

TEES & CO.

D
E
S
K
S

OPEN EVERY HOUR OF THE YEAR

—300—

St. James St.

TELEPHONES:

Main 327, Up 1501 and 8160.

WELLINGTON

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Sportsmen Never Enlarge The Truth - - -

More enthusiastically than when telling of the tremendous antlers the old buck carried off, or the enormous size of the big fish that got away.

But about a thing which you actually have in hand exaggeration is less easy, since it speaks for just what it is. We are content to let Forest and Stream thus show for itself. We cannot begin to tell you all its goods points. You will like its breezy sketches of sport with rod and reel and dog and gun; its stories of camp life, and accounts of tramp and cruise. Ask your dealer for the current number, or send to us. Single copies, 10 cents; per year $4.00. Special trial trip, 4 weeks for 25 cents. We will send free catalogue of best Books on Outdoor Life and Field Sports.

FOREST AND STREAM PUB. CO.
346 Broadway, New York.

The Pall Mall Magazine

ASTOR COURT, N.Y.

People of the best taste everywhere read the PALL MALL MAGAZINE.—Boston Courier.

DANTE G. ROSSETTI

The Christmas number of the PALL MALL MAGAZINE (ready November 18th) will contain, by arrangement with the executor of the late Dante Gabriel Rossetti, several unpublished poems and drawings by Rossetti. These belong mainly to the Poet's early period, and show him in an entirely new light.

The Christmas PALL MALL MAGAZINE will also contain an article on Charles Meryon, the greatest etcher since Rembrandt, written by his biographer, Mr. Frederick Wedmore. This paper will be illustrated by very beautiful reproductions of Meryon's finest etchings.

During the coming year the PALL MALL MAGAZINE will, as usual, devote considerable space to Literature and Art.

"The PALL MALL MAGAZINE, so far as its letterpress and its illustrations are concerned is above criticism. There is nothing to surpass it, if anything equals it, in this respect in America."—Toronto Globe.

Subscription price, $3.00 per year, postpaid. Mention this publication and send for free sample.

THE PALL MALL MAGAZINE 25 W 93d St., N.Y. City