

THE BEST ESTATE.

BY CHARLES SWAIN.
It hath its own estate—
And it hath its wealth untold;
Of fortune to be great, Here's a coin surpassing gold.

Which way fortune leans, Makes not happiness secure;
And hath little means—
A heart is always poor.

The greatest still enthral, Very hath its high compeer;
We enter palace halls, Sens are not exempt from tears.

Aly robe and beggar's coat,
The and sword, the plume and plough, A grave of equal note—
But in the eternal "Now!"

Pointment tracks the proud, Vest 'neath defeat may fall;
The rich, the country crown Are's calamity for all.

To house that honour makes—A poor is a thing divine;
And precedence takes—A spirit make the shrine!

So yet a generous heart, Fast and contented mind;
All death consent to part At, which friend to friend doth bind.

Terred from the life within Not by the life without;
Always something to begin Life in faith and life in doubt!

Thou Truth—though black appears God path her steps have trod—By friend in other spheres;
In the world of God.

The Great American Hair Tonic.

Bogle's celebrated Hyperion Fluid, for the growth and preservation of the Hair is well known to be without a rival on this continent. Hundreds of imitations have started into an ephemeral existence since the introduction of this unrivalled Hair restorative, and their dooms been sealed, whilst Bogle's, Hyperion Hair Fluid, with a popularity never attained by any other article, goes on "conquering and to conquer." There is no malady, which can affect the Hair but can be cured by this incomparable preparation. To ladies it is invaluable; and on children's heads it lays the foundation of a good head of Hair. It is now presented by Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, and commands an extensive sale throughout Europe.
Bogle's Electric Hair Dye converts red or grey hair into a beautiful black or brown, the moment it is applied, literally dyeing the hair without staining the skin and leaves the Hair soft and glossy without injuring its texture in the least; a decided superiority over all other Hair dyes.

Bogle's Anole Shaving compound renders that usually unpleasant operation (shaving) a decided luxury.
Bogle's Hebeationa removes Freckles and tan from the face in the shortest possible time, and is acknowledged to be the very best article for beautifying the complexion.

THE GREAT RESTORATIVE.

FEVER AND AGUE CURED BY DR. M'LANE'S LIVER PILLS.

Mr. Jonathan Hougham, of West Union, Park County, Illinois, writes to the proprietors that he had suffered greatly from a severe and protracted attack of Fever and Ague, and was completely restored to health by the use of the Liver Pills alone. These Pills, unquestionably possess great tonic properties, and can be taken with decided advantage for many diseases requiring invigorating remedies; but the Liver Pills stand pre-eminant as a means of restoring a disorganized Liver to healthy action; hence the great celebrity they have attained. The numerous formidable diseases arising from a diseased Liver, which so long baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of the United States, are now easily cured, thanks to the study and perseverance of the distinguished physician whose name this great medicine bears—a name which will descend to posterity as one deserving of gratitude. This invaluable medicine should always be kept within reach; and on the appearance of the earliest symptoms of diseased Liver, it can be safely and usefully administered.

Purchasers will please be careful to ask for Dr. Mc Lane's Celebrated Liver Pills, and take none else. There are other Pills, purporting to be Liver Pills; also his Celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and Canadas.

Row, BROTHERS, now.—Here is the scene of Moore's undying Canadian Boat-song, which he wrote on the 36th day of his descent of the St.
Lawrence from Kingston. Thirty-three years after he wrote this song, I had the pleasure of showing Moore the original manuscript, which he had entirely forgotten. He had pencilled the lines, nearly as they stand in his works, in the blank page of a book which happened to be in his canoe, from whence he transcribed them at night. The sight of the original copy of these Lamentous lines, recalling youthful days and happy associations, produced a great effect on the poet, who alluded in a touching manner to his passage down the rapids of life.—Weld's Vacation Tour.

NEWS BY THE ENGLISH MAIL.

ADVANCE OF THE ALLIES FROM EUPATORIA.

CRIMEA, Oct. 25.—On the 22d the allies, 30,000 to 40,000 strong, advanced from Eupatoria on Toulant. They arrived on the 23d at the heights of Ashaga Jamin; but seeing the movement of the Russian Lancers on their left flank, they retired behind Aktatchi. Between Kinburn and Nicolaieff nothing new has occurred.

THE FLEET IN THE DNIESTER.

ST. PETERSBURG, Friday, October 26.—The whole of the militia has been ordered on the march to reinforce the army of the South under General Luder.
Two liners, sixteen frigates, and some gun boats have entered the Dnieper. The Car is at present at Elizabetgrad.

THE DEFENCE OF KARS.

TREBIZOND, Oct.—The Russians are supposed to be preparing to attack Kars again.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The official report of the victory of the Turks at Kars, on the 24th September, has arrived here. The defence was most heroic. No English officers were wounded.

GENERAL MOURAVIEFF'S ACCOUNT OF THE BATTLE OF KARS.

(From the Invalide Russe of October 18.)

General Mouravieff announces, under date of Sept. 30th that, having been informed that the Turkish troops had received reinforcements in the neighbourhood of Batoum, and that the enemy purposed effecting a movement simultaneously advancing from Erzeroum on Kars, he resolved to attack the latter fortress on the 29th. Three columns were told off for this purpose. There were also formed intermediate columns, under the command of Lieut-General Prince Gasparino, and also a general reserve.
Lastly, a special detachment was to act according to special arrangements.
The columns advanced to the assault in the greatest order, and with the greatest intrepidity.
The attack of Major-General Bazine was crowned with success; but, unfortunately, almost at the commencement of the onslaught several of the principal chiefs and commanders under their orders were killed or wounded. The result of this was, that the unity of the operations were broken, and the most brilliant efforts during a sanguinary combat lasting several hours could not re-establish it.

General Mouravieff having convinced himself of this, caused the reserve to advance, and, under its protection, ordered the assaulting columns to effect their retreat.

The obstinacy with which our troops fought is beyond all praise.

During the combat they took from the Turks 14 different flags and pennons, and either spiked or dismounted several of their guns.

Our loss is not yet exactly known, but it is very considerable. The enemy must also have sustained heavy loss.

Amongst our generals, three are grievously wounded, and one less dangerously.

THE RUSSIAN EMPEROR.

The Oesterreichische Correspondenz states that the Emperor Alexander has left Nicolaieff for Elizabetgrad, situated to the North of that place, and about 130 English miles from it.

FRANCE.

The health of the Empress is now better.
She was playing at billiards the whole of Tuesday morning.

Madame Histari returned on Wednesday from her journey into the provinces. She will give an extraordinary representation at the Grand Opera on behalf of the army in the Crimea.

The following is from Marseilles:—"The embarkations for the East continue here. Within a few days about 10,000 men have left our port, and the local journals announce that from 3000 to 4000 of the 82d Regiment, the artillery, and the siege train, arrived from the 15th to the 17th for the same destination."

LANDING OF THIRTY THOUSAND MEN NEAR PEREKOP.

VIENNA, SUNDAY EVENING.—The Oes-terreichische Correspondenz asserts, on the authority of a telegraphic communication from Odessa of the 27th, that, at the time the allied fleets attacked Kinburn, 30,000 men were landed on the Peninsula of Ten-dra. Nothing certain was known of the destination of these troops. Tendra is a long spit of land a little west of Perekop.

DESTRUCTION OF OTCHAKOFF BY THE RUSSIANS.

The following telegraphic despatch has been received from Rear-Admiral Sir E.
Lyons:—

"OFF THE MOUTH OF THE DNIESTER, Oct. 18.—This morning the enemy blew up his fortifications on Otchakoff Point, mounting 23 guns, which were assailable by our mortar-vessels."

[Otchakoff, but for its strategical position, would be considered at this day as an unimportant village. Kinburn, the Kilburn of the Tartars, is not even a village. These two points, previous to the present war, were scarcely fortified, and the most recent accounts only mentioned the existence of one battery at Otchakoff; but, since the bombardment of Odessa, the Russians com-prehended the necessity of defending that passage, and the siege of Sebastopol has taught us the promptitude with which the enemy can raise fortifications, and make up in that respect for lost time. The capture of these two fortresses opens the passage of the mouth of the Dnieper to the Anglo-French squadrons, and in consequence the road to Nicolaieff and Kherson. The occupation of Otchakoff, moreover, permits the despatch of a land expedition against the first named town. Nicolaieff forms the point of a triangle, having the mouth of the Dnieper for basis, and of which the citadel of Otchakoff and the town of Kherson occupy the other extremities. The roads which conduct to them do not appear to offer any serious obstacles. Kherson, the capital of the government of the same name, was for many years the central point of the naval and commercial resources of Russia in the Black Sea. There were to be found at the same time arsenals and dockyards.
Sebastopol and Nicolaieff successively deprived it of its importance as a military establishment. Later it was abandoned by commerce in favour of Odessa, and its population which once comprised from 14,000 to 18,000 souls, fell to 6,000 or 8,000.
Kherson has no other importance than that of being situated on the high road which leads from the centre of the empire to Perekop. The allied fleets are at this moment at anchor in the depths of the mouth of the Dnieper. The distance from that to Kherson is but 15 leagues. Is it the intention of the allied admirals to press on towards that town? We are unable to reply, but the mouths of the Dnieper offer two or three principal branches of which the medium depth is from 22 to 25 English feet. At Kherson the river is one mile broad and 30 feet in depth, and it would be no small triumph to destroy the creation of Potemkin, which would disperse its 12,000 inhabitants, and would transform into ruins its dockyards, arsenals, barracks, and magazines. The success at Kinburn facilitates every other enterprise in that direction, and will keep in check all the Russian forces scattered over the country from Odessa to Perekop.]
