

As the man who organized this resistance, as the man who kept bright and alive the spirit of the splendor of France as a free nation, we salute General deGaulle today.