SEND-OFF FOR HILTON BELYEA

Thousands of people turned out last evening to bid farewell and "bon voyage" to Hilton Belyea, Canadian sculling champion, who sailed today on the S. S. Manchester Importer for Philadelphia where he will compete on June 9 against the leading scullers of America for the championship of the United States.

Last night Hilton was conveyed to the dock in an automobile and escorted by the Carleton band. The procession came across on the ferry and, when the Governor Carleton slipped into her dock, she fairly cracked with the weight of Carleton people, who accompanied the champion. The band led the way up Prince William street, up King, down Charlotte and Duke to McLeod's wharf. The streets were lined with cheering crowds and handkerchiefs fluttered from the windows. In every block the crowd grew, until all traffic was held up. One small boy, greatly astonished, was heard to ask, "Say, mother, who is all the fuss about, anyway?" and his mother replied, "Why that's Hilton Belyea—our Hilton."

The Speeches.

At the dock the champion was borne into the shed, which was almost filled, so great was the number of admirers. J. C. Chesley acted as chairman and, in a short speech, reviewed Hilton's triumphant history. He said that Hilton was beaten at Buffalo last year by only two feet, and that on account of imperfect physical condition, but he assured the audience that this year the Canadian champion was in the pink of condition, and expressed the strong conviction that when they welcomed him back to St. John they would welcome the sculling champion of the world.

Commissioner Thornton said that he deemed it an honor to stand on the same platform with Hilton, the next world's champion. In the unavoidable absence of Mayor McEllan, he extended the good wishes of the citizens of St. John to Hilton, and ended his remarks by proposing three cheers for Belyea, which was given with a will.

Captain A. J. Mulcahy, in a witty speech, said that he was proud to be a citizen of St. John. He said that Hilton was all man and that he would not fall down, in this, his greatest effort. "Outside lies the vessel that will carry Hilton Belyea to Philadelphia," said Captain Mulcahy, "and I can only say, God speed the vessel."

Cheers for Hilton.

Following the speeches, Hilton was escorted by lifting his cap, which was the signal for a volley of cheers which shook the shed to its very foundations.

The band next contributed several selections and Mr. Chesley announced that, according to the trainer's orders, Hilton must go to bed. Once more three cheers and a tiger were given for Hilton, and three more for the band, and then the carman was carried off to the boat that will bear him to the scene of his expected triumph. He was accompanied by his brother, Harry, who is acting as his trainer.

On board the Importer, after the crowd had dispersed, Hilton said that he deeply appreciated the cheers and good wishes of his admirers, and that it would pay him on to do his best, if any incentive were needed.

Captain Brown and his crew were on deck to receive Belyea and they appeared pleased that they were to have the opportunity of carrying to Philadelphia the man who might be the world's champion after June 8. The sailorman divided their attention between an examination of Hilton and of his racing skills. No doubt they will await with keen anticipation the result of the great race.

Mr. Chesley announced last night that the Women's Council had kindly agreed to conduct a tag day, to help to pay the expenses, and also called attention to the entertainments which are to be put on in the near future for the same laudable purpose. He urged the people to contribute well, for they would be contributing to a cause which meant much for St. John and for the empire. At a meeting of the Moncton Amateur Athletic Association on Tuesday night, it was decided to forward a sum of money to the secretary of the Commercial Club to aid in paying the expenses of Hilton Belyea.

LABOR BOYCOTT FAILS TO AFFECT BASEBALL

Chicago, May 11.—The organized labor boycott on organized baseball has failed to bring results. Disappointed because of the failure of their appeal to cut down the attendance in big league cities, the Chicago Building Trades Council, through its president, Fred Mader, has sent out another plea to organized labor of the major league cities, urging all union men to boycott professional baseball as long as Judge K. M. Landis remains as the ruling head of the game.

The letter characterized Judge Landis as a "buffoon," who, by his action as arbiter in the local building trades dispute, threw thousands of men out of work. The labor men themselves chose Landis to settle the case. Then they refused to abide by his decision.

The first appeal was sent out at the opening of the season. Labor union chiefs here had visions of dwindling attendance at the parks, but reports so far indicate that the crowds have been even larger than previous seasons.

Emmett T. Flood, an official of the council, says the appeal will reach 2,600,000 union workers. "As soon as the central bodies of the major league cities receive our letter they have instructions to copy it and send it to all affiliated locals. This move is bound to be felt at the gates of the ball parks," said Flood.

MOVIES IN HEALTH DRIVE.

How Films Aid in War on Tuberculosis in North Carolina.

The North Carolina Tuberculosis Association is endeavoring to stamp out the white plague among the negroes of its rural population. It has enlisted the aid of the movies, and Dr. E. T. Ransom travels around the country in what is known as the Motion Picture Health Car exhibiting educational pictures and giving lectures explaining them. The method used is described in The Nation's Health.

The Health Car was purchased from the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals among the colored people of the State. It is in the field constantly, its itinerary covering the whole State, one week being spent in each county, where from six to ten shows are given.

The visual education part of Dr. Ransom's programme includes a one-reel film entitled "Mrs. Brown versus the High Cost of Living." This explains the happiness and comfort which come from a clean kitchen and attractive service in the home, teaches the housewife how to economize, and the proper food for children.

"Coles and the Ambulance Corps," a film from the Community Service Bureau, and "Jinks," a comedy on tuberculosis, are other instructive films of entertaining vein. Six or seven reels dealing largely with health and sanitation, all told in story form, are shown at each entertainment. These include two films on tuberculosis, one on public health nursing, one on oral hygiene, and various ones on phases of agriculture which are lent by the United States Department of Agriculture.

In connection with the motion picture Dr. Ransom lectures to his people on hygiene and community sanitation and the prevention of disease, especially that of tuberculosis. Since many cases of tuberculosis are found in the communities he visits, this disease is discussed at some length.

The Health Car is popular in the communities which it visits and the afternoon and evening shows are crowded with old and young, curious to see the clean kitchen and eager to better their condition. During a six months' period Dr. Ransom gave 148 exhibitions in twenty-five counties, witnessed by 84,148 persons. At each performance he gave a health lecture besides visiting sick persons in their homes. The car during that period traveled 8,887 miles.

"The colored people at large feel very grateful to the North Carolina Tuberculosis Association for what it is doing to promote health in the rural sections of the State," says Dr. Ransom. "The close of each performance brings expressions of gratitude from the audience and regret that, on account of ignorance of such facts, lives have been
