They are real artistes, who have delighted millions people both in England and the United States. They have been specially engaged for the Christmas pantomime, Beauty and the Beast. Mrs. Rossley has got the rehearsals in full swing. It is going to be wonderful, novel and spectacular. The costumes will eclipse anything ever seen here. The caste is the largest, while the numbers performed by Mrs. Rossley's pupils will astound everyone.

Clear and beautiful photography and projected in a high-class manner, leaving nothing to be deserved, the witnessing of "Our Boys" at work and play, combined with the very artistic and up-to-date music as rendered by Mr. Bernard Spencer, provides an entertainment which can not be duplicated for allround excellence.

THE NICKEL.

The week-end performance, at the Nickel theatre vesterday, attracted the usual large audiences that are always to be found at this popular their disposal theatre on Fridays. The pictures were immense and afforded the greatest satisfaction to all. There is a Young Women's Bible Class-Every | feature matinee to-day for the little "The Goddess." Every child likes to go to the Nickel on Saturday afternoons because they are sure of seeing a fine programme. The hall will open this afternoon at 2.

Will Appeal To Full Bench

The recount in the Prohibition Election was resumed yesterday after-White- noon in the Court House. Judge Johnson gave his decision on the preliminary objections for the recount raised by the counsel for the prohibition cause. His Lordship stated that he had decided that there was but one election, and that, therefore, the affidavit upon which the order for the recount was given was good and sufficient. He also held that it followed that the period of twenty-one days allowed by the Act within which to apply for a recount ran from the declaration of the count of St. Barbe, and that, therefore, the application was made within the period. His Lordship also stated that he would not count any ballots until the Trade Review lectured on "Moore and lished. The letters in most cases yesterday, represents Mr. C. Colum-
