

Chambers' Cyclopaedia says that the Lentil (Ervum Lens) is the basis, if not the whole substance, of Pevalenta Arabica and Ervalenta, so much advertised as food for dyspeptic patients; and the Toronto Globe of 29th Sept., 1885, states that one of the strongest men in the world is the Chilean miner, who lives principally on the Lentil, the cheapest and most nutritious food known for it, weight. A very fine kind of Asiatic Lentil, known as "Dal," has lately been introduced into Canada from India by Major-General Kees, and is procurable at the Himalayan Tea Office, 58 Church St., and from Henry Lindsay, 60 King St. West.

THE MAGAZINE

OF

AMERICAN HISTORY

is carefully read by the great majority of our public men—in the various departments at Washington, and by State and municipal officials everywhere—and, as in no other monthly periodical, the former politics, policy and measures of the government are intelligently discussed for the benefit of present affairs.

Its attractions for November are varied: "The Wadsworth House at Genesee," superbly illustrated; "The Burning of Washington in 1814," told in the most agreeable style; "Witchcraft in Illinois," a surprising revelation; the second paper on "The Campaign of 1861-2 in Kentucky—unfolded through the correspondence of its leaders," a brilliant presentation of many hitherto unknown facts; "A Ride with Sheridan," a most entertaining sketch from the note-book of a surgeon; and the "Bombardments and Capture of Fort McAllister," from a Southern officer's point of view, are its leading features. The scholarly authors of the above articles are, respectively: Frederic G. Mather, Hon. Horatio King, John H. Gunn General W. F. ("Baldy") Smith, A. D. Rockwell, M.D., and Colonel Charles C. Jones, Jr., LL.D., C.S.A.

"The operations of both of the belligerent parties in Kentucky and Tennessee during the years of 1861-62 were involved and complicated almost beyond precedent, and our best present accounts of these movements are little better than a tangle. Yet they were in their ultimate results far-reaching and momentous. The ability and reputation of General Smith, and his personal knowledge of men and events, give assurance, amply borne out by his first paper, that in this field of research the time has come and the man, and that we are to have at last an account of these transactions as they were, and as they appeared to the officers who then directed events on both sides."—The American Storekeeper, Chicago.

"This magazine develops unexpected resources as it goes on. Mrs. Lamb has made it popular and prosperous without infringing upon its historical character."—Boston Herald.

"This publication is one of the most valuable of the many excellent ones now challenging interest and favour, not only because of the variety of its contents but that it is so trustworthy."—Toledo Blade.

Separate subscriptions for the Magazine of American History may begin at any time, and all booksellers and newsdealers receive them, or remittance may be made direct to the publishers. GRAND

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

IN LONDON, ENGLAND, 1886.

FIFTY-FOUR THOUSAND FEET RESERVED FOR CANADA.

First Royal Exhibition Commission Since 1862.

THE COLONIAL AND INDIAN EXHIBITION, to be held in LONDON, ENGLAND, commencing MAY 1st, 1886, is intended to be on a scale of great magnitude, having for object to mark an epoch in the relations of all the parts of the British Empire with each other.

In order to give becoming significance to the event, a Royal Commission is issued for the holding of this Exhibition, for the first time since 1862, and His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has been appointed President by Her Majesty.

The very large space of 54,000 square feet has been allotted to the Dominion of Canada by command of the President, His Royal Highness.

This Exhibition is to be purely Colonial and Indian, and no competition from the United Kingdom or from foreign nations will be permitted, the object being to exhibit to the world at large what the Colonies can do.

The grandest opportunity ever offered to Canada is thus afforded to show the distinguished place she occupies, by the progress she has made in Agriculture, in Horticulture, in the Industrial and Fine Arts, in the Manufacturing Industries, in the New West Improvements in Manufacturing Machinery and Implements, in Public Works by Models and Designs; also in an adequate display of her vast resources in the Fish-eries, and in Forest and Mineral wealth, and also in Shipping.

All Canadians of all parties and classes are invited to come forward and vie with each other in endeavouring on this great occasion to put Canada in her true place as the premier colony of the British Empire, and to establish her proper position before the world.

Every farmer, every producer, and every manufacturer, has interest in assisting, it having been already demonstrated that extension of trade always follows such efforts.

By order,

JOHN LOWE,

Sec. of the Dept. of Agriculture.

OTTAWA, 1st Sept., 1885.
