

OLD WOMAN GUILTY OF FORGING A WILL

Mother of 14 Children Serves Two Days' Imprisonment.

London, June 29.—(By Mail).—Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt, an old-age pensioner, aged 82, and the mother of 14 children, pleaded guilty at the Norwich Assizes to the charge of forging the will of her brother, a wealthy Norfolk farmer.

Counsel for the prosecution, said the woman's brother, Thomas Goose, who died at the age of 87, lived happily for 26 years with his wife, and in 1916 made a will leaving her all his property. In December, 1917, prisoner drew up his will, which she was now charged with having forged.

Under this will nearly all the property would come to the woman and her children. She went to a Norwich solicitor, who drew it up in legal form and sent it to her for signature of her brother and witnesses. It was returned apparently duly signed by Mr. Goose and the witnesses.

Mr. Goose died in January last, and the following day the prisoner went to the office of a firm of solicitors who had drawn up the true and proper will. On being shown it, the prisoner said that there was a later will, the one she had forged.

Mr. Goose's widow, aged 83, protested that it was not the will of her husband and that the signature was not his. Under it the prisoner was given $10,000, and her relatives $7,500. In February the woman confessed that she had forged the will, saying "I signed it for my brother as well as myself."

The estate was worth $85,000, and the prisoner left half for the widow, and the other half for her children.

The woman was sentenced to two days' imprisonment and ordered to pay the costs of the prosecution.

RECENT DEATHS

John R. P. Crookshank.

The death occurred suddenly at Rumford (Me.) on Sunday, July 9, of John Richard Partelow Crookshank, a descendant of the United Empire Loyalists and a former resident of this city, but who for several years has resided at Rumford. He was a son of the late T. Otty and Elizabeth Crookshank and is survived by one brother, Andrew, of the C. N. R., St. John; and two sisters, Mrs. Walter Fenety, of Fredericton, and Mrs. Rafael Fowler, of New York. The funeral will be held on Wednesday, July 9, upon the arrival of the Boston train.

Schmitt-McCutcheon.

On Saturday, July 1, Mildred W. McCutcheon and Alfred G. Schmitt were united in marriage in New York city by Rev. Gordon B. Kierstead. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Sara White McCutcheon and the late Charles McCutcheon, formerly of St. Martins and St. John, and is a sister to Mrs. Albert H. Holder, of Long Reach (N. B.). Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt will reside in New York city, where the groom is connected with a large brokerage house.

SCHOOL BOARD'S ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meetings of several of the school boards were held last night. At the Beaconsfield meeting, the sum of $12,500 was fixed for school purposes. F. W. Henderson was re-elected a trustee, making the board as follows:—Dr. W. L. Ellis, W. O. Dunham and Mr. Henderson. C. O. Morris and C. W. Ruddick were elected auditors. An announcement of interest at the meeting was that the new school on the West Side would give a high school course.

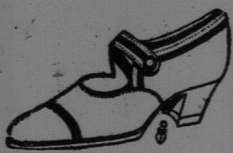

At the meeting of Randolph ratepayers, A. H. Fitzrandolph, H. Cochrane and J. Thiel were elected trustees and W. A. Miller was appointed secretary. The Fairville meeting was much gratified by the excellent financial statement, which showed a credit balance of nearly $3,400 and made it possible to reduce the assessment by $1,200. Simpson Bradshaw was re-elected a trustee. Rev. W. M. Townshend was appointed auditor. The board this year will be J. J. Hennessy, Simpson Bradshaw and H. M. Stout, secretary.

At the Rotherham meeting it was reported that $22,000 had been expended during the past year. About the same amount will be required this year. E. S. Carter was re-elected trustee. About 280 scholars are in sight this fall and it is expected that the school will have to be enlarged.

The assessment at Hampton was fixed at $9,200, about the same as last year, but the rate will be lower as more property is available for taxation. The board of trustees is composed of J. E. Angeline, H. Worden, S. H. Flewelling, Thomas E. Smith and J. Willard Smith. At Dipper Harbor the assessment was fixed at $550. Alfred Thompson was elected a trustee. The board now stands as follows:—Edward, Ernest and Alfred Thompson.

At Lorneville, No. 2, the assessment was made $500, and the board of trustees is composed of Samuel Maguire, Fred McCavour and James McCavour, Jr.

PARK THEIR BABIES THEN HEAR LECTURES

Business Women's Club Provide Unique Accommodations.

New York, July 11.—Members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club who attend the organization's fourth annual convention in Chattanooga this week, will be able to park their babies when they attend sessions.

The federation announces that special quarters will be set aside for the infants, with trained nurses in attendances. Every diet and amusement that a child could need or desire will be provided in the nursery.

Dr. Bertha Maxwell Huntington, of Williams, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation, was the first mother to announce she intended bringing her youngster.

BOY DROWNED.

Halifax, July 10.—Leslie Jewers, nine-year-old son of William Jewers, Beaver Harbor, Halifax county, was drowned there today. He had been playing near the shore and fell into the water.

Keep The Baby in The Air

This is necessary, of course, but can't be properly done without the help of a carriage.

Some baby carriages of the present day are so small, so stiff, and so ill-adapted to the baby's anatomy that they can hardly be recommended for even temporary use.

The carriages we sell are scientifically designed, sturdily built, beautiful, safe and serviceable. Baby can move about in them freely and has room to grow.

Infant's Rattan Carriages in cream and grey $30, $36, $37.50 to $55.00

Runabouts in cream, dark blue and grey; especially suitable for babies of more advanced age $12.50 to $17.00

Rattan Sulkies in cream and grey $11.00 to $15.00

With every carriage purchase we enclose a valuable booklet entitled "In the life of a baby." This booklet was written by a recognized authority on the care of babies and contains valuable advice on every phase of baby life.

IRISH PLAYLET MUCH ENJOYED

Pretty Setting, Good Dances and Music and Fun With Emmett, McAuliffe and Company.

Eugene Emmett, Jere McAuliffe and their excellent company of featured players, opened their second successful week at the Opera House yesterday, and received the same ovations as on previous evenings. Instead of a long story about the show here is given the programme so that all can see what an enjoyable evening's entertainment this excellent troupe is offering:

"Come Back to Connaught."

Irish Hornpipe, with Dwyer girls and Miss Russell dancing.

County Down—Eugene Emmett.

Mocking Bird, whistling solo—Miss Sheldon.

Annie Laurie, song—Miss Russell.

Novelty Number—Emmett & Company.

Mine all Mine, song—Mr. Emmett and Miss Macfarlane.

Reilly, I am Ashamed of You—Jere McAuliffe.

Irish Eyes, song—Mr. Emmett and Miss Marr.

Delia, song and dance—Miss Macfarlane.

Stories and Lies—Jere McAuliffe and Tom Lynch.

Lonesome for You—Miss Harding.

Old Swinmin Pool—The Dwyer Girls.

Till We Meet Again, trio, Misses Sheldon, Harding and Russell.

Santiago Flynn, comedy song—Tom Lynch.

Irish Melodies—Emmett and Company.

Come Back to Connaught—Emmett and Company.

The performance was attractive and bright throughout and went with vim and snap. It was a pleasing announcement that Mr. Emmett made that his good company will be here for another week.

The offering for the second half of this week is "Town Hall Follies," a rural comedy attraction.

EAST ST. JOHN NEEDS.

To The Editor of The Times:

Sir,—Will you kindly permit me space in your paper to ask the people of East St. John what they are going to do about a proper system of sewerage; also to ask the board of health if they will do their duty in this case and if our local member of parliament, Dr. L. M. Curran, will assist in this much needed system in East St. John.

At this time of the year every person should be fighting against typhoid fever, which is caused by open sewerage and breeding places for flies, and filthy drinking water which is always the case when sewerage runs loose. Let it be understood that cleanliness is as usual, next to godliness and slightly ahead of some forms of it. It would seem that in this case we must make our choice between a proper system of sewerage and water or the doctor and undertaker.

Thanking you in advance,

I am, yours truly,

JAS. A. SHEEHAN,

East St. John, N. B.

July 11, 1922.

A very enjoyable social was given in the Sunday school of the Church of St. James the Less at Renfrew last evening.

The affair was in charge of the Ladies' Aid Society and was presided over by Rev. Canon Daniel, rector of Rotherham parish. There were about 150 people present who showed their appreciation of the evening's programme.

DELIGHTFUL AT THE UNIQUE

Dramatic Production, With Alice Calhoun Starred in "The Angel of Crooked Street."

Alice Calhoun won increasing popularity when she was flashed upon the screen at the Unique Theatre yesterday in "The Angel of Crooked Street," a detective story with a novel twist.

The picture outlines the life of a young girl who, hired out as a maid in a small town to support her widowed mother. She was unjustly accused of a theft and sent to a reformatory. While there her mother died and this embittered the girl against the world, and especially against the narrow-minded people of the small town who were responsible for her position. Upon her release she went to a large city where she mingled with crooks, but endeavored to reform them. Faith throws her in the company of the son of a woman who wronged her and she plans her revenge. At this point the story becomes intensely dramatic and moves rapidly until the close when the girl and the woman come together and each forgets the difficulties that have separated them.

Alice Calhoun is one of the few stars capable of handling roles of all sorts. She is much at home in light comedy as she is in the intensely dramatic. In "The Angel of Crooked Street" she rises to great heights, especially in the scenes where she denounces the woman who sends her to prison, and in that which she triumphs over this woman when the son is accused of murder.
