EDITORIAL NOTES.

Several letters of enquiry have reached us respecting the Can. Meth, Magazine. Subscribers have received. two copies in many instances, and wish to know the cause. We suppose one was a specimen copy but enquiries should be addressed directly to the Toronto Office, as we have no information to give on the subject.

What of transfers this year? There is a resolution of Transfer Committee, that Officers of Annual Conferences may make interchanges, subject to the decision of said Committee. Would it be well, if transfers of this year are to be limited to those by invitation, or such as could be effected by interchanges, to avoid the heavy expense of sending four men to Toronto? $300 or $400 could be laid out to better advantage, perhaps than in paying for nothing. But this is the opinion only of an indi-

THEOLOGICAL TEXT BOOKS .- Probationers should have been notified by the Secretaries of examining Committees that Rawlinson's History has been substituted for Schmitz, as the latter could not be obtained, being out of print. Notice was sent to interested parties from the Book Room early in the year.

THE COLLEGE QUESTION.

The general demand, on the part of the various colleges in the Province, for Dr. Wilson, $2; Miss Deeler, 2; an increase of the Legislative aid now received by them is met by a bill brought in this week by the Provincial Secretary providing that during a term of five years the grants shall be as follows: To Dalhousie, $3,000; to St. Francis Xavier's and St. Mary's, ($1500 each) $3,000; to King's, $2,400; to Acadia, $2,400; and to Mount Allison,

Three large triangular-headed serpents having been discovered amongst a cargo of Indian sugar on board the Robertus A. McKendrick, 2; Self, 1; great alarm spread amongst the shipping in the harbour. The crew, however, succeeded in killing two of the serpents in the hold by feeding them with poisoned pigeons, and the third was enticed on the upper deck, where a large jar of poisoned milk had been placed, which the animal partly consumed, and then died under horrible convulsions.

One peculiar characteristic of Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is its power of decomposing the food in the Stomach, rendering digestion and assimilation more perfect. This partly accounts for the rapidity with which patients take on flesh while using the article.

Job Printing neatly and promptly executed at this Office.

THIS standard remedy for coughs and colds and other pulmonary and bronchas aliments, was first put before the public in 1826 and ever since then, a period of half a century it has maintained and increased its reputation.

In the meantime, probably thousands of the so-called cough remedies, under every concavable name, have appeared, been puffed, had their day and most of them sank into the oblivion from which they never should have emerged to cheat invalids with false hopes of cure.

Though no infalliable virtues are claimed for this medicine, it is but just to say that it possesses the following excellencies:—

following excellencies:

L. On many cases of cough if exerts an almost specific remedial influence, and the cases are very few which it quite fails to benefit. Long standing cases and those of aged persons are almost always greatly relieved.

2. Its action is speedy and pleasant; its taste is not disagreeable; and its dose is small. The last point is sure to be appreciated by the invalid.

3. It has received medical sanction, and has been frequently prescribed by some of our leading physicians.

Add to the above that, when the smallness of its dose is considered, it is even cheaper than the common 25 cent Cough Drops and Syrups, of the Druggists.

This remedy has held its way and attained its present reputation by its own merit, with little aid from advertising. It has an established sale, and those who know it will always use it when they need such aid.

But while our climate remains what it is, the army of sufferers from throat and lung complaints will always be a large one, and continually reinforced by new recruits. That all such may be acquainted with this reliable medicine is the aim of this advertisement.

SAMPLE NOTICES:-" We have received from Mr. C. W. Coates, of the Montreal Book Room, a handsome picture, which he has just published, entituled "Infantry." It is made up of a spleudid array of photographs of babies. We have babies fat and babies thin; babies laughing and babies crying; babies smiling and babies frowning. This picture will be quite a domestic favorite, especially with those who have babies of their own."—Christian Gnardian.

"The group represents five rows of infants, ten deep. They are of all kinds, large and small, fat thin, and medium; laughing, crying, staring, winking, thinking, scolding, crowing, pouting, frowning, bathing, scratching their heads, and sucking their fingers; and in every case the expression of features has been caught by the photographic instrument at the very best time. This picture is recommended to the notice of the Bachelors' Society."—Montreal Witness.
