Mr. Wylle and those associated with him placed the loss at about $2100 on a fine stock of drygoods amounting in value to about $18,000, which prior to the fire was gonsidered to be one of the best stocks of any town in Canada, being bought for bash, selected and cared for by two of Vormedry best drygoods are provided. Administration Granted to the Meirs of a Missing Torontonian.

Buffalo, Oct. 23.—A somewhat unusual application was made to Surrogate Stern this afternoon, when John J. Ferguson filed papers asking for letters of administration for the estate of his son, Daniel J. Ferguson, without knowing positively that he was dead.

The facts recited in the affidavit accompanying the petition tell a somewhat remarkable story.

Mr. Ferguson lived in Toronto in 1877 and was a traveling man. Daniel was in the same business and was working for a Toronto firm. He left his home suddenly. His folks heard from him nine years ago, when they received a letter which had been mailed in Minneapolis. In this letter he said that he was doing pretty well, and promised to write his folks frequently. Since then nothing has been heard from him, and his relatives have come to the conclusion that he is dead. His father, who now lives in Buffalo, says there is money due his estate, which cannot be collected until there is legal representatives. The Surrogate granted letters of administration to his father.

Murphy Must Go Back.

Hamilton, Oct. 23.—When the extradition trial of Cornelius F. Murphy was continued yesterday afternoon, Detective Murphy of Chicago testified that while he was going down to the jail with Murphy after his arrest the prisoner asked if his brother Fred was arrested yet. The detective gave an evasive answer, and the prisoner said: "You ought to get him, for he is as much implicated as I am."

Judge Muir, without the formality of hearing counsel for the Crown, indicated that he must direct that Murphy be extradited to Chicago to stand his trial there on the tharges. His Honor will deliver a written judgment in the case to-morrow morning.

Manhattan received some inside support to-day.

Northern Pacific receiver certificates are in little demand by investors.

It is reported that there are a great number of "stop orders" on Sugar below 85.

The market to-day was very quiet and unsettled, closing steady.

Henry A. King & Co.'s special wire from Ladenburg, Tusiman & Co., New York:

Henry A. King & Co.'s special wire from Ladenburg. Tustiman & Co., New York: Strength in Sugar at the opening and a better tone in Distillers, Manhattan and a few other stocks were the substitutes for real speculative features during this morning's market. The trading, however, has been too dull and professional to deserve any extended description, and in the latter portion of the day there was a renewed deciline in Sugar and a slumping tendency in the general list. N. P., pref., was the object of pressure on the part of bear traders, who found material for a selling movement in the surprisingly small amount of the bids for the new receiver's certificates. The condition of the foreign exchange market would account for the most of the present inaction and weakness in stock prices. There has been a rise to-day in 'sterling exchange at Berlin, which corresponds with the higher working of rates in this market. The situation, however, continues to favor gold exports, and this fact is the depressing speculative influence.
