

Page was—and 230
 Speech—264
 and Reve-
 the State 240
 in Debate tives—Its
 e Senate
 247
 Harrison, ent of the h of Mr.
 257
 System—265
 to Private 271
 Banks—Mr.
 273
 sympathy—
 ren—Public Preserved—
 276
 —Arrest and
 r. Benton's
 291
 Allow Reces-304
 e of Foreign Number . . .
 305
 Compromise of Abuses in 307
 317
 Presented—
 y the Presi-321
 and Bill for a cal Corpora-Mr. Tyler—Its ees under his er his Veto
 in the Senate
 323
 326
 Cabinet . . .
 328 by the Whig
 to—Counter Cushing . . .
 337
 340
 of the United 343
 tra Session
 resident Tyler
 Agent, called
 Mr. Benton's acts . . .
 37
 t, entitled a 39
 Bankrupt Act
 ns, of North his Life and 37
 —the Continence—and the pense . . .
 38

CHAP.	PAGE
XCV. Resignation and Valedictory of Mr. Clay . . .	306
XCVI. Military Department—Progress of its Ex- pense . . .	404
XCVII. Paper Money Payments—Attempted by the Federal Government—Resisted—Mr. Benton's Speech . . .	406
XCVIII. Case of the American Brig Creole with Slaves for New Orleans, carried by Mu- tiny into Nassau, and the Slaves Lib- erated . . .	409
XCIX. Distress of the Treasury—Three Tariff Bills, and Two Vetoes—End of the Compro- mise Act . . .	418
C. Mr. Tyler and the Whig Party—Confirmed Separation . . .	417
CI. Lord Ashburton's Mission, and the British Treaty . . .	420
CII. British Treaty—The Pretermitted Sub- jects—Mr. Benton's Speech—Extracts . . .	426
CIII. British Treaty—Northeastern Boundary Article—Mr. Benton's Speech—Ex- tracts . . .	428
CIV. British Treaty—Northwestern Boundary— Mr. Benton's Speech—Extracts . . .	441
CV. British Treaty—Extradition Article—Mr. Benton's Speech—Extract . . .	444
CVI. British Treaty—African Squadron for the Suppression of the Slave Trade—Mr. Benton's Speech—Extract . . .	449
CVII. Expense of the Navy—Waste of Money— Necessity of a Naval Peace Establish- ment, and of a Naval Policy . . .	452
CVIII. Expenses of the Navy—Mr. Benton's Speech —Extracts . . .	456
CIX. Message of the President at the Opening of the Regular Session of 1842-3 . . .	460
CX. Repeal of the Bankrupt Act—Mr. Benton's Speech—Extracts . . .	468
CXI. Military Academy and Army Expenses . . .	466
CXII. Emigration to the Columbia River, and Foundation of its Settlement by Ameri- can Citizens—Frémont's First Expedi- tion . . .	468
CXIII. Lieutenant Frémont's First Expedition— Speech, and Motion of Senator Linn . . .	478
CXIV. Oregon Colonization Act—Mr. Benton's Speech . . .	479
CXV. Navy Pay and Expenses—Proposed Reduc- tion—Speech of Mr. Meriwether, of Geor- gia—Extracts . . .	482
CXVI. Eulogy on Senator Linn—Speeches of Mr. Benton and Mr. Crittenden . . .	485
CXVII. The Coast Survey—Attempt to diminish its Expense, and to expedite its Comple- tion by restoring the Work to Naval and Military Officers . . .	487
CXVIII. Death of Commodore Porter, and Notice of his Life and Character . . .	491
CXIX. Refunding of General Jackson's Fine . . .	499
CXX. Repeal of the Bankrupt Act—Attack of Mr. Cushing on Mr. Clay—Its Rebuke . . .	508
CXXI. Naval Expenditures and Administration— Attempts at Reform—Abortive . . .	507
CXXII. Chinese Mission—Mr. Cushing's Appoint- ment and Negotiation . . .	510
CXXIII. The Alleged Mutiny, and the Executions (as they were called) on Board the United States man-of-war, Somers . . .	522

CHAP.	PAGE
CXXIV. Retirement of Mr. Webster from Mr. Tyler's Cabinet . . .	522
CXXV. Death of William H. Crawford . . .	523
CXXVI. First Session of the Twenty-eighth Congress—List of Members—Organ- ization of the House of Representatives . . .	528
CXXVII. Mr. Tyler's Second Annual Message . . .	535
CXXVIII. Explosion of the Great Gun on Board the Princeton man-of-war—the Killed and Wounded . . .	567
CXXIX. Reconstruction of Mr. Tyler's Cabinet . . .	569
CXXX. Death of Senator Porter, of Louisiana— Eulogium of Mr. Benton . . .	569
CXXXI. Naval Academy, and Naval Policy of the United States . . .	671
CXXXII. The Home Squadron—Its Inutility and Expense . . .	675
CXXXIII. Professor Morse—His Electro-Magnetic Telegraph . . .	678
CXXXIV. Frémont's Second Expedition . . .	679
CXXXV. Texas Annexation—Secret Origin—Bold Intrigue for the Presidency . . .	581
CXXXVI. Democratic Convention for the Nom- ination of Presidential Candidates . . .	591
CXXXVII. Presidential—Democratic National Con- vention—Mr. Calhoun's Refusal to Submit his Name to it—His Reasons Annexation of Texas—Secret Negotia- tion—Presidential Intrigue—Schemes of Speculation and Disunion . . .	599
CXXXIX. Texas Annexation Treaty—First Speech of Mr. Benton against it—Extracts . . .	600
CXL. Texas or Disunion—Southern Conven- tion—Mr. Benton's Speech—Extracts . . .	618
CXLI. Texas or Disunion—Violent Demons- trations in the South—Southern Con- vention proposed . . .	616
CXLII. Rejection of the Annexation Treaty— Proposal of Mr. Benton's Plan . . .	619
CXLIII. Oregon Territory—Conventions of 1818 and 1828—Joint Occupation—At- tempted Notice to Terminate it . . .	624
CXLIV. Presidential Election . . .	625
CXLV. Amendment of the Constitution—Election of President and Vice-President —Mr. Benton's Plan . . .	626
CXLVI. The President and the Senate—Want of Concord—Numerous Rejections of Nominations . . .	629
CXLVII. Mr. Tyler's Last Message to Congress (CXLVIII. Legislative Admission of Texas into the Union as a State . . .	632
CXLIX. The War with Mexico—Its Cause— Charged on the Conduct of Mr. Cal- houn—Mr. Benton's Speech . . .	639
CL. Mr. Polk's Inaugural Address—Cabinet CLI. Mr. Blair and the Globe superseded as the Administration Organ—Mr. T. Rit- chie and the Daily Union substituted . . .	650
CLII. Twenty-ninth Congress—List of Mem- bers—First Session—Organization of the House . . .	653
CLIII. Mr. Polk's First Annual Message to Congress . . .	657
CLIV. Death of John Forsyth . . .	659
CLV. Admission of Florida and Iowa . . .	660
CLVI. Oregon Treaty—Negotiations com- menced, and broken off . . .	660