unication from the Winnipeg Board, already published, referring to the wheat block-ade. The Toronto Board, wisely as we think, did not commit itself to any explosive or dis-surbing resolution; but confined itself to an expression of sympathy in favor of freedom of of the unity of interest between the different parts of the Dominion. Some members were anxious that the Board should say a good deal for cash or on margin. Money to loan at 6 per cent. Investments a specialty. Rents collected strength of "draw it mild."

Mr. Goldwin Smith succeeded in getting added a brief deliverance in few markets, showed a firmer tandament of the strength of the stre not in any such way as to be inconsistent with the public faith. To this rather more opposi-tion was manifested than seemed necessary, But those who wanted to pass the report just as it came from the Council were not wholly without reason on their side, either. Reck-less and ruinous railway competition is some-aling we have had in Canada before; and per-haps the Northwest night prove as favorable a "stamping-ground" for this sort of thing as any that Canada has ever afforded. Building railways for speculation, and for "boom" pur-rather to be "sat upon" by all who wish well to their country. Mr. Chapman told a little story, which carries a caution with is, and we doubt not that it is a true one, too. Not long ago some very enterprising people, on our side of the border, went through the Brandon district seeking local bonuses for a railway to connect with the Northern Paoific. They were meeting with tair success, or the promise of it, when they informed the Northern Pacific people of what they were doing, and how they were getting on. The latter were very frank with them, and very liberal, too. Said they: "If you get any local bonuses, you are welcome to keep the same for your trouble. Only give us the charter, with full power to build and operate, and we will do all that ourselves, all with our own money." Which may suggest to people here how very eager American railway men are to get their claws on this valuable back country of ours. If the Canadian Northwest was for sale, there would be no lack of offers for it—from the other side.

There was something else, which nevertheless seemed to be present to several minds. And that was—that the "wheat blockade," so called, might soon vanish away, and be very

And that was—that the "wheat blockade," so called, might soon vanish away, and be very little heard of. That the present situation is not a permanent thing, come to stay; but in great part the accident of a certain combination of circumstances, the like of which may not occur again for long. Admitting that the delay and loss already incurred have been considerable, we cannot believe them to have been great enough to justify the handing over to American railways of any part of the trade and traffic of Canada's new country. We are just selfish enough to want it all ourselves; our own people need it all, and they have the best right.

We take it for granted that the Canadian Pacific authorities are all the time doing what they can to relieve the "block." And if they are bona fide doing this, the tracks will rapid ly get cleared, now that the weather is moder ating. Then, once navigation opens, you will hear another tale. And, when the American lake fleet begins to come down, carrying its immense stores of grain which has been kept at the upper ports all winter, people will wonder whether there was a blockade there too. We remember some things which States; and we should say that any one who thinks recent freight delays in Manitoba have been very long in this country. One good thing the Board did at this meeting was to place itself squarely in favor of a government railway commission, with power to adjudicate between the companies and the public, and between the companies themselves. This move The World will zealously support, and it may be a good sign that the spe just delivered at Ottawa contained the following paragraph: The extension and development of our system of railways have not only rendered necessary additional safeguards for life and property, but have given greater frequency to questions in which the interests of rival companies are found to be in conflict and to require authoritative adjustment. As further legislation appears to be needed for these purposes, a measure will be submitted to you for the consideration and improvement of "The Railway Act."

The Archbishep and the Buffet.

The Church claims to be the great champion of the present Irish struggle for Home Rule. There is no denying that claim: some of the ablest and brightest advocates of Home Rule are priests and bishops of the Irish Church.

With the right to self-government in their own political and civil affairs, there will come from the Irish people a demand for greater freedom in spiritual affairs. The one must follow the other just as day does night. A consistent Home Ruler must be liberal not

The Archbishop is quite willing to strip the British Government of her powers in regard to Ireland, but Mother Church is to hold what power she has, and increase it if she can!

The Minister of Education's new edition of Bible selections receives The Mail's distinguished approval, but it was "the whole Bible" that that journal demanded last year. It is therefore apparent that the change is rather in The Mail than in the book. We shall next see The Mail and His Grace the Archbishop returning to the status quo ante.

If our neighbors are not going to ratify the Scheres treaty, and they probably will not, it is worse than idle for Canadians to quarrel among themselves over it. We have little to lose by its rejection and not much to gain by its adoption. Philosophical indifference is our role under the circumstances.

The late calamity in Illinois has set the Belance of opinion appears to be that the former is a regular windstorm of aggravated violence that moves in large circles over wide expanses of country, but the latter is a gyratting at the probably by an individual on the following despatch by private wire from New York to-day: The tanket high twas only conserved the following despatch by private wire from New York to-day: The tanket high twas only conserved the following despatch by private wire from New York to-day: The tanket high twas only conserved the following and that the folium proves on the proventing and that the latter is a gyration of a star pupur day to the stock market.
