LOCAL HORSE, GOSSETT BIRD, WINS TROT HIGH NOTE ROMPS AWAY WITH THE PACE

Interested Crowd Sees Harness Races Decided in Straight Heats at Exhibition-Two More Races on Today's Program.

Mian National Exhibition yesterday afternoon before a large growd of spectators despite the fact times. Not a drop of rain fell, however, and the sun shone brightly for the greater part of the afternoon condition. The socialistic distribuing a brand. Scratches in both the events, the 2.20 trot and the 2.30 pace, being partly responsible for oth races. In addition the manner in maich High Note towered over her seld in the pace removed any thrill from that race so far as the winner concerned.

Jockey Club's mandate of rules. Gossett Bird entered the stretch a length in advance of Clara, but the latter passed up an excellent opportunity to land a second premium by breaking mid-way. Wilson Todd passed her, but Wyatt managed to square Clara just in time to trot under the wire ahead of Ayliffe Main, who was fourth. Nannie Extellion did not recover from her break in time to save distance.

Usually a titanic struggle at this fair, the 2.30 pace was the least interesting affair of the two days that have elapsed of the race program. Seemingly none of the drivers were at all anxious over the result else shey surely would not have been so considerate of the public as to score down on a veritable straight line the first time in two of the heats. However, it mattered little whether the start was perfect or not, so far as the winner was concerned, for High Note had the speed of the class and took the clead at will. In the first heat Tony the Hero, the breedy-looking gelded grey son of Hal B., jr., scoring in second position, had the pole from Flossie K., at the turn. Tony, Flossie and High Note passed the half in single file, but the last named raced into the lead going up the back stretch and won at will.

In the second heat Tony the Hero had the pole, which he retained until the three-quarters. High Note lasked was last of the pole from the head in the pole, which he retained until the three-quarters. High Note lasked was last of the pole from collected a banner.

For the St. Leger Today

Derby Winner is Favorite

London, Sept. 7.—(By Canadian Press.)
—Who will win the St. Leger tomorrow? That is the question freely debated today among Yorkshire "tykes" and the great racing fraternity gathers and the great racing fraternity gathers and the great racing fraternity gathers over one mile and three-quarters, is confined to three-year-old entire colts and fillies, and is known as the last of the five "classic" races, the others being the Two Thousand Guineas and Derby, for three-year-old colts and fillies, and is known as the last of the five "classic" races, the others being the Two Thousand Guineas and Derby, for three-year-old colts and fillies, and is known as the last of the five "classic" races, the others being the Two Thousand Guineas and Oaks, for fillies only. It is the oldest race in the world, antedating both the Derby and Oaks, having been run continuously since 1776, but in the war years, from 1915 to 1918, inclusive, it was run at Newmarket as the September Stakes, there being no racing at Doncaster.

The notable thing in the St. Leger market is the strong part played by Mr. Housman's Orpheus whose odds have shortened to 3 to 4 with the consequent result that the more liberal price of 3 to 2 kg quoted for the favorite, Spion Kop. Orpheus is a bay colt, very well bred, being by Orby, the Derby winner of 1907, out of the famous mare, Electra. Orpheus ran in the Derby as a 20 to 1 outsider, but finished a creditable third to Spion Kop and Archaic. He ran badiy at Ascot, but his form then was admittedly all wrong, and he has won in good company since.

Silvern, who is also going strong in the market, is an uncertain performer, but he is a proved stayer with undoubted seed speed if he makes up his mind to sive his best form in the great race tomorrow. tomorrow. Black Gauntlet, winner of the Hardwicks Stakes at Ascot but has had no engagement since, is well fancied by his stable and perhaps is the greatest danger the favorite has to meet. The Derby winner, Spion Kop, has been beaten more than once this season, but if he wins the Leger, the last of the five classic races, he will then seal his claim to be the best of the three-year-olds of the year—rather moderate lot that they are.

Betting on the St. Leger yesterday was: Spion Kop, 9-4; Orpheus, 9-2; Silvern and Braishfield, 8-1; Black Gauntlet, 100-9; Alder, 160-8; Allenby and Abbot's Trade, 20-1.

Livingston of the Thorn-cliffe Breeding and Racing Association returned yesterday from a visit to Devonshire, and reports that, in addition to the foregoing stables, a number of others will likely ship here. Then he has had inquiries from the horsemen at Ottawa and Montreal regarding stabling room.

FAVORITES BEATEN

Margaret Dillon Winning The Lansdowne Handicap and Only After Three-Heat Battle at Hartford.

Hartford, Ct.. Sept. 7.—Three of the four favorites on today's Grand Circuit card at Charter Oak Park were defeated, one of them for the first time this season, and Tommie Murphy furnished two of the upsets. In the 2.06 trot, Tootsie Toise, unbeaten on big line tracks, was forced to accept third money, being topped in the summary by Dr. Nick, the winner, and Selka, Dr. Nick's great speed on the way home brought him from the rear, as the half-mile post was passed, to the front at the wire in each heat. Red Russell took his second race of the season in the 2.10 trot, defeating the favorite, Lady Wilgo, twice in the stretch. Favonian and Bogalusa hitched up in three thrilling heats, the latter taking the first, but lesing the next two to Edman's mount. The third heat was particularly close, the fans being divided as to the winners, while many thought it a dead heat. The race recalled the great St. Frisco-Mabel Trask battle in 1916.

The only favorite to come thru was Margaret Dillog was forced to interest in favorite to come thru was Margaret Dillog was forced.

The only favorite to come thru was Margaret Dillon, undefeated pacer of the season, and she won only after a three-heat battle with Esther R. and Peter Elliott. Munroe's mount took the first heat by a head from Esther R., and broke in the stretch in the second, Peter Elliott winning a close finish from Murphy's pacer. In the third heat, Munroe took Margaret Dillon to the front and held a comfortable lead all the way around.
