Mines of Kemarkable Richness-The Work of Development Goes On.

Rossland, B. C., June 7.-I left Spokane in the early morning over the Spokane Falls & Northern railroad and arrived at Northport about noon. Northport is about eleven miles south of the boundry line and at Northport the pilgrims for Trail Creek cross the Columbia river by the ferry and take the stage for Rossland. The stage trip is fifteen miles along the Sheep creek route. I am free to confess that it is not the pleasantest fifteen miles staging that I have had. I did the trip on horseback once, but bad as that was, doing it by stage was infinitely worse, for the thing that does service for a road between Northport and Rossland is the despair of teamsters and pedestrians. On this trip I was wiser. I made the journey by steamer from Northport to Trail creek, landing a distance of twenty-four miles. The steamboat trip is a glorious one. The majestic Columbia rolling between mountains clothed with primeval forests save where some vandal torch has swept those forests away. It is a region of unsurpassed grandeur and beauty and tourists from far and near might well come hither to worship the goddess of nature in her primeval beauty. The boat lands at the mouth of the now famous Trail creek, and I would advise all visitors to make the seven miles between the Columbia and Rossland on foot.

But I am not here to paint the beauties of the mountain region. At Ross-land no one has time to think of that. A feverish thirst for gold takes hold of all who come hither.

A few years ago this was a region of surpassing loneliness as well as loveliness. The old Dewdney trail which led from New Wetminster to Fort Steele passed through. It was the route taken by the Kootenay gold seekers thirty years ago. Little did they dream then that these glorious mountains were honeycombed with richest golden ores. Little did they dream that at the head water of Trail creek would one day be located the richest gold mining camp in all the world. These are strong words but true. Rossland is to-day an agglomeration of tents and wooden shacks and wretched thoroughfares called but a few years from now it will be a NEWS mountain city filled with prosperous men, happy children and lovely women. The ore is mainly iron, gold and copper and the veins run approximately east. and west. The ore crops out along these veins miles apart and the parallel veins seem to run on both sides of the creek.

Comparatively little development work has been done except on three properties, the War Eagle, the LeRoi and the Josic. These mines are all working on different veins of ore and in the LeRoi and War Eagle there are at least two distinct

The War Eagle was bought by Mr. Patrick Clark of Spokane less man a year ago for $23,000. He spent probably $7000 opening up and developing the property. To-day the War Eagle is one of the famous gold producers of the world. The company pays in wages $10,000 a month. It pays to transportation companies some $20,000 and in dividends more than $30,000 a month. If this is not a record and a promise, I know not what is. A cold million has been offered for the property and declined. The genial superintendent of the Le Roi, Mr. George Bent, claims that great and valuable as the War Eagle is, the LeRoi is still more valuable. They have such quantities of ore that this generation will not see them exhausted and I am told their value is fabulous.

Judge George Turner tells me that 'ill conception of the wonderful value of the property, and this is its universal reputation.

The Josie, of which Mr. Frank Loring and Mr. George Crane, both of Spokane, are the principal owners, is a smaller property than either the War Eagle or 'ne LeRoi, but its value is beyond dispute. Higher up on the mountain a vast cre body has been discovered, and here the Columbia, the Kootenai, the North Star, the St. Elmo and half a dozen other properties are being developed. To the east of the War Eagle and the LeRoi are prospects like the Centre Star and the Great Western and on the west of the Josie, War Eagle and Le Roi all the were elected officers: President, C. ground has been taken up and developments are being made. Ledges and veins bearing a like quality of ore are found miles away from the central mines and these may prove more valuable than the parent discoveries. South of the creek are the R. E. Lee and the Maid of Erin. This is one of the most promising discoveries in the camp with pay ore right on the surface. Senator Wilson, Mr. Charles Voorhees and Col. John M. Burke are the principal owners in this property and Mr. Burke tells me that he knows of no better than the properties now owned by the R. E. Lee company. I have talked to old and experienced mining men like Col. Burke and Mr. Jas. Clark, as well as to mining engineers of such high standing as Mr. Clarence King, and all assure me that nowhere on this continent have such great results proceeded from so little development. Moreover the permanency and value of the camp can not be ques-

> Mr. Jas. Clark, the superintendent of the War Eagle, has been mining in California, Nevada, Utah, Montana and Idaho for almost a generation and never els of these mountains. Colonel Burke P. O. PROVISIONAL ALLOWANCE. is perhaps the most famous mine opera tor of the west. He has made and lost fortunes and here again his old time luck is upon him and he has mining interests which will bring him larger fortunes than ever before. I never heard him talk before so favorably of the outlook as he does of these mines, and he assures me that in three or four years from now Rossland will be the foremost gold and copper camp in the world. No one, however, must run away with the idea that fortunes are to be made here in a day; there is no chance for that. Prospects may be bought and sold and traders can make a little money in that ance of ten dollars per month to the way, but this is essentially a mining camp for capital and labor. Labor will have steady and continuous work in these mountains for generations to come, but money is needed to pay that labor and capital must receive the big reward from these mines. Great veins of ore are everywhere, but the rich paying ore bodies are necessarily scattered and the successful mine operator is the man who knows where to find these rich ore bodies. Moreover, the growth of Rossland and the largest development of these mines will depend upon the building of smelting plants right at the mines. It costs $8 or $10 a ton to haul the ores to the smelter in Montana and at Tacoma, and consequently ore only worth at least $20 a $29.10 to live on. They petitioned the ton can be profitably mined. The mo- government and it is alleged got the repment, however, reduction works are built here, $12 ores can be worked at a pro- of commons to present their case to the fit and when that time comes, as come it will, this camp will rival and even surpass Butte in its gold and copper product. At present about 130 tons of ore are being daily shipped along either the Trail Creek or Sheep Creek route. The Le Roi company have made a contract to deliver 75,000 tons of ore to a smelting company which is about to build reduction works at Northport, and this seems to me the natural course to follow in the treatment of these ores.

It is a pity that a more enterprising lot of men have not had the handling of to their duties. They were only on strike the townsite of Rossland. The situation for a town or city could not be better. It is really a beautiful and healthy situation and steps should be taken to have it laid out handsomely, but the folks up here who own the town land seem not to have yet realized the coming greatness of the place and their go-as-you-please kind of a policy is most disappointing to greatly inconvenienced. The people of Americans. However, it is essentially an American mining camp. Americans own the mines, do the work and run the stores, and will reap the rich harvest of by the clergy of all denominations (with the camp. Spokane in particular will be benefited, for it is Spokane money and Catholic church) and by other public Spokane men who own and operate these men, and they urged in the strongest mines and prospects.-P. Several Highly Encouraging Assays Obtained From Cariboo Creek Rock.

Stewart and his engineer corps have finished the preliminary survey for the extension of the N. & S. Ry. from 'Three Forks to Sandon. Eight hundred and twenty-two tons of ore were shipped out from the Le Roi, War Eagle and Josie last week. The Le Roi people have contracted to supply Boston and New York capitalists, headed by Capt. H. C. Thompson, with 75,000 tons of ore in two years.

The sum of $500,000 has been offered and refused for the Le Roi. An ore bin of 1,000 tons capacity is being put up at the Le Roi. Cobalt has been discovered as one of the adjuncts of Trail creek ore. It is reported that all the men working on the K. & S. Ry. will be paid in Kaslo. This will benefit the city, but he went through the LeRoi he had no will work a hardship on the men who are compelled to go so far to get their wages.

One hundred and twenty-five horses to be used on the construction of the railway were brought in on the Nelson Wednesday. They came from Bonner's Ferry.

The government is building a trail for about nine miles up to the north fork of the Carpenter. That section will be an exporter this fall. Development work on properties down the lake is crippled for want of trails. This is an excellent opportunity for the government to display its generosity. Five hundred dollars will be spent on the Cariboo creek trail. A three foot ledge of mica has been ocated across the lake from Nakusp. Warner and Strobeck are issuing a nap of the Ainsworth camp. About 250 claims are shown on it. Several highly encouraging assays were obtained last week on Cariboo creek rock. A recent assay on the Nancy Hanks, Springer creek, showed 218 ounces in silver and $8 in gold. Prospectors seldom take into the hills any more luxuries in the way of edibles than bacon, salt and oatmeal. But, the same as in everything else, the rule is occasionally broken. C. Brown, a painter from Nelson, went into the Slocan three years ago with an outfit such as has never been seen since. He had a sheet iron stove, two tents, canned oysters, mushrooms, cherries, and several other articles strictly unknown to a million prospectors when they are in active service. Premier Bowell's Statement Was Incorrectly Reported.

The reply of Premier Bowell to the question of Senator McInnes regarding the provisional allowance to postoffice employees was incorrectly given in the telegraphic reports. The official report of the senate proceedings is as follows:

Hon. Mr. McInnes (B.C.) inquired: Is it the intention of the government to do away with the provisional allowpostoffice clerks and letter carriers in Victoria, British Columbia, which they now receive in addition to their salary, and substitute in lieu thereof a fixed salary? If so, what will the fixed salary of consequence of a very unsatisfactory condition of affairs wuich exists in Vic toria. The allowance of $10 to third class clerks and the letter carriers was withheld for five months. Their regular salary, I understand, is $31 per month, and after paying their superannuation fee, which I believe is $1.90, it only left them resentatives from Victoria in the house postmaster-general time and again. Finally, the clerks and letter carriers pecame desperate. Not receiving a sufficient amount of pay to clothe and feed themselves and families, they went on strike for a few hours. In the meantime the Board of Trade took up the matter. At a meeting of the Board of Trade, the members from Victoria in the commons were present and stated that they did not at all blame the clerks and letter carriers for the position that they had taken, However, they advised them to go back a few hours, but a few hours after they had returned to work a telegram was received from the postmaster-general ordering them all to be discharged. The consequence was that for several days the Victoria postoffice service was in a thoroughly demoralized condition, and citizens, especially business men, were Victoria felt so much sympathy with these poor men that a large meeting was held in the city hall, which was addressed the exception, I think, of the Roman iately reinstate those clerks and letter carriers and pay their back salaries at least this provisional allowance of $10. which had accumulated to the amoun $50 for each. I believe that the resolutions passed at the public meeting were forwarded to the postmaster-general, and a copy was sent to the present premier, who was then acting premier in the absence of the late Sir John Thompson Nothing was done, I understand, to rectify the gross injustice done these people, until, through the kind intercession of His Excellency with the present prime minister and the postmaster-general, those people were placed back in their former positions and received their back pay. As far as I have been able to learn there is no provisional allowance made for similar employes of the government other than in the province of Manitoba, the Terrotories and British Columbia. I see no good reason why this provisional allowance should be made. I am strongly of opinion that it would be much better-certainly better for those letter carriers and postoffice clerks-if they had a fixed salary, the same as they have in other provinces of the Dominion. Even with the provisional allowance of $10 added to their salary of $31, and deducting their superannuation fee, it only amounts to $29.10 a month, a salary altogether inadequate to the positions they occupy and services rendered, because I need not remind the house that those officials have to be educated and responsible men and ought to live in keeping with their positions. It is certainly in the interest of those people, and I believe in the interest of the service and the public, that a fixed salary should be allowed each of those employes and that it should not be less than $50. Taking into consideration how expensive it is to live in the western provinces, especially British Columbia and the Territories, $50 a month would not go as far towards supporting those people and their wives and families as $35 would in the older provinces. From looking over the report of the postmaster-general I think that in nearly all the cities of the eastern portion of Canada they receive between $45 and $50 a month. I hope that the government will at once increase their salaries to not less than the figures I

Hon. Sir Mackenzie Bowell-It is not the intention of the government at the present moment to do away with the provisional allowance to postoffice clerks and letter carriers in Victoria, B. C. When they do come to a decision to do away with that extra provisional allowance, they will then adopt a scale of salary commensurate with the positions
