The Law of Primogeniture. LONDON, April 29 .- The defeat of the law of primogeniture so that real estate undisposed of by will shall be shared by all the children of the deceased owner, has not raised such a violent Radical outcry as might have been expected. When election time comes it will be one of the strongest weapons used against the House of Lords, but just now the action of the peers excites little comment.

London, April 29 .- The postal savings bank system, which is already the most popular form of investment in England, has now been brought to still higher perfection. All accounts are kept in the centra! office in London and withdrawals are possible only after sending notice there. The new arrangements for telepraphic drafts are now so perfect that depositors in the neighborhood of London can collect their money at the branch postoffice within 40 minutes, or in the most distant parts of the kingdom within an hour of making the demand. The new facilities are already leading to a great increase in the amount of ### Disestablishment.

London, April 29 .- The Welsh Disestablishment Bill as it now stands pleases the Weish fairly well, though more advanced Welsh members have some minor improvements to suggest. No opposition inside the ranks of the majority has been discovered, and it is certain that the bill will pass a second reading by at least the normal strength of that majority. Unopply there is only a faint prospect of its g more. The Opposition are going to ght it tooth and nail, and under the increatibly stupid rules of the Commons that been getting the worst of it inside the councils of Opposition leaders. The complications in the way, however, are these: The overwhelming bulk of Liberals grow sick at the mere thought of Chamberlain's return to them, and there could hardly be a deal with him save by the sacrifice of home rule, which both the Radicals and the Irish resent to the death. So the things remain in the mysterious demand of underhand intrigue, very well worth watching, but Pardridge, the Chicago Grain Specunot promising immediate results.

Beauty Behind the Bars. LONDON, April 29. - Herbert Gladstone's proposal to remove a portion of the grating | The Coal and Coke Operatives' Strike in front of the ladies' gallery in the House of Commons has created as great a disturbance among the members as a suggestion to unseat the Queen from the throne. No legislative body in the world, not even the House of Lords, is such a slave to precedent as the British House of Commons in ail matters affecting its private affairs. Lord Randolph Churchill is loudest in protest, but so much opposition has developed

DES MOINES, Ia., April 29.-Kelly's California industrial army is comfortably housed to-night in a vacant stove foundry east of the town, and has provisions for two days. At the end of that time the citizens expect the army to continue its journey. Kelly's fol-lowers found a night of hardship, and if possible a worse day. The nineteenmile march from Van Meter was made in a darkness so complete that men ten feet apart could not see each other. Many lost their way, and Kelly found himself alone at daybreak eighteen miles north of Des Moines. Rain fell during the night and the men suffered great discomfort.

By 5 o'clock this evening 500 of the 1,100 in the army had assembled and the march through the city began. The army reached the unoccupied stove foundry just east of the city at 7 o'clock, and supper was then served. It was the first meal in 24 hours, and the men after their march of 27 miles fully appreciated it.
