PROSPECTUS

THE LITERARY GARLAND, A Monthly Magazine,

TO BE PEVOTED TO LITERATURE AND SCIENCE

WHILE so many publications of a political character find a liberal support in public indulgence and generosity, it surely will not be deemed presumptuous to hope that one of a purely literary nature may find a corresponding degree of favor and encouragement; tending, as it would, to form a species of relaxation from the tedium of political speculation, and to enliven, if in a triding degree, some of the hours which taight otherwise be burthered with enquiened with ennui.

In this hope, it is proposed, by an Amateur in Interary Horticulture, to devote a few leisure hours to the cultivation of the nearly unbroken ground of Canadian Literature, fearing not that a field so fair and promising will fail to yield an abundant return for the labour expended in reclaiming it. He does not seruple to confess, that the flowers with which the literary graden will, for a time, be deeded, will be principally culted and borrowed from the parterns of the confession of the confession of the parterns of the confession of the confessi be principally culted and borrowed from the parterns of more productive climes; but, as such only will be selected as can be selected as can be readily acclimated, there is little danger but that they will expand as fully as in their native solt, which, by implanting in natise hearts the germ of honorable emblation, they may assist in fostering into strength or growth of native flowers as rich and luxuriant as the most beautiful of their foreign rivals. With this view, it is proposed to issue, no nothing, a Magazine corresponding to the above title, containing the usual variety of poetry and prose, of tales and sketches, historical and fictitious, with accasionally a me hanical or philosophical treatise, which, by blending instruction with amusement, will render the Magazine a fit companion for the study as well as the drawing-room, for the latter of which however, it is of course more particularly designed.

as well as the drawing-room, for the latter of which, however, it is of course more particularly designed. The work will consist of forty-eight royal cetavogages, and will be printed on good paper, with peautiful new type, and in as fair a style as it is possible to attain. The price is fixed at Three Bollars a year to city subscribers—postage being, as matter of course, added to those who favour us will be issued as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers have been obtained to guarantee a reimbursement of the funds expended in the mechanical part of the undertaking.

No payments will be expected before the principal and the publication of the twelfth, it is confidently anticipated that all subscriptions will be cheerfully paid. Should the loop of the publisher of the success of the undertaking he realized, it is intended to enlarge and beautify the work with Music, Engraving, Sec., so as to render it unsurpassed by any American.

The Magazine will be printed and published by the undersigned, at Montrial, by whom all letters and orders, postage paid, will be attended to with gratitude and punctually.

That the public may be able to form some idea of

That the public may be able to form some idea of Morrison's Fills by their great consumption, the following calculation was made by Mr. Wirk, Clerk to the Stamp Office, Somerset House, in a period of six years, (part only of the time that Morison's Fills have been before the public, be number of stamps delivered for that medicine amounted to three willion, time burshred, and one thousand.

The object is placing the foregoing before the public is to deduce therefrom the following powerful argument in favour of Mr. Morrison's system, and to which the public attention is directed, namely, that it was only by trying an innocuous purgative medicine to such an extent that the truth of the Hygeian system could possibly have been established. It is efear that all the underland me in England, or the world, put together, have not tried a system of vegetable purgation to the extent and in manner prescribed by the Hygeids. How, therefore, can they (much less individually) know any thing about the extent of its properties the extent of its properties
