"The wonderful evenness of these minute granules is due to our superior methods of milling. It is because these granules are uniform in size that "Kent Flour invariably makes bread free from hard, doughy Jumps, "eyes," or large air holes. Every granule swells to the same size in the sponge. When baked the bread is even in texinre and honeycombed with semall air cells. Just the way every good cook likes to have it. 1 And not only are the granules uniform in size, but the blend is always uniform, too.

"Kent Wills" Flour is blended by experts, from the finest No. 1

After the flour is blended it is under constant supervision until the bags and barrels are filled and ready to ship. Tests are made at short intervals. Comparisons made with four of standard quality, so as to make sure of "Kent Mills" Flour always being up to or above standard-never below.

You can depend on each bag or barrel of "Kent Mills" Flour giving the same results as the previous one.
