Health and Sanitation.--- The health of these people has not been good, especially during the past winter. Considerable tubercular trouble in different forms has been noticed, but resident medical attendants with good hospital accommodation have been able to cope with many cases.

A case of scarlet fever was promptly quarantined and dealt with in time to avert a spread of the disease.

Occupations.-- Fishing, logging and carpentry are among the many crafts to which these people can turn their hands, a good number of them working in the sawmills. A few, however, do considerable hunting.

Buildings.-- The buildings at this village are among the finest to be seen along the coast, many of them surpassing, in size and appearance, the best dwellings of the white settlers.

Stock.-- Some of the Indians here own bulls and milch cows. Accommodation for them, however, is only fair.

Farm Implements.-- Farm implements are not used on this reserve.

Characteristics and progress.-- These Indians are industrious, and are making steady progress. An annual Horticultural and Industrial Exhibition, in which the Indians displayed a most creditable collection of native industries, household arts, paintings, and domestic industries, was held last fall.

Temperance and Morality.-- The existence of an hotel near the reservation has a very bad effect upon the moral tone of this village, many drunks and lewd persons sometimes finding their way to cabins off the reserve to which Indian women are allured and supplied with liquor. Generally speaking the moral
