BOUGHT A "KING'S DAY" FOR SUM OF $500,000?

A Surprising Scandal Now Being Told In London; A Rich American Figures.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Mayfair besides a nickname on almost everyone and George Kessler of New York is now familiarly known as "The Yankee River King." "Riverdale," the Elizabethan mansion on the banks of the Thames, which he bought a while ago, and renamed New York Lodge, has now been transformed by him from a beautiful old-world house to a sort of a small edition of the Carlton hotel.
The alterations were finished this week and cost $500,000.

But money is evidently no object to Mr. Kessler. Society has been amazed at his doings, and is still more amazed at a story about him which is now going the rounds. This affirms that Mr. Kessler's ambition is to entertain King Edward at New York Lodge.

He made this proffer of becoming a royal host in the proper quarter, and it is said to have been intimated that if he cared to donate $500,000 to the King's hospital fund, in all probability His Majesty would find time to go up the river and make the acquaintance of the donor for a day, perhaps a weekend.

In view of the charges recently made in parliament that honors have been freely bought and sold, society is only too ready to believe the latest story. One is always hearing statements about the sale of honors, but until lately it was generally agreed that the statements emanated from the disappointed folks.

But the fact that the latest charge was made in the House of Commons and that the prime minister and ex-prime minister buried an inquiry into the subject, has made the allegation one for serious thought. So perhaps Mr. Kessler's little "bill" is to be reality $500,000.

By the way, Andrew Carnegie gave this same fund to the King's hospital fund a week or two ago. In view of the Kessler story, society is asking what significance attaches to Mr. Carnegie's gift?

Recently there was attached to the Prince of Wales Household a Scotchman whose capacity for bluntness scarcely fits him for the delicate duty of court. The Princess of Wales, who has a burning desire that her husband should be as popular with the people as is the King, is always endeavoring to find out the exact feeling with which the people regard him, and queries every newcomer in the establishment for information. Calling the latest addition to her side one day, she said:

"Now tell me the honest truth; what do the people say about the prince?"

"Why, how should I know, ma'am?" he replied.

"Don't say such a thing as that.
You do know and I do want to hear." After some consideration and feeling that there was no way out of it, the Scotchman blurted out: "Well, ma'am, to tell you the truth, they say he drinks like a fish."

"How disgraceful and unjust, too, of them to say such a thing," returned the princess with tears in her eyes.
"What an untruth, too. I really don't think you should have told me such a thing."

People in the royal entourage now say that the Scot has come to the end of his tether, and that he won't get a royal post again in a hurry.

HE WAS TOO HASTY.

A prominent automobilist condemned scorching at a dinner.

"I condemn," he said, "scorching and the scorcher, but I don't condemn the accused man hastily. Hasty condemnation is always a mistake. Once on a Canadian railway I got off the train for a few minutes luncheon at a railway eating bar. There was a man beside me gobbling away, and when he finished I heard him say bitterly, as he took out his purse, 'It's the worst ham sandwich I ever ate. No more taste than sawdust and so small you could hardly see it.'"

"You've got yer ticket," said the waiter. "This here's yer ham sandwich."

TRAGEDIES.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 26.—A Wheeling, West Virginia, special says: "A torpedo struck the towns of Woodfield and Newcastle, Ohio, today, wrecking a number of buildings and doing other damage. The home of Samuel Bartlett, near Woodfield, was destroyed.
A child was torn from its mother's arms and carried nearly a quarter of a mile and killed."

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 26.—Charles H.
Andrews, of South Bend, Ind., shot and killed his wife in the Saratoga Hotel today and then committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.
The cause of the tragedy is unknown.
On a table in the room was found a letter evidently written by Andrews and addressed to C. W. Andrews, Jr., Elkhart, Ind. The letter contained the following sentence, which leads the police to believe that the murdered woman may not have been Mrs. Andrews:
"Ethel and myself have not been feeling very well of late, you know the reason why. There is a good boy and mind your mother."

There was no sign of a struggle in the room and Andrews had evidently killed the woman while she was facing him and without giving her any warning.

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 26.—The explosion of a boiler in Robbins & Spencer's factory and feed mills here today resulted in the serious injury of four persons and was responsible for a fire which destroyed the plant and that of Armour & Co. adjoining. The fire entailed an estimated loss of $80,000; partly covered by insurance.

AMESBURY, Mass., Aug. 26.—Within a few strokes from the two companies, and but a hundred yards from the shore of Lake Attitash, Frank Jones, a 19-year-old Lawrence, Mass., young man, was drowned today. Jones with five friends had been camping. The body has not been recovered.

WEBSTER, Mass., Aug. 26.—Mrs. L.
E. Pattison, wife of a prominent lumber merchant committed suicide today by drowning in the South Pond of Webster Lake. Mrs. Pattison, who was ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF SELLING OBSCENE CARDS

Philadelphia Manufacturer Who Did a Big Business, a Victim of Morality Campaign

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27.—Charged by United States postal inspectors with the wholesale selling of obscene postal cards, Gustave P. Lang, of this city, who traded under the name of the Post Card Novelty Co., was arrested today and held in bail for trial. The arrest of Lang is regarded as the most important capture yet made in the crusade made against the objectionable cards.

The case was brought to the attention of the authorities by a resident of Rome, who received a sample series of postals. It is said the nature of the cards led him to complain and the arrest of Lang followed. After he had been taken into custody Lang's place of business was searched. The officials claim that in addition to hundreds of the obscene cards, abundant evidence in the way of orders shipped to individuals and firms throughout the country was discovered. One firm in New York, it is asserted, ordered 22, 000 cards, while there were other orders ranging from 100 to 5,000. The postal authorities say Lang is a wholesaler and has agencies in many cities.
It is understood he has other employees who are known as "Road Agents" and whose business it is to go to the smaller towns and take orders which are filled direct from this city.
It is said several arrests will be made.

GREAT INCREASE IN PULP AND PAPER INDUSTRY

this state being $7,515,045, which was almost one-fourth of the total product of the United States. In the production of fine paper, Massachusetts is by far the most important state, reporting 55 per cent. of the total quantity of the paper produced and 67 1/2 per cent. of the total value.

MATERIALS.

The total cost of materials used in this industry in 1905 was returned as $11,251,475. Of this total, $7,633,164 represented the cost of wood pulp and other purchased, wood pulp appears as a product of the industry as well as a material. Considering the industry as a whole, wood pulp is essentially a partially-finished product. Its prominence as a material in the published statistics depends upon the extent to which the paper mills purchased wood pulp and fiber from other mills, making it for sale. Of the total wood pulp produced, 40 1/2 per cent. was made for sale. In 1900 the corresponding proportion was 55 1/2 per cent. This indicates a growing tendency to combine the growing manufacture of wood pulp and the finished product.

The principal raw materials used in the paper industry are wood, usually spruce or poplar, rags (used for fine paper), old or waste paper, manila stock, jute bagging, rope, straw, sulphur, clay, etc. The most important of all these measured by quantity and cost is wood. In the paper and wood pulp industry over three million cords of wood, having a total value of over $20,000,000 were used in the year covered by the census of 1905. The consumption of rags in this industry was in tonnage, 24,955, and in value $3,864-007. Of old or waste paper, 58,545 tons were used with the reported cost of $7,430,335. The value of sulphur and other chemicals used in the industry represents a total of $3,331,330. The item of fuel was $13,178,567.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

The exports of paper and manufactures of paper in 1905 are reported as $3,238,098; the imports as $5,623,438. Accordingly the exports exceeded the imports by $2,385,340, or 46 1/2 per cent. Up to 1897 the importation of paper exceeded in value the export, but since that year, the balance has been the other way. The exports as well as the imports of paper in the year 1905 were greater than in any preceding year in which figures are presented.
In 1905, 167,504 tons of wood pulp were imported, having a value of $4,509,583.
This represented about one-fifth of the total quantity of wood pulp and was purchased for use in this industry.

JUMPED OVERBOARD THREE MILES FROM SHORE

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 26.—Determined he would not make the voyage on the ship he had been engaged to make, a sailor belonging to a steamer which had cleared from Ingonnig dock for the United Kingdom, has made his escape in the midst of the fierce storm which raged along the Atlantic Sunday by swimming ashore, nearly three miles distant, and has not since been seen.

Last week four sailors deserted from the steamer and it was thought they came to Halifax, where they would try and sail on some foreign bound ship. The Halifax police and the shipping master were notified with the result that the deserters were arrested.
They appeared before Stenbury Magistrate and were ordered back on their ship. Detective Humahan and Officer White left with the men Saturday and handed them over to the Captain, who placed them under surveillance. That night the gang plank was drawn in and the vessel steamed down the bay and anchored three miles from the land.

Yesterday the captain came to town and told the story of the how of one of his men. It was shortly after noon, he said, when the storm was at its height, that he heard cries for help from a man who was being tossed about by the mountainous seas. A boat was lowered with great difficulty and the man, who was identified as one of the deserters, was rescued and taken aboard.
