Paris Dictates and Canada Adopts the New Fashion

This is an entirely new design, made for the prevailing style of the skirt.

The French Ripple gives a set to the overskirt that supersedes all other cuts.

As the ripple is always in advance it is almost impossible to catch the foot in the flounce, which is very different from the ordinary underskirt. It is very full in the flounce, giving great freedom in walking.

Wm Taylor, $21.30

G. E. Asker, 3.55

Coun. McLean from Fire Com. submitted report recommending that three additional hydrants be installed as follows: One at corner of Argyle and Central Sts., one on Dufferin St. at corner of proposed street running south, one on Rosebury St.

Report was adopted.

Coun. Taylor submitted report recommending that Wm. Taylor's wages be increased to $1.75 per day after June 1st. Adopted.

Coun. Andrew from Water and Sewerage Com. recommended that water and sewerage systems be extended along new street running westerly from Prince Wm. St. to Angus Dewar's residence and that the sewer be extended along McMillan Ave.

Coun. McLennan thought that before the report of the committee was adopted the council should consider the question of calling for tenders for all work in installing water and sewer services. He had always been opposed to the town doing it by day's work and felt that they were losing money. It was impossible for the engineer to watch two or three gangs of men in different parts of the town. If the work were given out by contract the engineer would be free to supervise the work and better results would follow.

Coun. Andrew said that he had already asked a contractor to figure on the proposed extensions but so far had not received any word from him. He was in favor of asking for tenders for the larger contracts but saw difficulties in the way in regard to the installing of water and sewerage services and other small jobs. It would be difficult at times to secure a man to undertake a small job which was required to be done at once.

Coun. McLennan said that tenders could be called for all work during the year. The prices per foot for excavating to vary according to the nature of the soil.

Coun. Taylor said that his experience in the past had not been very favorable to the contract idea. The contract work had turned out bad and had to be done over in a good many cases.

Coun. McLennan said that if the engineer were free to supervise all work there would be no trouble along that line.

Coun. Doherty said that he favored letting the trenching work out by contract and the engineer could lay the pipe.

Coun. Mowat also was in favor of this method.

Coun. McLean said that contract work was now generally recognized as the best and cheapest for larger jobs but thought the town could handle the smaller jobs to better advantage to all concerned.

Coun. Jardine expressed himself as being strongly opposed to the present system of day's work. He felt the town was losing money by it, and would like to see all work given out by contract.

On motion the report was referred back to the committee for further report.

Coun. Andrew made a recommendation that the applications for water motor service be not granted to C. S. O. Crockett, Duncan and McLennan and Anslow Bros., and that of Wm. Storey be granted.

Coun. Andrew explained that the motor for Wm. Storey was only used for drying the face after shaving and the quantity of water used per day was not more than four buckets.

Coun. Taylor thought that all should be treated alike. If one party were granted a motor service the others should be.

Coun. McLennan said that the Council should go very cautiously in this matter. He inquired what rates had been paid by Mr. Storey when motor was in use before.

In the discussion which followed it was brought out that nothing had been collected for this service and that no rate had ever been fixed by the Council.

The report of the committee was referred back for further report.

Mr. Dale was heard before the Council in the matter of insurance against liability for damages resulting from accidents to town employees. The matter was left over for further consideration.

Meeting then adjourned.

Rome, May 21.—Pope Pius X. has issued a decree entrusting the interpretation of the Bible to the Benedictine Order. This is the most important decision yet announced as the outcome of the Biblical commission appointed towards the end of the pontificate of Leo XIII. The Vulgate is the ancient Latin version of the Scriptures; and the Pope's dictate, while regarded as a bold one, is hailed with satisfaction by many both within and outside the church of Rome.

ANOTHER ARREST.

Night Agent at Matapedia in Trouble.

FINED $75.00

For Appropriating Tickets from I. C. R. Station at Matapedia.

Night agent Geo. A. Morin of the I. C. R., Matapedia, was arrested last week by I. C. R. Inspector Noble and charged with stealing tickets. He was taken to New Carlisle on Friday and pleaded guilty before Judge Tremblay, who imposed a fine of $75.00 and costs. The fine was paid. Mr. John Hall Kelly appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Flynn for the defence.

While Noble was at Matapedia on the 23rd inst., looking for a missing money package, he found two tickets in the possession of Morin, the return portion of one of them having been used from River du Loup to Matapedia. Noble's suspicions were aroused and on tracing up the stubs in the office found they were marked "Matapedia to Fraser's" and "Matapedia to Flatlands" respectively. The audit office of the I. C. R. had only received returns according to the stubs while the tickets were marked for a much greater mileage. Had it not been for Inspector Noble's discovery the theft would not have been detected, such was the ingenuity of the scheme. This is perhaps the first time a matter of this kind has been discovered and in all probability a more rigid inspection will be enforced all along the line.

A Narrow Escape From Drowning

Mr. Richard Murray, lumberman, and seven of his men have arrived in town after a perilous run on Main River. One of the party, Jerry Lantaigne, tells of the high frenzied and rapid run to Big Cross Point about 50 miles from town. Their scow was too heavily loaded having seven horses and a lot of lumber supplies on board. At this point there is a fast rapid and a dangerous circling eddy at the bottom. Here the scow was running twenty miles an hour, when, without the slightest warning it went under, leaving eight men and seven horses struggling in 30 feet of rapid water. Then every man looked out for himself, and few in the party had learned the art of swimming. Some caught the tail and mane of the horses and were safely carried to shore one hundred yards below. Others clung to pieces of plank. One of the party was a sick Indian who was quite unable to move. He was picked up 1 1/2 miles below still lying on his bed of straw. Lantaigne was in the water 45 minutes and was going down for the third time under a drift of logs when saved by Babcock, one of the rescued. They all feel thankful to have escaped where many others have met their fate, and admit that another lesson on running this river has been learned.

'Good Words for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy'

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever. This remedy is for sale by all druggists."
