*H. Irwin, manager of the Merchants Bank, Ingersoll, who has been transferred to Sherbrooke, received a testimonial the other night to the esteem in which he is held in that town. A number of his friends gathered in the law office of Thomas Wells, and presented him with a cheque for $125, and an address, assuring him of the good-will of the people of Ingersoll, and their regret at his departure. Mr. Irwin made a feeling reply, in which he referred to his long residence in Ingersoll, and his pleasant associations with the town.

*While opening a drain in Brantford, Friday afternoon, the earth caved in on one of the workmen, Mr. J. Hill. He narrowly escaped death, for the earth piled up around him as high as his shoulders. A fellow workman, J. Ames, was near at hand, and with considerable difficulty managed to dig Mr. Hill out. It was found that he had sustained serious injuries.

*J. Miller, of Aylmer, has sold the Mrs. R. A. Larn property, on South street, Aylmer, containing two acres of land and a fine brick house, to Angus Moore, of Glenora. Price, $1,700.

*Mr. Wm. Wellwood, of Fordyce, has sold his fine farm to Mr. John Joynt, of Lucknow. There are 200 acres, one hundred improved, and the price was $7,500.

Boughner.

In the neglect to have the theatre comfortably heated for matinee guests, it is a good performance that will please under the conditions that existed Saturday, yet Dan Quinlan's merry-makers were fairly successful. Keller Mack is a whole host in himself, and there are excellent comedians, whose good points are brought out by the old-time interlocutor, Quinlan. Keller Mack's Blackville husband was a bit of fun that brought the curtain down amid warm applause upon the first part. The second part comprised a turn by Nat Gill, famous as a ventriloquist, clog dancing, singing, banjo playing, and other specialties. Emile Subers' absurdities, and a dancing diversion were included.

Eva Booth's Farewell.
The farewell meeting of Commissioner Eva Booth, of the Salvation Army, will take place in the London Vaudeville Theatre, Sunday, Nov. 6th, and not in the Grand Opera, as previously announced. This will be Miss Booth's last visit to London, hence it is advisable that those who have not yet heard this brilliant speaker, should avail themselves of the opportunity. Miss Booth is beyond question one of the most talented women who have ever appeared before the public. She has fought some of the Salvation Army's most difficult battles, and during her lengthened stay in Canada has brought the work of the Army to the front in a remarkable manner, and largely through her efforts the movement is much more widely known, and appreciated by all classes of people.

Glencoe Girl's Death.
Detroit papers announce the death of a young woman named Sarah McDonald, aged 19, at Grace Hospital in that city, on Saturday morning, under circumstances which lead to the belief that she was the victim of a criminal operation. Letters found in the trunk of deceased show that she went to Detroit from near Glencoe a little over a year ago and found employment as a waitress in hotels and restaurants. On her death-bed the unfortunate woman refused to tell the doctors who her parents were, saying "My mother thinks me dead, and thank God she thinks so." An inquest will be held.

Fall of a Meteor.
A meteor fell from the heavens and struck the earth at the corner of Grosvenor and St. George streets early on Saturday morning. Its fall was observed by P. C. McLaughlin, who stood about a block away at the time. It was afterwards picked up by P. C. MacDonald, in whose possession it now is. The meteor weighs about three pounds, and is seventeen inches in circumference.

RAILROAD MEN
WILL BE THERE
Representative Hall to Expose Hyman

CHALLENGES MR. HYMAN
Liberal Candidate Invited to Appear on Platform at Jubilee Rink To-night.

Signs multiply that there will be a big attendance of Conservatives and others interested in good government at the rally to be held to-night at the Jubilee Rink, on Lyle street. The meeting will be specially interesting to railway men because Mr. Harvey Hall, the well known parliamentary representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Railway Conductors, Locomotive Firemen, Railroad Trainmen and Railway Telegraphers, will deliver an address. Mr. Hall was present at the meeting of the Railway Committee of the House when Hon. C. S. Hyman, by his action in leaving the chair, worked a serious injustice to all railway men, their widows and orphans. He will lay before the meeting full details of the events of that day, and railroad men should be especially interested in hearing how the men elected to office and to private posts by their votes proved false to his trust when the interests of a great corporation were opposed to those of the workmen. Hon. Mr. Hyman has been invited to be present to refute the statements of Mr. Hall, if he can.
Other speakers will be Mr. W. J. Hanna, the eloquent member for West Hamilton, and the local candidate, Mr. William Gray, the man of the people.

HON. MR. HYMAN
ON THE "MUSKOKA"
Minister Without Portfolio Not Content to Divide Private Car

The private car, which is apparently now the complete possession of Hon. Mr. Hyman, is not the same car which he originally travelled about the country, since becoming a Minister without portfolio.
The car in which the honorable gentleman went to the Maritime Provinces was the "Muskoka," one of the finest cars on the railway systems of Canada. It was the joint possession of Mr. Wainwright, vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, and Hon. Mr. Hyman, but it is understood that Mr. Wainwright, to whom private cars are of longer acquaintance, placed the car almost entirely at Hon. Mr. Hyman's disposition.
But this condition of affairs could not go on. The Acting Minister must, like the others of his colleagues, have a car of his own. And now he has it. The car attends upon his every movement. It comes and remains and goes at the will and pleasure of Hon. Mr. Hyman, and the comfort and luxury of every detail.

seen during its four-months' run in New York last season. The book of "The Billionaire" was written by Harry H. Smith, who stands at the head of American humorous writers for the stage. The music is by Gustave Kerker, who made a reputation through his score for the Belle of New York. The story of "The Billionaire" is a satire on a new type in American life, the man possessing so much money he has to resort to all sorts of expedients to get rid of it. The character of John Doe, the bil- lionaire, will be played by Thomas Q. Seabrooke.

MR. JAMES J. CORBETT IN "FALS."
Mr. James J. Corbett, assisted by Mr. H. Davis and Inez Macaulay, have returned to the drama, and will present the new comedy-drama, success, by Edmund Day, entitled "Fals." The story is described as one of heart interest, generously interpreted with good acting and wholesome comedy. The author is said to have woven into the plot some startling and novel effects. Among these are beautiful Adirondack scenes with a sparkling cascade and running brook of real water, and also the last act representing an interior scene which is a marvel of construction and dazzling beauty. This attraction will be at the Grand for two nights, to-morrow and Wednesday nights.

TWELFTH NIGHT.
The announcement that Miss Marie Wainwright will appear at the Grand in a revival of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," on Thursday night, is spoken of as one of the great events of the season. Miss Wainwright is said to be the acknowledged exponent of Viola, and in her support are said to be artists identified with Shakespearean plays. Election returns will be received over special wire at the Grand and announced before, during and after the performance of "Twelfth Night."

A CANADIAN STAKES CAREER.
A right royal welcome is expected for the clever Canadian actress, Miss Roselle Knott, in her extended tour of the Dominion with "Cousin Kate." Last season Miss Knott brought us the "Kestrel" adaptation of "Charles Major's" novel, "When Knightwood Was in Flower," in which she played the part of Mary Tudor. Her success in that difficult role was marked, and it is said that her work in the modern
