

if there was ground to conclude that the Canada Conference would consent to such division as was contemplated, and which some time ago it was supposed would be injurious to the Canada Conference.

Dr. Rice stated that in the Committee which considered this matter, that was regarded as a forgone conclusion. Dr. Pickard, in view of the fact that the conclusion of the Committee, to be appointed, was to be submitted to the Conference, was prepared to second the motion to have such Committee appointed. He had always thought that the Wesleyan Church in British America as affiliated to the British Conference, should be one. He inclined to the opinion that the members would be prepared to accept of any proper arrangement. He thought it would be proper to talk about it. The interchange of principles, to be on certain well understood terms, would be beneficial. An arrangement as would allow of an interchange from Labrador to Vancouver. Had the change of 1855, in relation to this Conference taken place in 1855, it would have been much better for us. We were growing out of the old spirit of dependency. The calls were coming to us and he looked forward to the time when, with men from among ourselves and men from England, we should be able to meet them all and become a great people.

The Rev. J. R. Narraway, A. M., who was urged to go upon the platform, said nobody but an Ex President should be there. In the language of the Liturgy he would say "what God had joined together let no man" Pope or Priest "put asunder." There was a grand prospect opening before them. Circumstances had led him to dwell upon the march of the red-cross flag towards the sea. He had read of the valley of the Shattah which stretch away towards the Pacific coast. He saw the thousands upon thousands rolling themselves into that land from all the Protestant churches and they would have enough to do to undertake their spiritual wars. He could not understand how the Methodist churches could keep asunder. The day must come when they would speak plainly and say that they should move slowly and cautiously. Thought they should appoint no committee until this whole matter had been fully discussed in Conference. When that discussion took place he should be prepared to take his part of the responsibility. He thought they should not be hurried into the matter. After discussion he might be for it as much as any of them but he wished it fully considered.

The Revs. Addy, Lathern, and Davies expressed themselves in favour of union and of the appointment of a committee.

General Intelligence.

THE GRAND BAZAAR. - The Bazaar on the grounds of Lord Reed, Esq., closed on Saturday evening last. During the afternoon, notwithstanding the many other attractions and the fact that thousands were out of town, a great number of people attended, in the evening was greatly increased to witness the closing display. The gardens looked beautiful, and the various scenes to be observed from the outlooks drew forth all expressions of delight. As the sun went down in the west, moon, round and full-orbed, came up in the east, throwing a flood of silver light upon the waters of the bay and the lights of the city. The brilliant scenes close at hand. The trees and walks were illuminated with thousands of Chinese lanterns and coloured lamps and the people wandered about and gazed at the large bonfire as the proprietor who had taken so much pains to provide for their delectation. About half-past eight o'clock the display of fire-works commenced and lasted for something over an hour, during which time rockets, roman candles, fire balls, Catherine wheels and magnificent designs in fire were constantly being let off from the stage erected, which was sufficiently elevated to afford an excellent view, not only to the people on the grounds but to the immense crowd collected on the outside and opposite hills in the city from which a view could be obtained, and all the time the band of the 62nd Battalion sent out on the air sweet strains of music. At the close a rush was made for the refreshment room, and for nearly another hour the demands made about the tables attending the tables was sufficient to tax their utmost exertions and to reduce the stores to a minimum. Gradually the people walked off towards the gates and left for their homes, and by 11 o'clock the grounds were almost deserted. We were unable to learn what the receipts were, but judge they were sufficient to gratify the Committee of the Female Academy, who had the whole matter in charge, to whom and to Mr. Reed the thanks of the community are due for the rare pleasure afforded during the past week. - St. John News.

KING'S COLLEGE. - The eighty-third anniversary of the foundation of King's College, Windsor, took place on the 29th ult. At 10 a.m. the procession formed at the College and marched to the Parish church, where His Lordship Bishop Binney and other clergymen officiated, and the Rev. Mr. Owen preached the sermon. The ceremony of offering degrees and prizes was then proceeded with. John Lawson, M. A., of Charlottetown, received the degree D. C. L. Messrs. E. Gilpin, L. J.

Keating, C. S. Hamilton, and F. Peters received the degree of B. A. Mr. Dodwell received the degree of B. A. Mr. Keating received the prize for mineralogy and Mr. Boyd that for elocution. The Atkins' historical prize was awarded to Rev. Mr. Smith, Wesleyan Minister, being for the best essay on the County of Shelburne. Rev. Dr. McAuley, President, delivered an historical review of the progress of the County of Shelburne. The Rev. Dr. Hensley spoke upon the future of the Institution. A. M. Unice, Esq., showed how the country had progressed and how the Institutions of learning had kept pace with progress. His Lordship the Bishop then presided at the ceremonies with an elaborate and highly beneficial address upon the question of University Education and kindred topics. - Colonist.
