

FIG.	PAGE
392. Bordonnat's clamp	536
393. Combe's clamp	536
394. Incomplete inguinal hernia	540
395. Inguinal hernia of the horse	540
396. Herniotome	548
397. Herniotome	548
398. Peritoneal-scrotal hernia	551
399. Ventral hernia in a mare	560
400. Schema illustrating Degive's operation for umbilical and ventral hernia	562
401. Anker's guarded knife for pelvic hernia	565
402. Diaphragmatic hernia	567
403. Göly's bowel suture	572
404. Lembert's bowel suture	572
405. Wölfler's bowel suture	572
406. Lembert's bowel suture	572
407. Czerny's bowel suture	572
408. Vertical section of the horse's body between the last rib and external angle of the ilium	575
409. Friedberger's intestinal trocar for horses	576
410. Showing the relative positions of the thoracic and abdominal organs. Left side	577
411. Showing the relative positions of the thoracic and abdominal organs. Right side	577
412. Abdominal organs seen from below (L)	578
413. Mouth gag for oxen	581
414. Trocar and cannula for puncture of the rumen	582
415. Vertical section of the ox's body, showing relative position of rumen and other organs	583
416. Bräuer's trocar	586
417. Forceps for use with Bräuer's trocar	586
418. Sheath of Bräuer's trocar	586
419. Congenital malformation—atresia ani in the bitch. (Semi-diagrammatic.)	594
420. Congenital malformation—atresia ani et recti in the bitch. (Semi-diagrammatic.)	594
421. Prolapsus recti with invagination in the bitch. (Semi-diagrammatic.)	602
422. Prolapsus recti with invagination in the horse	603
423. Stockfleth's wooden ring	606
424, 425. Method of ligation in prolapsus recti	606
426. Calculus passed spontaneously. Natural size	618
427. Urethral obstruction removed by Mr. Mellis	618
428. Vaginal speculum	620
429. Calculus spoon	620
430. Calculus forceps	622
431. Bouley's calculus forceps	623
432. Vesical calculus composed of phosphate and oxalate of lime	624
433. Cystic calculus removed by V.-Major Walker	624
434. Section of calculus removed by V.-Major Walker	624
435. Course of the urethra in the ox	626
436. Flourant's trocar	634