In Praise of Checkers.

[Chicago Chronicle.] A man must serve his time to every

Save censure-critics all are ready -Byron. made. As a mathematical game checkers ranks higher than chess, as it requires greater exactness. The game is several hundred years old, and is a proruct of the English-speaking world almost exclusively. Edgar A. Poe, our talented poet, said of checkers: "The unostentatious game of checkers is superior to all the elaborate frivolity of chess." There are more than three dozen text-books on the game, and there are several scores of regular weekly and monthly publications treating of new discoveries and developments. The Mitchell Library of Glasgow, Scotland, recently spent several hundred dollars for checker boards for general circulation. The colleges in Great Britain and the United States have recently taken up the game as a mental recreation, and the houses of parliament have a room and club exclusively devoted to the game, which is equipped with text-books and current publications on the game. The game is recognized as an exact science, and the greatest of its class ever invented. It is no uncommon thing in New England, Old England, Australia or Scotland for checker tournaments at once notified as to the tesult. to be held, when there are from 75 to 100 players, and recently in London there was a match between two clubs in which there were over 80 checkerboards used-160 players!

Washington, Nov. 12. - That the anthracite coal mine owners will resist to the utmost every effort to make the recognition of the United Mine Workers of America an issue in the arbitration, which is now in progress, is made evident by the replies to the statement of President John Mitchell, casion. Addresses were delivered by the of the miners' organization, which clergy and other gentlemen present. The have been filed with the strike commission. AGREE WITH MR. BAER. The reply for the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company to President Mitchell's statement to the anthracite coal strike commission is signed by W. H. Truesdale, president of the company, who says that the company owns 25 anthracite collieries, and employs 12,000 workmen in this branch of its business. Mi Truesdale, like Mr. Baer, objects to making the recognition of the union one of the issues to be considered by the commission, saying that in the proposition made by the company for arbitration one of the express conditions was that "the findings of the commission should govern the condi-tions of employment between it and its employes." He adds. "This company unequivocally asserts that it will UNDER NO CONDITION recognize or enter into any agreement with the association known as the United Mine Workers of America, or any branch thereof. Nor will it per-mit said association or its officers to dictate the terms and conditions under which it shall conduct its business." Referring to the recent strike, Mr. Truesdale says that he is reliably informed that 80 per cent of its employes were opposed to the strike, but were forced to enter upon it by a majority vote of the mine workers in other fields.

Mr. Truesdale declares that it is impossible to adopt a uniform rate to be paid to the miners for a unit of coal mined at all mines. The declaration is made that the anthracite miners as a rule do not work as many hours a day and the Pennsylvania companies as do the bituminous miners, and the cover the same ground as the other opinion is advanced that if the wages statements.

Nominations will take place Nov. 26 and polling Dec. 3. MINISTER OF MARINE.

The Minister of Marine goes to Montreal tomorrow morning, and at night will address a mass meeting in MADE AT OTTAWA the Delville Theater there under auspices of the East End Liberal Club. He will likely announce that important Result in the Opening of Two additions will be made to the Department of Marine, including the control of navigable rivers, dredging and kindred work. It is even said that canals may pass under the new minister's direction.

As to the fiscal policy, Mr. Prefontaine will proclaim himself a moderate protectionist, as he has always been. and one who favors a revision of the

NEW ELECTIONS. Writs have been issued for a new election in Maisonneuve and Argenteuil, Quebec, and Yarmouth, Nova Scotia.

Raymond Prefontaine goes back for re-election, consequent upon his appointment to the Cabinet. Argenteuil was rendered vacant by taine's acceptance of office vacates the death of the late Dr. Christie. Yarmouth is opened by the appointment of Mr. Flint to the clerkship of the House of Commons.

of the anthracite miners had been less than that of other workingmen they would have found employment elsewhere, which they did not do.

MINERS COULD SAVE MONEY. On the point of general prosperity, he says that prior to the introduction of agitators and mischief makers, the anthracite workers were on an average as prosperous, comfortable and con-tented as any body of workers in similar employment in this country. The wages, it is added, are such that frugal employes have saved a substantial amount every year.

Mr. Truesdale resists the demand for a reduction of 20 per cent in hours of labor, saying that no branch of business employing thousands of men can hope to compete successfully in the markets of the world if its hours of labor are restricted. WEIGHING COAL.

He declares that there is no unjust discrimination in the weighing of coal, as it is measured rather than weighed, and he asserts that the demand is "out of all reason, and its effect, so far as this company is concerned is a demand for an additional increase in the wages now paid miners of from 5 to 40 per cent." The present method of cent." The present method of measurement is declared to be the result of long usage and fair to all concerned.

PRESIDENT OLYPHANT'S REPLY. PRESIDENT OLYPHANT'S REPLY.

President Olyphant, of the Delaware and Hudson Company, in his reply, states that the wages paid by his company are just and adequate. He also says that "those of its employes who perform contract or piece work, as a matter of their own volition, work only about six hours, and take numerous holidays without the consent or approval of this respondent, and their earnings by hours of actual work are, therefore, much higher than those in any similar employment." Denial those in any similar employment." Denial is made of all the allegations relative to the demand for shorter hours, and it is contended that such a reduction necessarily would increase the price of coal. While admitting that the mine owners sell their coal by the ton, he says that the coal thus sold is a very different article from that taken out of the mine. Hence he every against the change the conductor fell upon him and smote him sorely, throwing Hence, he argues against the change from the present system of payment to that of paying by the ton. OPPOSED TO ARBITRATION.

President Olyphant also takes exception to the proposition to arbitrate the question of the recognition of the miners' union. This position is taken on the ground that the organization seeks to control the entire fuel supply of the county; that as the union is unincorporated, it is incapable of making a binding contract, and that the association has not shown its ability to control its own members. He says his company has no desire to

PRESIDENT FOWLER.

President T. P. Fowler speaks for the Scranton Coal Company and the Elk Hill Coal and Iron Company. He says they own ten collieries and employ 5,000 men. He asserts that if the average wage earned by the anthracite piece workers is less than that paid to worlders in other employments, it is because "they fix their own hours of labor and the mount of their corners and the amount of their earnings, without any regard for the interests or wishes of their employers, and in total disregard of the earnings and the welfare of every other class of workers." He declares that the men in the mines do not work to exceed four or five hours a day. All other charges made by Mr. Mitchell are combatted, and on the question of miners' unions Mr. Fowler says: "We deny that agreements between employers and emploves through workingmen's organizations are beneficial and successful in the bituminous coal fields or elsewhere, and assert that any such agreement as method of regulating production would be and is injurious to the best interests of the public." The statements made for the Lehigh Doctor's Incomes in England.

[Medical Record.] The British Medical Journal ventur-ed an estimate of the average income that might be expected by the general practitioner in England, and put it at £400 to £500. The estimate was copied into several daily papers and has produced a large crop of corresponde teeming with ridicule and indignation.
The general practitioners, who ought to know, declare that only a small pro portion of their number earn so much even after years of arduous work. The competition brought about by the overcrowded state of the profession is, they declare, so great that it is a cruelty to induce men by inflated estimates to enter it.

Forehanded Man.

We have all admired that forehanded man who on a crowded car constitutes himself a sort of assistant conductor, and from the rear platform gives the motorman signals to go ahead or stop while the conductor is collecting fares in the interior. We have envied his knowledge of bell-cords and signals, and marveled at the easy familiarity of his intercourse with the great man who rules the destiny of the car. We been consumed with a desire to enact his role, the ambition has haunted us by day, but now we see that it was folly for us to even dream of such a thing. One of us has tried it, and grievous was his fall. Even as high soaring Icarus braved on waxen wing the white-hot glory of the sun, even as ill-conditioned Phaeton sought to conduct the flaming chariot of his sire, so dared George Farber to attempt to manipulate the bell-cord of a transit car. And as Icarus tumbled headlong to the sea, and Apollo's reckless son was hurled to his doom, so fell George Farber at the hands of the outraged conductor. For, all unacquainted with the uses of the various cords, Farber persisted in pulling the wrong one, and before the captain of the car could him from the car he had sought to guide and cutting his head with window-glass. Never more will he wish to signal the motorman nor envy him who does. His is a lofty station, an attribute of genius to which we cannot aspire. But we will admire him all the more—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
