

ARTICLE 13

Surrender of Person to be Extradited

1. The Requested State shall inform the Requesting State of its decision on the request for extradition.
2. Reasons shall be given for any complete or partial denial of the request.
3. In case of extradition, the Requesting State shall be informed of the place and date of surrender, and of how long the person sought was in detention while awaiting extradition.
4. If the person sought is not surrendered on the date specified, that person may be set at liberty upon the expiration of fifteen days from that date and may be discharged from extradition proceedings upon the expiration of thirty days.

ARTICLE 14

Postponed or Temporary Surrender

1. Where the person sought is being proceeded against or is serving a sentence in the Requested State for an offence other than that for which extradition is requested, the Requested State may surrender the person sought or postpone surrender until the conclusion of the proceedings or the service of the whole or any part of the sentence imposed. The Requested State shall inform the Requesting State of any postponement.
2. To the extent permitted by its law, where a person has been found extraditable, the Requested State may temporarily surrender the person sought for the purposes of prosecution to the Requesting State in accordance with conditions to be determined between the Contracting States. The period of time spent in custody in the Requesting State shall be subtracted from the sentence that remains to be served in the Requested State.
3. A person who is returned to the Requested State following a temporary surrender may be finally surrendered in accordance with the provisions of this Treaty, to serve any sentence imposed in the Requesting State, after the termination of the proceedings or after having served the sentence in the Requested State.

ARTICLE 15

Surrender of Property

1. To the extent permitted under its law, the Requested State shall, at the request and for the benefit of the Requesting State, gather on its territory all property that may be used as evidence of the offence for which extradition is requested.
