DAHINDA ALEAK; TOWED DOWN RIVER

Col. McLean and Party Have Experience — Yacht Taken Through Falls Today For Repairs

Leaking badly and those on board had at work at the pumps, the schooner yacht Dahinda, the property of W. Malcolm McKay, with Col. H. H. McLean, M.P., and party aboard, was picked up by the steamer May Queen yesterday afternoon, and towed to Indiantown. The fine craft has recently been overhauled and put in excellent condition, but in some manner she sprang a leak yesterday and it required work to keep her afloat.

The Queen on her down-river trip noticed the yacht in distress and went to her assistance. Her arrival was welcomed by the tired crew, who had labored at the pumps to keep the Dahinda from sinking. The party went aboard the steamer and the yacht was taken in tow.

The Dahinda was brought through the falls this morning by the tug Waring, and is required pumping to keep her clear. She was placed on Hillyard's blocks for repairs. The excursionists on the craft were none the worse for their exciting experience.

Argument in Vaughan vs. Mosher; Judgment Reserved — Several Cases Today

Before Mr. Justice McKeown in chambers this morning, argument was heard in the case of Vaughan vs. Mosher. Mr. Baxter, for the Mr. Mosher, contended that no negligence had been shown, and if negligence had been shown, the plaintiff was not entitled to more than $120.

Mr. Wilson, for the plaintiff, argued that there was a clear case of negligence. He said the boiler had not been inspected for seven years, and during that time had never been insured; that two years ago it had partially collapsed; that it had been repaired and put in operation on the fall without being inspected; also that the mill came under the factory act which required that the boiler be inspected at least once a year, and in case of neglect, the owner was liable for all damage resulting therefrom.

Mr. Wilson also argued that the plaintiff was entitled to pay for 156 weeks at $6 a week.

His Honor reserved judgment. A. A. Wilson, K. C., is for the plaintiff, and J. B. Baxter and D. King Hassen for the defendant.

The case of Butt vs. the C. P. R. which was to have been tried this morning, was adjourned until next Thursday morning. Baxter & Logan are for the plaintiff; C. F. Innes for the defendant.

Before Mr. Justice Barker in chambers this morning application was made in the case of Gietty vs. Magee to amend some of the papers in the suit in consequence of the death of some of the parties. The application was granted. J. P. Byrne is solicitor, and Dr. W. B. Wallace, counsel.

In the case of the estate of Scott Fairley, application was made by Dr. W. B. Wallace to appoint a receiver in the place of the late Warren C. Winslow, and distribute the assets of the estate. The application was granted and made returnable at the next chancery court, in August.

KING STREET BUILDING SALE REVIVES RUMORS

Various rumors were afloat this morning concerning the purchase of the Oak Hall building, corner of King and Germain streets, occupied by Scovil Bros. Ltd., by A. H. Hanington, K.C., of the legal firm of Hanington & Hanington. One report was to the effect that the purchase had been made for the C. P. R., but this was not believed.

Frank C. Smith, of the firm of Scovil Bros., said this morning that his firm had a five year lease on the building. Because of this it was said today that the purchasers were not the C. P. R. and another reason was that the Oak Hall had acquired the building adjoining and were not purposing to be bought out, but to expand their main building. The building was $50,000.

Mr. Hanington would not say as to whether he was acting for other parties or not, nor what was being planned in connection with the building.

F. W. Kaye and G. E. Fairweather are the trustees of the Vernon estate to whom the building belonged and E. G. Kaye acted as solicitor. Nothing could be learned from them as to purchasers.

PICKFORD & BLACK MAN HERE TOMORROW

It is probable that the committee will meet the steamship company's representative tomorrow afternoon.
