

"FORCE"

"Ever notice how a song will go with an audience if it arouses the memory of a pleasant taste?" asked the first-nighter. "Take that little song on the New York roof. Goes something like this:

Everybody's awful good to me,
I'm as sweet as any girl can be,
Don't you know?
They took away my catman,
But instead they gave me "FORCE".
Everybody's awful good to me.

"Tune's nothing extra; no sentiment; nothing particularly funny in it—yet every night the house goes wild. Only one way I can explain it. "FORCE" is a mighty good breakfast food, has a dainty, delicate flavor, and is just the kind of a dish that a man's glad to see what he sits down to breakfast from force of habit and not because he wants to eat. It leaves a mighty pleasant taste and it's the memory of that pleasant taste that causes the audience to appreciate so thoroughly that little song.

"FORCE" is a combination of the whole of the wheat and barley malt. Wheat contains all elements necessary for the sustenance and proper regulation of every organ of the body. It combines these elements in such proportions that no organ is overworked or under exercised in the processes of digestion and assimilation. Because malt is blended with the whole of the stomach as well as for the stomach, it is perfect health. Malt is the best natural tonic. In the manufacture of "FORCE" various chemical changes take place in both the wheat and malt which ordinarily are brought about in the stages of normal and healthy digestion. This food, therefore, is quickly and easily assimilated, but still gives the various organs of the body sufficient exercise to keep them in perfect condition.

"FORCE" requires no cooking and is delicious cold or warm.

EVENING TOILETS.

Empire and Floral Decorations.

Evening dresses this season are wonderful garments full of intricacies. Chiffon and taffeta floral decorations are the most effective trimmings, not to speak of empire embroideries, and these offer enormous scope for the dressmaker's ingenuity. Some of the most beautiful effects are styled semi-empire—that is to say, the waist is defined by a wide belt of embroidery studded with precious stones, sometimes pointed at the waist to accentuate it more than is the case in the real empire style. Then there are full sleeves of chiffon caught with jeweled bands and drooping gracefully over the arm.

Evening gowns of chiffon are very dainty and have the advantage of never going out of style.

A beautiful evening dress recently imported from Paris had a long point ed bodice consisting of beautiful embroidery studded with emeralds. Pouching over the top of this and forming the décolletage was a wide bertha of mesh lace. The skirt was shirred at the waist, falling plainly to the knees, where it was a mass of flounces over accordion plaited green chiffon, the lace here and there caught up with rosettes of the chiffon, having jeweled centers. It had a train of great length.

An attractive garden party gown is here shown. It is of dotted china silk, with a tucked blouse and sleeves that end in a full ruffle at the elbow. The skirt is laid into fine pleats, and the lower edge is trimmed with five folds. There is a strapping of white silk trimmed with jet ornaments. An original feature is the wide lace collar, which droops far over the arms.

MORNING GOWNS.

Many Linens Worn—Smart Linen and Zephyr Gowns.

A great many linens are being worn this year, and these are nice with plain Irish crochet collars. On such a fabric a very fine lawn or lace collar is out of place.

A very smart green linen dress recently seen at Narragansett Pier was made in the following fashion: The skirt at the top was cut corset shape, with strappings arranged to reduce the size of the waist; below the knees came a deep shaped flounce. The bodice was closely tucked and only ornamented with a yoke piece consisting of strappings. The sleeves were treated in the same way, and the neck was finished with a little turnover white linen collar and a black foulard scarf dotted with green.

MORNING GOWN.

Blue and white, pink and white and red and white zephyrs all make up charmingly for country wear, with skirts that just clear the ground.

A dainty morning gown is the one illustrated. The waist is laid in fine tucks and is trimmed with bands of spotted foulard. The collar and frills are of fine mesh. The belt is of the foulard, with a gold buckle.

Consumption is Infectious

Every precaution should be taken to prevent the spread of the "White Plague." Persons coming into contact with consumptives should inhale Catarrhoxone several times each day as it is a powerful destroyer of disease germs, and renders them innocuous. Catarrhoxone is a most efficient preventive and may be thoroughly relied upon to promote expectoration, soothe the cough, and benefit in many ways too numerous to mention. Both from a medical and scientific point of view, Catarrhoxone is the most valuable addition to the armament against consumption. Its merit cannot be too warmly applauded. Sold by all druggists. Two months' treatment, price $1, small size 25c, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Barred Out.

"He seems to be no longer in your set?"
"Hardly," replied Cholly. "He's such a damned bad fellow, y'know."
"How is that?"
"Why, when the fellow bets on a horse wace he sometimes wins, y'know, instead of losing like a gentleman."

Rheumatism is a Constitutional Disease

The pain and localized conditions are mere results of constitutional conditions. Poisoned blood sends its evil influence to various parts of the body, and to cure permanently all must treat it constitutionally. Nothing so completely dispels these poisons from the system as Ferruzone. It makes new blood. It imparts vitality and vigor, enabling the system to throw off the poisons of rheumatism, rheumatism. Ferruzone also fortifies the system against the weakening effects of rheumatism, and cures, not simply relieves, as most medicines do. Sold by McCall & Co.

An Explanation.

"I suppose you will be glad to get away from congress and get a little rest."
"My friend," answered the statesman, "you misinterpret the situation. When a man goes to his own state, he has got to look after elections night and day. He goes home to hustle. If he's lucky, he gets to congress, where is a chance to rest."

The Pain of Sore Feet

Just about the most tantalizing of all pains comes from sore feet. To get relief take the feet in warm water and then rub them with the Nerviline. It penetrates through the pores of the skin, takes out the soreness, reduces swellings, invigorates the tired muscles, tones up the circulation, and prevents the feet from becoming sore again. Nerviline is a protection and safe-guard against the pains and aches of the entire family and cures rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, &c., &c.

Success is full of promise till men get it, and then it is last year's nest from which the bird has flown.

Free medical advice. Men and women suffering from chronic diseases are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., by letter, absolutely without fee or charge. For more than thirty years as chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce has devoted himself to the treatment and cure of chronic forms of disease. Assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, each man a specialist, his success has been phenomenal, ninety-eight per cent in every hundred treated being absolutely and altogether cured. Women have especially availed themselves of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, thereby avoiding the unpleasant questionings, the obnoxious examinations, and odious local treatments considered necessary by some practitioners. Over half a million women have been treated by Dr. Pierce and his staff for diseases peculiar to women, with unvarying success. Write without fear as without fee. Every letter is treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and all answers are sent in plain envelopes, bearing no printing upon them. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, World's Dispensary, Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Work That the Heart Does.

The work of the heart is the circulation of the life giving blood throughout the body. With each stroke or beat of the heart it projects something like six ounces of blood into the bodily conduits, throwing it for a distance of nine feet. That it does sixty-nine times a minute, 4,140 times each hour, 99,360 times in a day, 36,266,400 times in a year and 2,540,337,120 times in a lifetime of seventy years. The blood is propelled by the heart nine feet each minute, 207 yards each minute, seven miles an hour, 169 miles in a day, 61,817 miles in a year and 4,330,120 miles in the seventy years.

The total force exerted by the heart every twenty-four hours has been calculated to be equal to 124 tons—that is, if the whole force expended by the heart in twenty-four hours were gathered into one huge stroke such a power would lift 124 tons one foot off the ground. This being the daily force, that exerted in a year would be equal to 45,260 tons and that in a lifetime of seventy years 3,170,303. Such is the enormous amount of work performed by the human heart, which only weighs eleven ounces and is about the size of the closed fist.

Sailors' Curious Pets.

It has been said of the jackie sailor boy that he is so passionately fond of pets he must have something to love, if it is "only a cockroach in a 'bacsy box.'" This statement was founded in fact, for one of the most remarkable pets of an English ship was a monstrous cockroach. He was four inches long and one inch broad.

One of the sailors had tamed him and built for him a cage with a little kennel in the corner of it. This insect prodigy learned to recognize his master's voice, and when he heard him call would hurry out from his kennel in response. Other odd pets that have been beloved by English sailors was a seal, who had a tank residence on board and a daily round of pleasure and duty, his pleasure seven meals a day, his duty a bath after each meal. Another was a deer, who would take a quail of tobacco with so much delight that the fellow feeling aroused by his appreciative taste made him a general favorite.

According to Formula.

Judge Pennypacker was once asked by his brother Harry during a session of court for the loan of $5. Harry walked to the desk and whispered the request in the judge's ear. The latter, looking down over the top of his glasses without the suggestion of a smile, said loud enough to be heard throughout the room:

"Put your application in writing and present it to the court in a proper manner."

Mr. Pennypacker, thinking the judge's insistence upon regularity to be merely regard for the dignity of the court, wrote out the request and handed it to the clerk of the court, who in turn passed it to the bench. The judge read it quietly and seriously and then interrupted the pending trial long enough to say:

"Application for a loan of $5 made to this court is received and refused."

Stopped For Once.

A citizen from the frontier, who never had been in Washington before, was visiting a friend in the nation's capital and was taken one day to the gallery of the senate while an important measure was under discussion.

A senator was delivering a long, prosy and apparently aimless speech, and the visitor soon grew tired of it.

"Why doesn't he say something worth listening to?" he whispered to his friend.

"Oh, he's merely talking against time."

"What's the good of that?" asked the other, aghast. "Time goes on just the same, doesn't it?"

"I suppose it does," replied his friend, looking at his watch and yawning; "but it doesn't seem to."

His Folded Arms.

"Madge, Harry asked me to be his wife last night."
"Oh, I am so delighted!" replied her friend. "How did it happen?"
"Well, you see, he just asked me, and I said 'Yes,' and then he stood up and folded his arms."

"Well, I never! Was he not more interested than that? Whatever did you do at such treatment?"

"What could I do? You see, I was in his arms when he folded them!"

Saxon State Dinners.

At Saxon dinners slices of bread were the substitutes for plates, and these generally went into the alms basket afterward. Grandees were treated to a silver platter placed beneath the bread, which last in course of time became discarded as people came to recognize the superior advantages of metal and pewter.

Sincerity.

Clerk—I would like to get off early, sir, as my wife wants me to do some odd jobs around the house while it is light enough.

Manager—Can't possibly do it. Clerk—Thank you, sir. You are very kind.

A Diagnosis.

Myer—I wonder what causes concussion of the brain.
Ryder—A collision between two trains of thought, I suppose.

Messrs. C. C. Richards & Co.

Gentlemen,—In June, '98, I had my hand and wrist bitten and badly mangled by a vicious horse. I suffered greatly for several days and the tooth cuts refused to heal, until your agent gave me a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT, which I began using, and the effect was magical. In five hours the pain had ceased, and in two weeks the wounds had completely healed and my hand and arm were as well as ever.
