A wide circle of friends will hear with regret of the death of Ruby, wife of Capt. Amos Burns, which took place at her home in Clements-Port, on Saturday afternoon, after a long illness, which she bore with the Christian resignation, which has marked her whole life.

The deceased, who was eighty-three years of age, was a daughter of the late Rev. Abraham and Susan (Reach) Stronach. She first married Bert Stronach, who died leaving four small children, after which she became the wife of Capt. Burns, Bridgetown; and Reagh Burns, Clementsport. She is also survived by eighteen grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Three of her children died in childhood and one son, DeLong Burns, made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War.

The late Mrs. Burns was a woman of especially gentle and lovable nature, which endeared her to all with whom she was associated, and in every relation of life she will be sadly missed. Annapolis Royal.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Amos Burns took place at Clements-Port on Tuesday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Frank Smith, assisted by Rev. M. H. MacIntosh, and Rev. A. W. L. Smith, and the pall bearers were the five sons of the deceased—Messrs. William and Charles Stronach, Dr. Arthur Burns Messrs Wylie N. and Reagh Burns, and her son-in-law Mr. Moore C. McCormick. The hymns, "Asleep With Me," "The Sands of Time are Sinking," and the "Christian's Good-Night" were sung during the service.

The various choruses were all "catchy" and pretty, and the scene of the Flower Queen's Festival, on the flower-banked stage with its huge wind-mill, a very attractive one. Particularly enjoyable in this act was the duet and chorus "Marsip" with Mr. Hardwick and Miss Pickles taking the solos. Solos were also given by the Misses Marjorie Merriam, Jean and Frances Herbert, and during the intermission, Mr. Hardwick's and Mrs. Gorham's solos were much enjoyed. Also ad by Mrs. F. M. Dargie and Miss Pickles, whose voices blended beautifully. Especial interest was taken in the first appearance of the tiny tots who took the part of "Baby Bulb" and the "Flower Fairies" drill was most charming.
