. athletes are going to have their supporters on hand to root primed for this meeting, and are ripe for the race of their lives.

The rival Y.M.C.A. athletes are going to have their supporters on hand to root for them in the different events, and there promises to be lots doing during the afternoon; indeed, the meet looks more like an Olympic affair than anything else.

Sheppard let it slip out of him that the man he is afraid of in the mile race is Kiviat, who he thinks will take his place as the idol of the New York sporting public, and he, therefore, is more auxious to beat him than anyone else.

Mr. J. C. Eaton will arrive on his new yacht at 1.30 to-day, and will immediately go over to the games to see the big yacht at 1.30 to-day, and will immediately go over to the games to see the big meet and fire off the first gun for the first race on the program.

There will be about half of the grand stand left for rush seats at 50 cents, and the bleachers will all sell for 25 cents, while what is left of the reserve seats can be secured at the island, if there are any left, which is unlikely.

THE NATIONALIST CURSE EGYPT'S EVIL GENIUS

Arraignment of Men Who Incite But Dare Not Act-Danger of Native Officials in High Posts.

The annual report of Sir Eldon Gorst, the British agent in Egypt, confirms the seriousness of the Na feature is the strong terms in which the Nationalist leaders are held responsible for the murder of the late premier Boutros Pasha.

The premier was fatally wou says the report, "as he was leaving his erable creatures of feeble intellect and dupes of the greater criminals who preach violent methods which they are afraid themselves to carry into et-

"The their wretched and misguided follower will pay the penalty, I have no hesitation in saying that the lead-ers of the Nationalist party are morally responsible for the murder of Bou-tros Pasha. For years past they have ledge of the fact that their words could not fail to stir the ignorant and excitable youths to whom they were ad-dressed to the act of violence which they now pretend to ignore."
Sir Eldon Gorst admits that the new press laws have been applied perhaps with too great moderation. They were not sufficient to prevent the extreme Nationalist journals from continuing to pour odium and contempt on the authorities, and "the government may perhaps be blamed for not having used more freely the powers which they possessed to put a stop to these abuses "Sad experience has now shown that the attitude of silent contempt does not suffice in Egypt. It is possible, tho not, I fear, probable, that those who have been engaged for the last few years in stirring up the evil passions of the ignorant and credulous may at last perceive that they are playing with fire, and endeavor to m

"If this should not turn out to be the case, it will become necessary to apply the press law with greater severity than heretofore. No obligation of government is more imperative than to pro-tect efficiently the lives and repu-tations of those who devote themselves to the service of their country." Turning to the legislative council, Sir hoped that the members will free themselves from these faults, and will gradually become able to form an independent judgment on the matters brought before them, without being overawed by the loquaclousness of some of their colleagues, or led astray by Nationalists calumnies. I can only repeat what I said in last year's report hoped that the members will free them repeat what I said in last year's report. viz., that 'the future development of the institution must depend upon the wisdom and discretion displayed by the city. members themselves."

Eldon Gorst says:

With regard to the election of the new provincial councils, the agent remarks:
"The interest taken was quite exceptional for an Oriental country, and justifies the hope that the large land-owners and notables in the provinces will help in making these bodies a useful and successful part of the machinery of government.

"If that should turn out to be the case, I venture to relterate my opinion that this measure will, in the long run, prove a not unimportant step in the direction of preparing the Egyptians to govern themselves."

an inspection of the Northwest Mounted Police in his trip west this summer. It is expected that Premier Murray of Nova Scotia will be able to leave the Halifax Hospital in two weeks and go to his home at North Sydney.

The authorities of the Caucasus are now empowered to grant permits to Jews requiring medical treatment to visit the health resorts during the season of 1910.

Eldon Gorst says:

The weak points of this institution at present are that the majority of the members are easily led astray by the members are easily led astray by the more turbulent spirits, and that the chief preoccupation of all of them is to avoid being abused in the native present in the invariable result of any support, however mild or platonic, given to the proposals of the government.

Beldon Gorst comments on the uneasiness which has been caused among junior English of ficials by the appointment of Egyptians to posts hitherto filled by Europeans. He declares that notwithstanding the improvement in the native public service is made, there can be no doubt that a considerable number of the higher posts which the native public service is made, there can be no doubt that a considerable number of the higher posts in evitably be filled for many years to come by Europeans.
