Real Estaters Discuss Taking Out an Injunction.

MEMBERS DEMAND DELAY

Say No Necessity For Haste, and Will Oppose the Present Scheme.

Immediate action, it was stated this afternoon, will be taken to prevent the utilities commissioners going ahead with the project of expending $190,000 for a new hydro sales building. Whether the action, which will likely take the form of an injunction, will be taken by a citizens' committee or by the Real Estate Owners' Association, has not been definitely decided, but will be shortly. The matter was discussed at some length at last night's meeting of the real estaters. The members are in favor of having a hydro sales building, but not at the present time.

"The present plan will result in the contractor getting $15,000 or $20,000 of the citizens' money for doing yery litcontractor getting $15,000 or $20,000 of the citizens' money for doing yery little," said one man this afternoon. "In addition to all this the tenders for the building were all rejected, because they were too high. This was necessitated by the present prices of materials and labor. It will probably not be so very long before materials will be much cheaper and labor easier. At any rate there will be no harm in Legislature, a delegation being down to explain the situation, and proy women stenographers. They found out their mistake. For years I have been in favor of extending one franchise to women."

Another man declared that refusing to sign a petition to give the right to yote to women was nothing more nor less than "a relic of baroarism."

One man told the woman canvasser he wouldn't sign because, "women ain't intelligent enough to vote." The canvasser in the case meekly suggested they might find out what they were voting about. "No." he said firmly, "they couldn't. Women ain't like men. Now, take me, I know what I'm voting about. But women wouldn't. In any case the woman who voted would neglect her home."

Not all the objectors were found among the men. There were a number of girls of voting age who didn't care one way or another. The strangest situation of all was the case where the man of the household firmly believed in woman's suffrage and had upheld it for years, but without success in converting his wife.
