U. S. Telegraphers and Telephone Staff To Go On Strike

CHICAGO, June 8.—A nationwide strike of telegraph and telephone operators, who are members of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, was ordered today to take effect next Wednesday morning, June 10, at 8 o'clock, Standard time. Outside of the union ranks, it was said, many wire workers had pledged themselves to support a strike.

OSHAWA WOMAN SAYS SHE IS FEELING FINE AFTER TAKING TANLAC.

"Tanlac was the only thing that gave me any relief, and I am convinced that it is the right medicine for people in the condition I was in," said Mrs. Elizabeth Newhall of Oshawa, Ont., recently.

"I had been in a general rundown condition for over a year," she continued, "was extremely nervous, had no strength or energy and the least little exertion would so exhaust me that I would feel faint, I ached all over and felt half dead all the time. I had no appetite and would skip meals after meal. Nervous, blinding headaches would almost drive me distracted; my rest was shattered so that the least little thing would upset me and I'd get up in the morning feeling so miserable I could hardly keep on my feet."

"After taking Tanlac a few days I began to feel better. My appetite is now splendid and nothing I eat hurts me at all. Those terrible headaches are all gone. I have more life, energy and my work is a real pleasure to me."

Tanlac is sold in Kitchener by E. O. Hutz and Co., in Galt by R. W. Melcham, in Hespeler by Jno. R. Phin, in New Hamburg by W. H. Boule, in Millbank by R. B. Hamilton, in West Montrose by A. E. Richter and Co., in Preston by H. L. Leitch, in Waterloo by A. B. Learn, in Doon by L. C. Bullock.

platform was called on. He referred to the intention to select a liberal leader at the convention to be held in Ottawa in a few months. He also touched on the unrest. Mr. Trux said that it had so frequently been stated that the unrest in Winnipeg, Toronto and other centres had been caused by foreigners. He said this was not so. "For example in Toronto where one of the newspapers recently published the names of the strike leaders, fourteen of the fifteen names were those of British born, the other was Canadian. The foreign element cannot be blamed for this. The foreign element are minding their business. It is, and some may perhaps consider it a bold statement, it is the slums of London and Liverpool who are leading the socialist movement," he said.

"In the constituency where I represent the people are a large extent of the same nationality as they are here. I have lived among them for fifty years and have had many in my employ during the last forty-five years. I never had any difficulty. The citizens of German nationality whom we have had with us during all these years have always been looked upon as good citizens. They loved their homes and their gardens and one of the first things that they tried to do was to get a home of their own."

"Coming to your city to-day, I must say that you have a beautiful city. It is fourteen years since I was in—I always seem to use the name Berlin, since I was in Berlin in 1900. At that time noticed that you had a fine town. It was one of the justified boasts of your place that it was the best town in Canada. I came back to-day and as I was about about your city I felt that you have made a wonderful growth since then. That you are prosperous is everywhere evident. Your beautiful homes and your streets and your children on the streets so clean and happy all indicate that you are a prosperous city."

"Regarding the election in 1917 the government went to the country with the dice loaded. In my own case I was given a majority of 8000, they put on the soldier's vote and would have put me in. But they got ashamed and threw out some of the votes. And you know what was done in other ridings throughout the country. In North Waterloo the majority for Mr. Euler was so large that they did not dare use these votes to put him out. Had they done that there would have been a rebellion throughout this whole country. The Liberal government cannot conform to the will of the working people of the country. It is to see every unionist who went over from the Liberals, if his conscience will allow him to come back to return to the liberals or independent liberals."

Mr. Trux referred to the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier which came into power in 1896 and he claimed that good times were ushered in as the result of the change in administration. Immigration also resulted, and the west was settled.

Concluding his address Mr. Trux said he wished that more young people would take an interest in political affairs of the nation because it was the coming generation that would have to bear a burden of the national debt.

Dr. Molloy, M.P. of Providence, Man. was the next speaker. He considered Mr. Euler a painstaking, steadfast member, fair in all his dealings.

"The future of the country," he said was not reassuring. A lack of unity was in evidence. There were differences in creeds and racial differences. With all these the liberals had nothing to do. Laurier, he remarked, had the reputation of having brought all these creeds and races together, as they should be together.

"After all Laurier was right, many, who hitherto have thought differently are beginning to say. I met a prominent conservative out west some months ago who said that he was convinced to-day that Laurier's policy was the better for the Canadian people to support. If we fall to-day the efforts of the great statesmen of the past will have been in vain," he remarked.

Dr. Molloy touched on the unrest. He said that with the profiteering that has been going on it was no wonder that there was unrest. Then there was the wheat situation which was the most iniquitous law ever placed on the statute books of the English speaking countries or of any country with responsible government. The government of to-day did not represent the people. The best proof of this was seen in the resignation of Hon. Mr. Crean, four other members of the cabinet would soon follow his. He was certain in the next election there would be an unprecedented number of changes, as it was to-day there were many compromised candidates who were holding seats.

Increasing expenditures were part of criticism by the speaker. To-day the debt was $1,950,000,000 as compared to $355,000,000 before the war. The government however showed no halt in unwise expenditures. He said the appointment of a purchasing commission was an example. There was a great loophole in the appointment of this commission. In future year members of the government could put the blame for expenditures on this commission. If the country kept on in this way it would have to appoint a liquidator or repudiate its debts. The interest cannot be paid out of the current funds. He was a firm believer in the income tax. Everybody should bear a share even the unmarried man with less than $1000 income.

The member from Manitoba felt that a change in Government was coming soon. In concluding his remarks he gave some suggestions to the Minister of Finance Sir Thomas White, whose integrity, however he did not doubt. He advised him to write four M's. Let the first M stand for the Money Bag; let the second stand for the millions drawn from the people; the third for the mountains of debt and the fourth for the misery that will come to the people.

South Renfrew's Member Speaks.

Mr. I. Pedlow, M.P. for South Renfrew, another Liberal candidate in the last election followed. He was pleased with the good report of this community. Referring to Mr. Euler, he said he was one of the most industrious that he had found. Regarding the extravagance of the government to which previous speakers have refer I can endorse what they have said. Nor has the government fulfilled its promises to the communities. For example there is the operation of the military service act. Before the election exemption to farmers was promised. But what happened? You all know how they broke these pledges. Then there is the titles question. You know the dilly-dallying that they have shown with that. As to the extravagance it seems the government is determined to continue this monstrosity. For example recently the contract for 500 cabinets was let at $41.50 each. I made some enquiries with a firm in my own riding that manufacture them and found out that they could be secured at $27.00 each. The article was the same in every way. That one was steel and the other was wood.

As to the reason of the unrest, the people were awakening to the fact that they were being deceived. The duty of every one was to assist in securing change for better government. And he believed this would come soon.

Senator Hoy of New Hamburg believed North Waterloo to be second to none in the province. He congratulated the electors for having a member like Mr. Euler as their representative.

The Senator also touched on the alleged extravagance of the government. This time it was not only with horses, but with overdrives of silk and embroidery in pearls and wearing an embroidered bridal veil, entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her step-father. Prof. Hillebrand, the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. Harry German, Waterloo. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was assisted by her sister, Albina, beautifully gowned in pale pink silk crepe and Georgette carrying a bouquet of pink roses.

SAFETY FIRST.

President Amussen, who succeeded Mr. Scollen in the chair, at this stage called on the attendees for electing him president. As to the election, he had been necessary to call a convention, and we don't think that the electors will call one for next Saturday, yet we thought it best to hold it. We have to play safety first.

North Waterloo Member is Brief.

Mr. Euler, M.P., said that he would be brief for he had no intention of addressing the electors at this meeting. "I would say, however, now that the war, the greatest calamity which has ever befallen the world, is over, I hope that the predictions that we are to have real democracy such as we enjoyed before the war. A word about the late Sir Wilfrid—I am not particular about the Sir Laurier made for unity of Canada. Unless that unity is restored we will not overcome our present difficulties. This is another instance where the man is not recognized for the good that is in him until after he is gone when it is too late."

"We stand for liberty all the way through. In the last election we here in North Waterloo won while throughout the rest of Canada we lost. It is a pity that the papers throughout the country have never told you a little about the corruption that was practiced in the election of 1917."

"Now I have nothing more to say. I might add one thing. While I don't care to rub it in, I would say that no grass is growing in Kitchener and Waterloo as our opponents predicted would be the case if you returned me. Your member has no reason to complain of the treatment he receives in Ottawa or outside of Ottawa. The only occasion is when he comes home."

"In my attitude on public questions I have tried to be independent. I have tried to carry out my pledges to you. And will do so in the future. I told you that I would vote against conscription and I did so. In the future I will again vote according to the dictates of my conscience and follow out the wishes of the riding. When I cannot do that I will come back and resign my seat. Will there be an election? I don't know, but I would not be surprised at anything that may happen. So we should therefore keep our powder dry." In conclusion let us work for a better and a greater Canada as all Canadians should."

The convention adjourned at 5.30 o'clock.

If somebody offered to give you a $5 bill for $4 would you hesitate?

Well—

That is what the Government of Canada is offering you to-day. WAR SAVINGS STAMPS can be bought now for $4.00 apiece. Every month you keep them they are worth more, and in 1924—not so very far away—Canada will pay you $5.00 for every stamp you hold.

But, you say, I find it hard to hold on to my money till I have $4.00. There are so many things to spend my money on. It's a quarter here and a quarter there—till before I know it all my spare cash is gone.

Well—when you have a spare quarter or two buy a Thrift Stamp! Sixteen Thrift Stamps equal one War Savings Stamp. Or, better still, tell your employer to buy so many Thrift Stamps for you each week and put them in your envelope. Then there will be no bother about it.

You could easily spare five per cent. of your wages each week to build up a profitable investment and will never miss nor regret it.

REMEMBER—This is the first opportunity you have had to invest in a high-interest-bearing Government security IN SMALL INSTALLMENTS.

War Savings Stamps can be bought wherever this sign is displayed.

FRENCH SOCIALISTS AMELIORATION OF PARIS, June 6.—The Socialists met in the Chamber of Deputies and adopted the following resolution: "This motion expresses the allied Governments' ameliorations to the peace, it is a character more in line with the conditions of a just peace, and, furthermore, that
