disposing of the arches said the expense of tearing down the structures could be saved the city by selling or giving them to persons said to be desirous of securing them. The King street arch, he suggested, be placed by the city in Rockwood park, Ald. Christie would oppose such an un dertaking if the second erection of the Director Cushing said the arch could be put up in the park for $150. This was exclusive of the expenditure for taking it off King street. The conclusion reached was that the committee was of the opinion that the city should place the arch in the park, city should place the arch in the park, if arrangements can be made. Henry Hilyard said the W. C. T. U. of North End had intimated a desire to get the Douglas avenue arch. It was decided to leave disposal of the structure in the hands of Messrs. Hilyard and

The committee decided to preserve the figure surmounting the Broad street arch for the purpose of placing it on Agricultural Hall on the exhibition grounds. Director Cushing was authorized to dispose of the balance of the structure.

After a vote of thanks was moved to the director of public works for his indefatigable efforts in connection with the preparations, some expressions of condefatigable efforts in connection with the preparations, some expressions of congratulation were passed. Mayor Daniel said that St. John lad sufficient reason to congratulate itself for its part.

Hon. R. J. Ritchie and James F. Robertson voiced similar sentiments. The former said the people were especially to be congratulated for the order maintained. Most of those who came before him for violations were from outside the city.

Ald. Baxter said St. John was immeasurably ahead of Halifax in its celebration, while W. M. Jarvis repeated expressions of praise from Vice-Counsel Keating, of Portland, Me., who is an engineer, on the appearance of the city.

Mayor Daniel presumed the members had read the correspondence relative to the railway station incident. The matter had been fully explained and he hoped it was at an end.

Farmer at Central Hampstead Has Narrow Escape from Death.

On Saturday last, at Central Hampstead, Farmer Bradford Palmer was seriously injured by a ferocious bull, which attacked him in a field. The injured man, who weighs over 200 pounds, was thrown several feet in the air. When he descended, the animal renewed his attacks and threw the prostrate farmer about the ground. Timely assistance saved Mr. Palmer from probable death.

Besides a broken colar bone, Mr. Palmer sustained considerable other injury.
