PEOPLE FAINTED IN ARMORIES

Heat at Coronation Service Yesterday Became Intense.

A GREAT CROWD THERE LA FOLLETTE OUT

Impressive Scene as Choirs and Clergy Moved in Procession—A Splendid Spectacle.

Most impressive and altogether fitting were the coronation services held yesterday at noon in the armories.

In spite of a heavy shower of rain just before the services common to the ting were the coronation services field the week of the coronation services field the service began in the armories.

In spite of a heavy shower of rain just before the services commenced the place was packed, and all listened with rapt attention to the excellent music furnished by the massed choirs and the Secenth Regiment Ban. Mot in years has so apparaturous and inspiring a service been held in Shortly after II o'clock the crowd. Shortly after II o'clock the crowd. Shortly after II o'clock the crowd began to assemble in front of the armories. At II:30 there were at least a thousand people waiting for admission. Then the rain came. A heavy shower compelled the officers in charge to open the doors, and in rainly because the service began the place was filled to overflowing.

After the shower the sun shone brilliantly, and the weather became extremely hot. The armories, not built for the entertainment of such a crowd, proved to be most indequately verificated, and for half an hear except the recent that in many quarters.

The heat was most intense where the choirs were massed in the southwest corner, and at least haif a dozen lady members of the chor had to be carried to the most intense where the choirs were massed in the southwest corner, and at least haif a dozen lady members of the chor had to be carried to the most intense where the choirs were massed in the southwest corner, and at least haif a dozen lady members of the chor had to be carried to the most intense where the choirs were massed in the southwest corner, and at least haif a dozen lady members of the chor had to be carried to the main body of the armories, not in the main body of the armories had been been readed and in main and by the time the Recessional byne "Coronacy" when the statem of the Wissian Tati. The Prince's Homage.

After the crowning of his majesty by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Prince of Wales paid homage, kneeling and kis-sing his father on the left cheek. Following the example of the late King Edward, the King leaned forward, drew his son towards him and grasping his hand, kissed the boy affectionately.

Thousands, anxious for a sight of the procession, kept an all-night vigil. At dawn they presented a tired and bedraugled appearance surrounded by Hearty Cheers.

The National Authem concluded the ceremony, and when it was finished, Rev. Dr. Ross called for three cheers for the King and Queen, and they were given with a right good will.
The Seventh Regiment paraded for the service, a very large number of the officers and men taking part. Colonel Campbell and his officers were delighted with the turnout.

Curiously enough, the greater the number of places about the store in which this June phenomenon is observed, the pleasanter is the weather. As you will understand when you discover how very attractive and timely the merchandise offerings are, and what a decided downpour there has been in prices. Many local showers are reported for the day and the skies are still heavy; a regular downpour is promised for Saturday. Looks as though the economy crop of summer buying for family and home would have a wonderfully rich yield.

Two Big Specials Today and Saturday for Men

50 Two-Piece Suits at $5.60 700 Soft Front Shirts at 69c

The above prices are much below the Smallman & Ingram standard, and if regular are never considered in making our selections, but when the makers come to us with stock lines and quantities to clear, we do not hesitate at handling Shirts. Suits or any other article of merchandise that measures up to our quality standard, because the price is half or a third less than merchants who placed orders early in the season have to ask for the same garments. The quantity never sticks us. We will take all they have if the goods are up to the standard and the price low enough. The last Shirt deal we made was a pretty big one-1,200 Shirts-but they all went. This time we have only 700, and we think they are, if anything, a shade better than the last. Even if they are as good, our customers will be satisfied and we can guarantee that. So come today or Saturday, as these should be the biggest days in Shirts in our history. They are mostly striped (black and white), the most popular styles, soft negligee and pleated fronts, full regular sized stock, long sleeves and body and big and roomy Shirts made to sell at double this price, and from one of the best Shirt makers in Canada; all fast washing colors. We consider this the very best Shirt deal we have yet made. See display in Richmond street window.
