JUDSON HARRIS MEETS BROTHER HERE AFTER A SEPARATION OF 34 YEARS

Was on Wrecked Ship in Saxby Gale When His Father Drowned.

George A. Harris and Judson I. Harris, sons of the late George Harris, one of the United Empire Loyalists, who settled at Yarmouth, N. S., and Mrs. Harris, who was Priscilla Bain, of Scottish descent, met here this week after an absence of 34 years. George left Yarmouth when twenty-one years of age, and was employed at farming on the Manawagush road here. After a few years of energetic labor he bought a farm and erected a home, where he still resides with his wife and daughter, and where he is now engaged in market gardening.

Their father farmed at Yarmouth and took an occasional trip to sea. On a sad stormy night fifty-four years ago, he was one of a crew of three on a little coasting vessel in command of Captain Robbins, who was sailing from Yarmouth to St. John for a load of provisions. Judson, the little ten year old son of Mr. Harris' was on board. The "Saxby Gale" broke forth in all its fury and the little vessel was rocked to and fro, and was driven on a rocky ledge at Mispec Bay at midnight. The captain and mate managed to leap to the rocks, but before the others could land the schooner slid again into the settling torrent. Ropes were thrown to Mr. Harris, who fastened one on his little son, and the boy was hauled to safety. The other ropes he attached to himself, but the rope parted and the helpless man was tossed about in the tempestuous billows. The vessel was broken to splinters. In the morning the body was found but so mangled with beating against the rocks and surf that burial immediately took place in the little seashore grave yard on Mispec Beach.

Notwithstanding this early tragedy, at the age of 16 Judson went to sea, for which he still has a great liking. Later he engaged in electrical work, which he has followed for many years in various places—P. E. Island, Florida, California and other U. S. cities. In 1910 he went to the Panama Canal and worked at the electrical profession for four years. Since then he has been living with his family at Waverley, Mass., where at the age of sixty-four years he is still actively engaged in work.

Mr. Harris is of fine physique and weighs 189 pounds. He is now enjoying a vacation with his brother, who is four years his senior. Their last meeting was thirty-four years ago, when George visited Judson in Boston. Today the brothers will meet to see the grave where their father rests, and to view the scene of the disaster which occurred so many years ago, and which still lives vividly in the memory of Judson.

The reunion of the brothers is a very happy one, and the visitor is enthused with the beautiful scenery surrounding his brother's home. Later Mr. Harris will visit Yarmouth, the home of his boyhood, en route to Waverley, Mass.

A Frederickton Case

The Frederickton Gleaner says that George W. Ross of West Lubec, Me., and Robert W. Ross of Newcastle met at the races there on the 22nd inst. The Maine visitor asked the judges to call for Robert. He happened to be there and responded. In a few moments Thomas E. Ross, brother of Robert, West Lubec, Me., joined the party, and then a younger man, with his hair turning somewhat grey, he was Robert E. Ross of Robert W., who had not seen his father since he was 2½ years old. The result was a happy family reunion. Robert W. left West Lubec, Me., the home of the family, 25 years ago, after his first wife died, and he never returned, his sister acting as mother to his son.

ASK COUNCIL FOR $500 FOR JAP AID

Relief Committee at City Hall—Hon. Dr. Roberts Predicts Change.

The Common Council, at a special committee meeting this morning, heard an appeal from members of the citizens' committee which has in hand the raising of a local fund for Japanese relief. A grant from the city was asked for. The amount suggested was $500. The appeal will be considered at a regular session of the council next week. The Mayor presided, and others present included Commissioners Thornton and Bullock, Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong, Rev. H. Goodwin and Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts.

Rev. Mr. Goodwin, speaking for the citizens' committee appointed by the Red Cross, said that the plan was not for Canada to help to rebuild the Japanese property destroyed, but to relieve distress among the people. The churches had been asked to take up collections for the relief fund tomorrow. He also said that the city was asked to make a grant towards the fund. A hand concert was planned for King Square and a collection would be taken. He introduced Dr. Roberts, chairman of the local committee, who referred to the relief granted to St. John during the great fire in 1877. He asked that the Mayor and commissioners consider the request for a small contribution.

Rev. Canon Armstrong stressed the great and urgent need for relief. The Japanese disaster he termed as the greatest catastrophe the world has ever known. He suggested that the city might easily make a grant of $500.

The Mayor promised to lay the matter before the Council in committee on Monday morning or on Tuesday afternoon.

Commissioner Thornton said he was relieved when the amount of $500 was mentioned. He had anticipated more. He felt that the Council would look favorably on the suggestion.

Foreshadows Change

Dr. Roberts said that it was hoped to see $3,000 and $5,000 in the whole city. He felt that the day was coming when the collection of funds from individuals would cease. He thought it was a matter which would have the attention of provincial and municipal governments.

Mr. Goodwin said all the provincial governments and municipal councils were being asked to help.

REFERS MAYOR TO HYDRO CONTRACT

Chairman of Commission's Reply to City Request for Guarantee.

Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith, chairman of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, who arrived in the city yesterday afternoon was asked what action the commission would take in connection with the request of the city for a definite guarantee of supply of current. Dr. Smith replied that a letter was being forwarded to His Excellency, Mayor Fisher stating that the city had a contract with the Provincial Commission and the commission intended to carry out the terms of that contract, which it considered was a sufficient guarantee of service.

Dr. Smith announced that the contract for erection of the Apohaqui, Norton and Millstream line had been let to the Maritime Construction Co. and work on this would be started next week, and that the head dam at Musquash would be closed on Monday.

A letter was received this morning by the commission asking for incorporation by the villages of Bath, Bristol and East and West Florenceville as a municipality under the act which provides for the incorporation for the purpose of buying and distributing electric current. Dr. Smith said the matter would be given consideration by the commission but he was of the opinion that this act only applied where the current was to be purchased from the Provincial Commission and these places would have to go to the legislature for a special act of incorporation.

Miss Williamson is a recent graduate of the Margaret Phillips Hospital of Concord, N. H. On her graduation her efficiency and popularity were recognized by an invitation to become head nurse of that institution, and by numerous gifts from members of the staff and sister nurses. As Hiram Sees It

"I see some professor up in Ontario has got a new name for petater balls," said Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter. "I see that," said the reporter.

"Seems to be a great curiosity up there," said Hiram. "Some fellow got a story into the papers that they had tomatoes grown on petater stalks, and the yarn went all over this country, and the States, too. Now this here professor fellow he calls 'em petater balls. Say—'d you mind fifty year ago when they was a big bunch of petater balls on every stalk in the field? We used to sharpen a stick an' spear 'em an' see who could throw 'em the furthest. We called 'em petater balls—'an' that's what they was. I had seen any fer so long I'd forgot all about 'em till this here yarn about petater-tomatoes an' petater-apples was started by the newspapers. You fellows is always lookin' fer some kind of a yarn to set people talkin'. No you jist tell that professor fer me that them things he's talkin' about is petater balls—at they're as old as petaters is—yes, sir."
