Career Assignment Program: The Career Assignment Program is designed to identify middle management public servants and develop them for more senior responsibility. Federal departments identify and nominate candidates, both men and women, for the Career Assignment Program (CAP). CAP started in 1968 and to date, there have been the following number of women participants:

Year	Women	Total M & F
1968	1	35
1969	1	111
1970	1	91
1971	4	101
1972	10	94
1973	8	52

1977	9	64
1978*	9	43
	87	769

* One more course is scheduled for 1978 and it is anticipated there will be some women participants.

Every year, a few specially selected middle level public servants are chosen to study at institutions with an international reputation. These are, l'École nationale d'administration, Paris, France (program started in 1964), the British Program for Administrative Principals, London, England, (program started in 1967), l'École nationale d'administration publique, Quebec City, Canada, (program started in 1970), College of Europe, Bruges, Belgium, (program started in 1977). Since the first program was initiated in 1964, until the most recently
