LABOR CONGRESS OPPOSES

President Mee Makes Announcement-Don't Want International Unions.

St. John, N. B., Sept. 12.—(Special.) the fourth annual meeting of the National Trades and Labor Congress of Canada opened here this morning, with ipwards of 60 delegates present, Mayor ears welcomed the visitors.

President Mee said the executive was opposed to the enactment of the so-called Fitzpatrick Sunday law. He nended that the constitution be changed so as to create the office of a provincial organizer, this office to be held by the vice-president of each pro-

He also referred to the necessity of forming permanent organizing funds and pointed out the accessity of oppointing a permanent legislative committee, whose duty shauld be to bring to the attention of the government such matters as are of interest to the working men and women of Canada. Secretary-Treasurer Thomas J. Griffith, submitted his report, in which he sai dthat during the year Yeight new unions had joined the congress, increasing the membership by about 809.

In the evening there was a public meeting of the Carpenters' Union and several of the prominent delegates to the convention spoke. They urged the mecessity of union among laborers, holding out for national as opposed to international unions.

OUEEN'S OWN ON PARADE.

Two Battalions Take Separate Route Marches-Orders for Week.

The first parade of the Queen's Own Rifles under the new organization dividing the regiment into two battalons was held at the armories last night, Lieut.-Col. Pellatt commanding. Over six hundred men, including recruits, turned out. No. 1 Battalion, under Lieut.-Col. Mason, marched tim is Mrs. Martin (colored), who re- south to Queen-street, along Queen sides with her father, Joseph Henderson, at the west part of the town, near the outskirts.

Mrs. Martin has been ill for some days and this afternoon Dr. Coleridge was summoned. He diagnosed the case as one of smallpox.

It is thought that the woman either contracted the disease in Detroit, where she was visiting, or it was carried here as all others who have been there, have still in the town.

All the inmates of the house, as well as all others who have been there, ave been quarantined.

The provincial board of health has been notified.

Dr. Carman was attentively listened to, and applause broke out two or three times. This was most marked at a reference to the ministers, who are "allured to secular ventures and pursuits."

"The church off its base" was a striking note, but he omitted most of the passage and also that on church union. The members had printed copies in their hands, however.

Dr. Carman's Address.

Dr. Carman began his address as general superintendent by an expression of gratitude that St. James' Church had been returned and was available for the duties of the conference. As Methodists they felt assured from Holy Scripture, from the experience of multitudes thruout their generations, and from the favor of Heaven as manifested in the growth of their institutions and enterprises, that the doctrines they held and taught, and the spirit, and purpose they cherished, were accepted on high as pleasing to God and promotive of the interests of the Kingdom of Christ. The general conference stood for unity, strength and cumulative momentum, and their office and responsibility was to originate, adapt, apply and regulate parts, plans, functions and forces so as to keep all in harmonious and effective action.

"Since the close of our general conference in Winnipeg," said Dr. Carman, "four years ago, brethren that were then with us in the councils of the church militant have finished their labors and conflicts, and have passed on to their rest and reward in the church irjumphant. Thomas Nixon, so true to his church, so abundant in labor and so revered and beloved of us all; E. D. O'Flynn, so blameless in life, diligent in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord; Jonathan Ellis, so faithful to his moral convictions, so loyal to the doctrines and polity of Methodism, and so fearless in the statement of honest opinion; C. A. Mallory, M.D., so practised a legislator, so faithful a councillor, and valuable a m worldly honor or pleasure or power, the church should be moved from its imperishable foundation, the Rock of Ages.

After deploring the present dearth of candidates for the ministry, the general superintendent discussed in detail the business from least general conference, and in this connection made the following statement regarding it:

"And here, perhaps, I may as well say what I have to say on this question of church union," he said. "Nothing of greater importance, if indeed of equal importance, has ever come before our general conference for its consideration and action. F WE WERE asked what one feature above all others has established the high estimate that the people of Toronto have of this store, we would credit it to our custom of applying big store principles to the highest grade of goods as well as to cheaper ones—and by this we mean, getting away from the prices people have been used to and marking everything in our steck at a small advance on the cost, whether it be a specially low cost or the regular one. We make no show of giving inexpensive goods away, with the knowledge that we make up for it on more important sales. Take this list as an example of a good principle applied to all kinds of things that all kinds of people need.
