

TRAINING ORPHAN CHILDREN TO BECOME USEFUL CITIZENS OF CANADA

The Independent Order of Foresters maintain the above orphan home at Oakville, Ont., where they care for children from one to sixteen years of age.

The Boy Scouts, Wolf Cubs' Patrol, come to the salute as the photographer takes their picture.

The older boys are given a useful training on the land by a competent instructor.

Happy shouts and much noise of plunging and splashing fill the air as child after child join their comrades in cool waters.

Berry-picking is essentially the girls' occupation, and the results of their labors are preserved and find much favor on the dining-hall table.

The melon patch is carefully guarded by the "Hustlers' Gang" from all pests, human and otherwise.

The immense orchard of the Orphanage is a happy hunting ground for the children.
