Salvation Army Will Hereafter Pay More

While the provincial government in nigration department contemplates oringing settlers to this province, the Salvation Army are arranging to place thousands of settlers in Canada during the coming winter season. The army took a preminent part in this work last year, nearly 15,000 settlers being brought to Canada. Of this umber, however, only about five thousand settled in this province. Colonel Turner stated this morning that the army would carry on the work on a larger scale during the wingineer Clark had told him about seven ter season. Lady Crofton Didn' Elope With Lord Montague After All

It Was Another Monta gue, the Baronet Explains

Incidents Which Led Everyone to Believe His Lordship Guilty

A Drama Which Has Been the Talk of London

LONDON, Nov. 3.-A most remarkable case of mistaken identity came to light today in connection with the Lady Crofton-Montague elopment, the chief factors in which drama sailed yesterday from New York on the Kron Prince Wilhelm. All London so ciety, a couple of months ago, heard with shrugs and whisperings that the young and extremely pretty wife a well known baronet had run away with another man. Another case fo the divorce court, said the gossips and the matter was dismissed as presenting no features of extraordinar

This, however, was far from being the case. There was one man who tually was not concerned in the yet who began to have his su posed connection with it brought up against him at every turn. This was Lorn Montague, of Beaulieu, M.P., for New Forest, Deputy Lieutenant Hampshire, founder and editor of th Car, and one of the pioneers of auto mobilism and aeroplaning in England "I am glad to have the opportunit with Lady Crofton, the wife of Sir Morgan George Crofton," said Lord Montague of Beaulieu today, to your correspondent. "You have got the wrong man" he went on. "The real individual is another Montague. I have been considerably annoyed by the questions of my friends concerning the matter. In fact, the whole business shows how the best of circumstantial evidence is always dangerous. A Remarkable Story

"It is quite a remarkable story, as you shall hear. The first I heard of was on my return from Paris, a week or two ago. On my first visit to the House of Lords one of my friends came up to me, saying rather reproachfully, 'My Dear Montague; so glad to see you back again. But what and looked blank, so he went on: 'Oh, we all know about it. Sevmour Fortesque, one of the King's equerries, saw you at the station in Paris with a lady.' "After that," Lord Montague cor tinued, "I heard a story from other quarters to the effect that I had run off with Crofton's wife. On inquiry I found it was another Montague who was the man. This is where the chain of their circumstances began. In the first place, the other Montague is
