Receiver C. tt, it is claimed, has not spent two ays among the wreckage since May large and the court of the court In I days among the wreckage since May 18, and no report from the courts is likely to be made for weeks. The block could also have been raised by accepting the offers of several companies to purchase the mortgages. In their high dissatisfaction at this state of affairs a number of the investors talk of demanding a statement from the company.

But Legs Taken Off.

Thomas Geogheghan, a G.T.R. employe, living at 277 Catharine-street north, was run over by a locomotive at Copetown this morning. One leg was cut off at the knee and the other below the ankle. A car brought the wounded man to Stuart-street station and St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was attended by Drs. Mackelcan, Cockburn and White. The bleeding was tremendous and little hope is held out of his recovery.

The Jubilee Executive Committee, which met to-night to settle up accounts, had a bill of $116 sprung on it from an unexpected quarter. When the demonstration was being arranged, Mr. Brant-Sero. a wealthy descendant of Chief Brant, and a graduate of an English university, offered to bring to Hamilton without expense to the city all the Six Nation Indians who cared to come. Brant, however, reckoned without his host, for 60 chiefs and 100 followers accepted his invitation and ran up a bill for him, all told, of $670. In his extremity Mr. Brant-Sero decided to appeal to the city and sent in an account of $116. The Executive replied that it had foregone the luxury of having the Dufferin Rifles here rather than pay $120 for their meals, but after much discussion decided to allow Mr. Sero $45.

Chairman Montague announced that the demonstration balance amounted to $2240.

A Couple of Accidents. P. Mountain, a G. T. R. brakeman, had the two middle fingers of his left hand crushed while coupling cars near Merritton this morning. Dr. Mackelcan amputated the fingers in Hamilton, after which the brakeman left for Toronto.

Thomas Barrett, a painter, living at 41 Wilson-street, fell off a Winona roof, 30 feet high, this afternoon. A. H. G. & B. ar brought him up to the city, where he was attended by Dr. L. W. Cockburn.

The Swimming Buths.

Mayor Colquhoun to-night laid before the Parks Committee his scheme for constructing public swimming baths at the Beach. Two bathing houses are available for this purpose, and his worship thought that some $200 would provide a place
