Board of Education Dismisses

Teacher

The Board of Education held special meeting last night to deal with matters pertaining to management. At the request of the teachers concerned, Miss Clara Porter, of the public school staff, and classical master Mr. Messmore, of the High School staff, were each given six months' extension of leave. Both are incapacitated through ill-health. Mr Barrow, of Port Dover, who has been supplying for Mr. Messmore, will be offered re-engagement for the re-mainder of the term. There was a possibility of Mr. Messmore being able to resume duty earlier, but Mr. Barrow and the students had to be considered too, hence the disposition. The secretary was instructed to advertise for a teacher for Miss Porter's class.
Absent Without Leave

The commercial specialist at the The commercial specialist at the High School, who, at a special meeting held about a month ago, asked for leave of absence "for January and perhaps February," to accompany her mother on a trip to California, to improve her health, and who was refused the leave requested, had taken French leave last Saturday. Half of the High School students were said to be absent this dents were said to be absent this week, and a petition signed by a representative from each form was presented to the board, asking that as school resumed on Thursday Jan, 3rd, the vacation be extended till the following Monday. The impression was quite general that matters were getting fast and loose, and members expressed their views very emphatically. When it was learned that the work of the absent teacher was being divided among the others, the chairman of the management committee wanted to know if it would not be better to reduce the staff. There was a general agreeent that the time had come

Principal Christie was called in by phone and requested to report in writing regarding the absent teach-er. It was now ten o'clock, perhaps later. The principal certified that the teacher was absent on her own later. The principal certified that the teacher was absent on her own leave without his consent. No member of the board had previously been notified, nor had the secretary.

To Fill the Vacancy.

A motion to advertise for a commercial specialist to fill the vacancy was put through, and the secretary was instructed to notify the teacher in question that as she had been guilty of a breach of contract her services were no longer required.

No More Nonsonse.

The board directed that school be re-opened on January 3rd. Chairman Innes of the Management Committee said that he had been out somewhat through the country recently and had heard complaints about loooseness of discipline and lack of industry at the High School and the reputation outside was such that students from the country were going elsewhere. He thought it time for a protest.

All the members were in attendance and there was but one dissenting voice when the yeas and nays were called on the vital motion of the evening.

Mr. Butcher's Exemption Protested

were called on the vital motion of the evening.

Mr. Butcher's Exemption Protested.

The military authorities have protested the exemption till July 1st granted to Mr. Butcher of the High School staff, and the Board of Education requested Secretary E. F. Curtis to represent the board in the matter.

Education requested Secretary E. F. Curtis to represent the board in the matter.

This is another example of disregard for conservation of resources. Mr. Butcher has locked up in his cerebial convolutions about $3,000 of his own money and about $2,000 of the country's money. In other words he has just completed a long academic course of education. His falling for his country would mean the loss of a good man, physically speaking, and $5,000. In the name of all the gods at once, then, why not—if it is absolutely necessary to use this man—send him out to farm and let a farmer's son with a less expensive head go overseas. Mr. Butcher would be quite capable on the farm, and could return to the halls of education when the war is over. By all means let us have conservation. There's no provocation for making washers out of gold half crowns while we have plenty of good iron plate.
