STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION.

With regard to what President Ross has said on the subject of street railway extension, the citizens expected no less than that he would say the company is kindly disposed toward St. John. But that will not lay any rails. It is not clear, from what Mr. Ross says, what he would consider the proper thing for the city to do with regard to Douglas avenue, in order to have the street railway built out to the bridges. The matter has been under discussion in connection with the work the city has been doing on that thoroughfare, but whether Mr. Ross and his friends will be satisfied with what the city is doing is still an open question. The matter is of sufficient importance to call for a conference between the representatives of the city and the company, when the annual meeting of the latter is held. The company has been well treated by the city corporation, and if the directors are kindly disposed toward St. John they will no doubt be ready to manifest the feeling by meeting the council in a friendly spirit and displaying some of that business enterprise which should characterize such a company.

FOR NORTHERN ONTARIO.

A good deal has been said in the press during the last year concerning what is called new Ontario. The great western province has apparently but recently discovered that it contains in the northern part of the province immense wealth in natural resources. A tide of immigration is now setting in toward this new country, which, in the estimation of Ontario people has now become a great rival of the far west, as a field for home seekers. A particularly favored region appears to be that around Lake Temiscaming. Last October the commissioner of crown lands and the director of colonization visited the district and looked into its capabilities. As a result of this party of two hundred home seekers, representing every part of Ontario, left last week to make an inspection of the country with a view to settling there.

An Ottawa despatch says that if Mr. Chamberlain's views prevail the reconstruction of the judicial committee will be a radical one, and will provide a snug berth for the Canadian who may be a member. The despatch says: "At present Canada is represented on the committee for purposes of Dominion appeals by the Chief Justice of the supreme court. But if Mr. Chamberlain's proposal is carried out, our representative will be a full-fledged lord, with a seat for life in the House of Peers of the realm, and holding office as a member of the judicial committee for seven years at a salary of $30,000 a year, paid by the imperial government."

At Birmingham last week Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, addressing the annual meeting of the Oddfellows, referred to old age pensions, a subject to which he paid considerable attention some years ago. He did not discuss the matter as one that could be made a measure of government policy pure and simple, or as one of universal application, but as a policy "or the promotion of thrift that might be materially aided by the great friendly societies."

Arrangements have been made for the Canadian tour of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. They are to receive a grand state welcome at Quebec on Sept. 15th, and thence to Montreal, Ottawa, and west to the Pacific Coast. On the return east they will spend a week in Ontario, and from Montreal will come over the C. P. R. to St. John and on to Halifax, sailing from Halifax on Oct. 15th for St. John's, Newfoundland.

The Montreal Witness is not pleased with Mr. Tarte. Concerning his conference with representatives of Montreal shipping and commercial interests last week, it says he "simply buried the question at issue under a mountain of generalities," and that he "had his mind made up not to grant their request in any case."

A large party of shanty men from the backwoods of Quebec, who are expected in Montreal daily, are to be quarantined by order of Dr. Bryce, as smallpox is said to be prevalent among them. Several new cases have been reported about Pembroke.

Some people do not seem to know when they are well off. It is the Montreal policemen who are now finding fault. They are complaining because their hours are too long, which, by the way, are two hours shorter than those of the police in most other cities.

The population of Saint, Ste. Marie is now 8,000, and there is considerable talk of its incorporation as a city before the end of the year.

CONSUMPTION.

Reflections on the Recent American Congress of Tuberculosis.

Dr. Ulrich's Views—The Sun Cures—Progress of the Sanitarium Idea.

(N. Y. Mail and Express.)

To the American Congress of Tuberculosis—the assembly of doctors in this city who came recently to lift up their heads and their hands, as well as their souls, against the king of all diseases—there came a very old physician, who went quite against the ideas of the younger specialists. He told them to begin with, that tuberculosis is hereditary. That it is not transmitted the best authorities have for some time been telling us, and, of course, the lay mind is bound to bow to their wisdom and experience; but the lay mind has not yet quite succeeded in understanding the mystery of its appearance in successive generations, together with insanity and other related things. But the chief point of the address of this venerable physician, Dr. Ulrich, was his announcement of his adhesion to something like the doctrine of eugenics in connection with tuberculosis. He advised, in brief, that in every case of confirmed consumption, the physician should "desist from all effort to prolong life," and simply should make the patient as comfortable as possible, "even if the means employed should have a tendency to shorten life." Will the sympathy of the people in general, and of the medical profession be with this view?

Hardly, though it may be the view of common sense and the broadest humanity. If the case of tuberculosis really is confirmed and hopeless, there is certainly no use in trying to cure it. The fact has been recognized in principle in many individual cases, yet still the victim does not stay at home to die—he at best merely comes home to die. The physician must recognize the logic of despair on the part of his friends, just as he must recognize the peculiar optimism, the confidence in ultimate recovery, which is very common in consumptive patients themselves. In short, the patient must be given chance for his life, even when there is no chance. Pain, distress, the agony of hopeless travel, the strife after vain medicines—all these things represent the eternal protest of the spirit against the tyranny of matter. The old physician doubtless is wise, it must be admitted that he is merciful; but the world is not yet philosophical enough to accept his wisdom.

Meantime, short of this sad line of the "confirmed and hopeless," the congress of tuberculosis has many encouraging things to tell the world. "Consumption," said Dr. Pryor, of Buffalo, is the only disease which causes a man to die simply because he is poor." Yet the general community is doing a great deal for the poor consumptive, and Dr. Mason, Dr. Ely, and others have shown that the poor can do much for themselves. State sanitariums and state-aided as well as private sanitariums are curing many cases of early consumption. Excellent results are obtained not only in France, where the movement for state-aided sanitariums for consumption originated, but here in New York State. Even the poor denizens of this tenement may be able to keep his body and his mind in the open air, and breathe the air of his will; he may, as Dr. Blewett said, go to Coney Island, bathe in the air and sun, and get in six months of summer enough of the sun cure to keep him well during the winter. People who know what they can do for themselves in this regard. Such meetings as the assembly of experts may help to teach them, and other and systematic efforts should be taken to disseminate information on this subject.

Not long ago we published a statement showing that many cures of consumption in its early stages had been effected by a Massachusetts physician by the simple process of making his patients sleep in the open air. This method has its dangers, no doubt, and should not be resorted to except under competent medical guidance. Yet there is the germ of a great truth in it, which the medical profession now fully recognizes. Air, sun, the abundance of fresh interiors—these are the best known weapons against the early cure of consumption, while public sanitariums on high lands in healthy districts, with state aid judiciously expended, point the way to a great amelioration of present conditions.

CAPE BRETON RAILWAY EXTENSION.

SYDNEY, N. S., June 2.—A despatch from New York says that Mr. Van Alken, chief engineer of the Manhattan Construction Company, with a staff of engineers, left that city Saturday for St. Peter's, C. B., to begin work on a railway from the Strait of Canso to Louisbourg.

The company is known as the Cape Breton Railway Extension and is backed up by the Vanderbilt's. Dr. Webb, a family connection, is president of the company.

The railway will touch Caribou Cove, terminating at Louisbourg. A number of mineral areas along the line have been bonded by American capitalists.

It is said that the new railway is a link of a new railway system from New York to Cape Breton, from whence a fleet of fast steamships will run to Europe.

HAS AMENDED COMPLAINT.

(Leslie's Weekly.)

A man wearing a bandage across one eye called at a solicitor's office and declared that he must have a divorce from his spouse. By way of cause he complained that his wife made a practice of showing things at his dog.

"You can't get a divorce for that," explained the solicitor.

"The worst of it is," complained the husband, "every time she throws at the dog she hits me."

CENTENARY SUNDAY SCHOOL.

In place of the usual Sunday evening service in Centenary church last evening the annual anniversary of the Sabbath school was held. The order of service was as follows: Invocation. Opening hymn, No. 820. Prayer by the pastor. Scripture reading, Psalm 121. Music by the choir. Recitation. Master Frank Smith. Secretary's report, read by G. E. Barbour. Chorus by primary class. Address by pastor. Orchestral selection. Hymn 437. Benediction. The officers of the Sunday school are: Rev. John Read, D. D., pastor; J. Hunter White, superintendent; E. R. Chapman, associate superintendent; G. C. Barbour, secretary; Arthur Beal, associate secretary; Harold Lyman, treasurer; M. L. Harrison, leader of orchestra; R. Mowat Smith, leader of singing; J. E. Angeline, librarian; Arthur Irvine, assistant; Jas. Dinmore, librarian primary department; Miss Trueman and Miss Nellie Macmillan, pianists.

By the secretary's report it was shown that the total enrollment of the school was 249, made up as follows: Primary department, 35; intermediate department, 46; junior department, 64; senior department, 66; Bible department, 48. There are eight officers and 32 regular teachers. The average attendance for the past year has been: Officers, 8; teachers, 22; scholars, 189; total, 183.

The school is composed of 31 classes, divided into two sections—the primary and intermediate. Departments composed of ten classes being under the management of E. R. Chapman, and the junior, senior and Bible departments, 21 classes, under J. Hunter White.

The home department, with a membership of fifty, under the management of Mrs. C. P. Palmer, is doing good work and the results of the temperance and missionary work are very satisfactory. The year's work was begun with a balance on hand of $151.13, and during the year $450.34 has been raised, which was disposed of as follows:

For papers, etc.	$115.67
School expenses	22.50

Missions	264.07
Church funds	123.05
Total	$554.17

leaving a balance of $27.55 now on hand.

The grading system of promotion as introduced last year has been continued. Three written examinations were held during the year and the increased interest of the majority of the scholars has been very satisfactory to the grading committee.

FREDERICTON.

FREDERICTON, N. B., June 2.—The death occurred Saturday evening of Dr. Harry Gregory, after an illness of only a few days, with acute Bright's disease. He was a son of the late Dr. Thomas Gregory of Fredericton, and a nephew of Judge Gregory. Deceased, who was thirty-six years of age, graduated M. D. at the University of New York and took up the practice of his profession at Centreville, subsequently removing to Stanley, where he married. Later he moved to Prince William, and a little over a year ago came to this city, where he had built up a successful practice. He leaves a widow, one child, mother and brother John, at Antigonish, and sister, Mrs. E. H. Allen, of Moncton. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock on Monday.

An interesting and largely attended ordination service was held at the cathedral this forenoon, when Rev. N. H. Gillies was ordained priest, and F. M. C. Bedell of Musquash was ordained deacon. Rev. Mr. Gillies will immediately be appointed rector of Cambridge, Queens county, and Mr. Bedell will assist Dean Partridge at the cathedral, which office has most acceptably been filled by Mr. Gillies for the past year. Rev. W. J. Wilkins of Bay du Vin assisted at the ordination service.

Lt. Col. Lorgie and Dunbar are very desirous of procuring a rifle range for the use of local marksmen. Two recently selected have not been approved by the militia department and on Friday Major Weatherhead was here looking at another site at Gibson, less than two miles from the drill hall. If a good range can be obtained adjacent to the city, rifle shooting would be very popular here, where there are many crack shots.

The Oddfellows of Fredericton are to run an excursion to Houlton on July 4th.

William J. Betts, formerly of the R. C. R. I. here, and who served with his company in the Yukon, was killed on a railway at Somerville, Mass., a few days ago.

The recent agitation by the W. C. T. U. for the appointment of a Scott Act inspector, resulted in the police officers receiving instructions a few days ago to report all known violations of the act. The outcome is that last night summons were served upon fifteen alleged vendors of the ardent, to appear before Police Magistrate Archambault.

"SARAH" AND THE CLIMATE.

Sarah Bernhardt, in an interview on America and Americans, says that the only thing she has really to complain of concerning the country is its weather. She met, she said, more storms during her last year there than she has known abroad in years.
