SHORTAGE OF GASOLINE.
Difficulty in securing delivery of tank cars has caused considerable shortage in gasoline for a few days back. However, it was expected today's trains would relieve the situation. Some dealers doled out short rations to their customers, others had none to sell.

PYTHIAN GRAND CHANCELLOR.
Robert L. Slipp, Grand Chancellor of the Maritime Provinces, left the city at noon on an official visit to Westmorland Lodge, No. 3, at Moncton. Mr. Slipp says the grand lodge will meet at Summerside, P. E. I., the third week in August, at which numerous important matters will be taken up.

HIGH SCHOOL ENTRANCE CLASS.
Examination of papers written by Grade VII pupils seeing entrance into High School is going on, and it is probable the names of the successful boys and girls will be made known about the middle of this month. It is expected this year's entrants will number close to 800. In the school life of John J. Slipp, promotion from intermediate to high school is next to final graduation in importance.

THIRD ARBITRATOR NOT CHOSEN YET.
W. Frank Sheehy, arbitrator for the N. B. Power Company employees on the board of conciliation under federal government appointment in the wages dispute, and Geo. E. HILLSBORO M. P. P., IN CITY TODAY, CHEERY OVER COUNTY OUTLOOK.

J. L. Peck Sees Much Good to Come From Government Taking Over Railway

John L. Peck, M.P.A., of Hillsboro, N. B., was in the city today, after an Albert county man was optimistic over the prospects of his native health, the member from Albert is that gentleman. He is assured that the taking over of the Albert railway by the Ottawa government will prove a great boon to that section of country. Lumber and produce of all kinds will now find a market, and everybody is filled with encouragement and a willingness to work their agricultural and lumbering resources to the very limit.

On Saturday last General Manager Hayes of the Government Railway System made a detailed inspection of the branch railway and ordered many improvements, reconstructions and complete replacements. It is now certain the Albert road will be made thoroughly efficient and accommodating to both passenger and freight traffic.

Spreading of crop conditions in his constituency, Mr. Peck said he thought excessive rains have not had bad effects. A bounteous harvest in everything except wheat is constantly expected. Hay will be only a fair crop. In view of general favorable prospects and the certainty of prompt relief services, Albert county should come into her own this year with a ramp, and in anticipation of these cheerful thoughts, Mr. Peck has risen from ten to twenty-five per cent within the month.

MAY ESTABLISH SOCIAL WELFARE MISSION

Option on The Old Brussels Street Church Property Secured

An option has been taken on the old Brussels street church property by a body of energetic young men who have in mind the establishment of a community mission, along the lines of one conducted elsewhere in the city, though on a larger scale. The scheme is not far developed as yet, but if carried out will be a long step forward in social welfare work.

VERDICT FOR $2,500

Fegles-Bellows Company to Appeal From Judge Chandler's Court

In the supreme court this morning His Honor Judge Chandler ordered a verdict to be entered for the plaintiff in the case of F. Woodford Fulton vs. The Fegles-Bellows Engineering Co., Ltd. This case was tried before His Honor last week. The plaintiff claimed damages for injuries received while in the employ of the defendant company. Several questions were submitted to the jury, and before entering the verdict, His Honor said he would give consideration to the answers given to the questions.

The jury after answering the questions, assessed damages in favor of the plaintiff to the amount of $2,500, under the common law, and $500 under the Workmen's Compensation Act. His Honor this morning entered a verdict for the plaintiff for $2,500. George H. V. Baynes, K. C., and G. S. Keith appeared for the plaintiff, and F. R. Taylor, K. C., for the defendant. The case will be appealed. The court was adjourned until Tuesday morning next.

FARMERETTES TO BEGIN WORK ON WEDNESDAY

President Jessie Church of the Young Women's Patriotic Association—those girls who are willing to do men's work in war-time—with a party of twenty-five associates, will leave on Wednesday for F. C. Pawcett's farm near Seckville to pick strawberries for market. The cash proceeds of their labor will be devoted to patriotic funds. Mr. Pawcett grows berries on a large scale and gladly availed himself of the offer of the Y. W. P. A. The young ladies were to have gone to Seckville on last Saturday, but weather conditions made berry picking impossible.

While on the Pawcett farm the Y. W. P. A. members will live under canvas and have their own field kitchen, so the overly arduous work of berry picking will be offset by the splendid camping outing they expect to enjoy.

Lieut. A. P. Allingham Going To France

Organizer of Rotarians Here Writes to F. A. Dykeman of Success at Last in Getting Under Way to Scenes of War—Now in Springfield, Mass.

F. A. Dykeman, at the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday, read the following letter from Lieut. A. P. Allingham, who failed to get across with a Canadian unit but is now in a fair way to see France in another capacity than as a fighting man. Lieut. Allingham was the chief promoter and organizer of the Rotary Club in this city. After he joined the colors the club presented to him a handsome watch. Being unable to get overseas he went to Buffalo, N. Y., where Mrs. Allingham still lives, at 713 Ashland avenue. In his letter to Mr. Dykeman, in which he asks to be considered to all Rotarians and friends in St. John, Lieut. Allingham says:

Y. M. C. A. College, Springfield, Mass., July 4th, 1918.

My Dear Dykeman—You may be interested to know that I am on the first leg of the course bound for France. I have been accepted by the American Y. M. C. A., and been detailed for service with the French army because of my knowledge of that tongue and have been two weeks getting next to the duties that will be necessary. My position will be that of physical director; the qualification course will be four weeks here and a week at Columbia University or Princeton. The teachers are all men who have served abroad on this work and are able to tell us what it is like.

Our class is 800 strong and is made up of university professors, professional ball players, army men, two professional prize fighters who so far have proved themselves good clean fellows and good boxing instructors; we also have a real wrestler in the group. Our time is occupied exactly as though we were in school here and service, discipline is severe and from 6 a. m. to 9.30 p. m. we are kept at it.

We athletic fellows have to be competent to teach every game known and be able to put on most any old stunt. We took part in the 4th of July parade in town today and made a big hit as we had no band we sang our way through the streets with every old college and army song we could think of; the other paraders were too solemn.

When we came to the saluting base we saluted and gave the mayor or whoever was in the stand the college yell and then sang "Smile, Smile." It was an innovation which rather upset the staid people in the stand but they were all game when we began the song and "smiled" along with us.

There are some mighty fine fellows in this class; all men, too. We have a Judge of one of the courts in the state of Wisconsin who is all boy. My roommate is a Presbyterian parson from Oregon so you can see that we are a heterogeneous bunch of live wires. You would have a whale of a time with us, Old Top.

GAVE HIS LIFE IN WAR JUST YEAR AGO; ONE OF THREE IN KHAKI

One year ago Sunday Charlie N. Sinnott of St. John, the young soldier whose picture is here shown, gave up his life in the great war, killed in action in France. And on the anniversary of the day on which he made the supreme sacrifice his family and friends recall their soldier boy with pride mingled with sorrow that it was necessary that he should die so that right might prevail.

Private Sinnott was a son of Mrs. R. K. Kirkpatrick of 127 Sydney street. He was one of that gallant regiment, the 20th, which has won such a name in the war. He was only twenty years old. In peace days he worked at lumbering and farming but he laid all aside when came the call of men of blood and he went bravely forth to do his share in the world conflict. Also with him went in the same regiment his brother, William H., who is still where the grim work goes on, while another brother, Edward W., has since gone overseas. There are three smaller brothers at home, two sisters are at home and a third is Mr. George E. Duplissis of Gasperaux Station.

REPAIRING STORM'S DAMAGE.
Commissioner Fisher's men were at work this morning bright and early repairing rain-hole damage to principal city streets. Small stone and heavy sand were used. The civic thoroughfares suffered considerably in the recent deluge and work on the Main street paving and Union street sewerage excavations—preparatory to the permanent paving work—were held up and upset.
