Canada there is every prospect of success, there are still objections on the part of some influential members here, and the subject is under the consideration of the council of the association. On Monday a meeting of some members of the general committee was held at the rocms of the Geological society; but there appeared to be no general disposition to oppose or super sede the meeting in Canada. A resolution was however carried by four votes, those who had expressed their opinions not voting, that a memorial should be addressed to the council requesting that the whole matter should be reconsidered by them, and making suggestions hat a meeting shall as usual be held in England, and that a deputation shall be sent to Canada. It is becoming probable that the council will find the means of conciliating all interests by holding a meeting in England, transacting the formal business, and adjourning to Montreal. The Canadian authorities are already canvassing to obtain the presence of leading members, so as to have a strong party to meet their American and Canadian supporters.
